IN THE SUPREME COURT OF NEW SOUTH WALES. ECCLESIASTICAL JURISDICTION.

Victoria, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c.

To the Widow and Next of Kin of JOHN BENGE, late of Eugowra, in the colony of New South Wales, Selector, deceased, intestate.

Greeting:

WHEREAS it appears by an affidavit of LAURENCE KIRBY, of Eugowra, in the said colony, Storekeeper, sworn on the twenty-seventh day of September, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, and filed in the Registry of our Supreme Court, that JOHN BENGE, late of Eugowra, in the said colony, Selector, deceased, died on the sixth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, at Eugowra aforesaid, intestate; and whereas it further appears by the said affidavit that the said Laurence Kirby is a creditor of the said deceased: Now this is to command you and each of you to appear personally or by your respective proctors before our said Court at Chancery-square, King-street, Sydney, on or before the thirtieth day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to accept or refuse the burden of letters of administration of the estate, goods, chattels, credits, and effects of the said deceased thereof, otherwise to show good and sufficient cause (if you or either of you know any) why letters of administration of all and singular the estate, goods, chattels, credits, and effects of the said deceased should not be granted and committed to the said Laurence Kirby, the creditor aforesaid; and take notice, in default of your so appearing and accepting such letters of administration as aforesaid, the Judge of our said Court will proceed to grant letters of administration of the goods, chattels, credits, and effects of the said deceased to the said Laurence Kirby, your absence notwithstanding.

Witness—The Honourable Sir FREDERICK DARLEY, Knight, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, this thirty-first day of October, in the fifty-seventh year of our reign, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three.

LOUIS F. DIXON, Proctor for the Applicant, 92 Pitt-street, Sydney.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF NEW SOUTH WALES. IN EQUITY.—No. 6540.

In the Matter of the Companies Act and in the Matter of BLACKWELL, KESLAW, and CO., Limited.

BY an Order made by his Honor the Chief Judge in Equity in the above matter bearing date the 31st day of October, 1893, on the petition of SAMUEL DE LISSA, of London, England, trading under the style or firm of "De Lissa, Sons, and Co.," a creditor of the abovenamed Company, it was ordered that the voluntary winding-up of abovenamed Company be continued, but subject to the supervision of this Honorable Court, and that WILLIAM PARRETT BRETNALL, one of the liquidators of the said Company, be continued as sole liquidator thereof, and that no security should be required from the said liquidator, and that notice of the continuation of the winding-up of the said Company, under the supervision of this Honorable Court by the said William Parrett Bretnall as sole liquidator, should be advertised once each in the Government Gazette and the Sydney Morning Herald. And his Honor did further order that all the costs of the petitioning creditor and of the Company of and incidental to the said petition should be paid out of the assets of the said Company, and be a first charge upon the said assets, and that all costs, charges, and expenses theretofore properly incurred by the said voluntary liquidators or any of them, and all costs, charges and expenses thereafter properly incurred by the said William Parrett Bretnall in and about the winding-up of the said Company should be allowed to the said voluntary liquidators and the said William Parrett Bretnall respectively, as the case may be, out of the assets of the said Company. And his Honor did further order that the creditors, contributories, and the said liquidator of the said Company, and all other persons interested, were to be at liberty to apply to this Honorable Court in Chambers, as there might be occasion.

LEVY, HEMSLEY, and PERKINS, Solicitors for the Petitioner, 122 Pitt-street, Sydney.

TAKE NOTICE that JOHN M'LAUGHLIN, of Sydney, Solicitor, and HENRY MICHAEL HALE M'QUADE, of Sydney, Gentleman, the present Trustees of the Will of WILLIAM M'QUADE, late of Potts Point, Sydney, in the colony of New South Wales, deceased, intend to present a petition during the present session of the Parliament of the said colony praying that they may be at liberty to initiate a private Bill in the Legislative Council of the said colony conferring upon them and upon the trustees or trustee for the time being of the said Will the following powers, that is to say:—

1. Power to receive from the Honorable the Minister for Public Works and to give him a valid receipt for the compensation moneys and interest thereon agreed to be paid to the said trustees in respect of certain lands resumed under the provisions of the Lands for Public Purposes Acquisition Act, and forming portion of the lands settled by and subject to the said will, and power to convey the said lands so resumed as aforesaid to the Government of the said colony.
2. Power to invest the said compensation money and interest in the purchase of Government debentures or funded stock of the said colony, or otherwise in manner provided for by the said Will in respect of the proceeds of the residuary estate of the said testator.
3. Power to sell or mortgage all or any part of the lands, subject to the trusts of the said Will, whether specifically devised or not, and to invest the proceeds of such sale and the money so raised by mortgage or any part thereof in improvements upon such portions of the said trust estate as are subject to the same trusts as the lands so sold or mortgaged, or to invest the said proceeds in the manner provided for by the said Will with respect to the residuary estate of the said testator, and for other purposes mentioned in the Bill.

The only private interests which can be affected by the said Bill are the interests taken by the beneficiaries under the said Will.

Dated this twenty-eighth day of October, A.D. 1893.

JNO. M'LAUGHLIN.
HENRY M'QUADE.

JNO. M'LAUGHLIN, Solicitor for the Bill, 156 Pitt-street, Sydney.

NOTICE is hereby given that an application will be made to the Parliament of New South Wales, during the present session thereof, for leave to bring in a Private Bill, authorising the Clyde Coal Land and Investment Company, Limited, a Joint Stock Company, duly incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Acts 1874 and 1888, to construct and maintain an extension of the line authorised to be constructed by Richard Tilden Smith and John Thomas Mance, their heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns, under the provisions of the Silkstone Coalmine Railway Act of 1889, and the Silkstone Coalmine Railway Act Amending Act of 1891, from the western terminus thereof to a point five miles or thereabouts in a south-westerly direction from such terminus, with the same powers and authorities, and subject to the same provisions as are contained in the said Acts, so far as they may be applicable thereto, or other the powers and provisions in the said bill mentioned, so as to render such railway capable of completion and available for transit. And further, for the purpose of making certain deviations in the line authorised to be constructed by the said Acts, and further extending the time within which the railway in the said Acts mentioned is to be constructed and brought into use, and for other the purposes mentioned in the said Bill.

Dated this twentieth day of October, A.D. 1893.

THE GREATEST MEAT-EATERS IN THE CIVILISED WORLD.

The Australians are credited with consuming 276lb of meat per head per annum which is enormously in excess of the quantity consumed by any other civilised nation. When we add that this large quantity of muscle-forming food is supplemented by an equal weight of the nourishing "ROSE" and "CAFE" BISCUITS, the ability which the Australians have always shown in holding their own (whether mentally or physically) against the world is not surprising.

Sydney, 6th November, 1893.

TENDERS for the Supplies, &c., specified below, will be received at the Railway Commissioners' Office, 137 Macquarie-street, until 12 o'clock noon on the dates mentioned.

MONDAY, 20th NOVEMBER.
PREMISES KNOWN AS RAILWAY MEAT MARKETS, DARLING HARBOUR.

TENDERS are invited from persons willing to LEASE the above premises,consisting of an equipped Meat Market, Cold Storage Chambers, and a large basement area, for a period of 10 years from 1st January, 1894.

The premises, having been erected for the purpose of encouraging the Dead Meat Trade upon the Railways, must be primarily used for that purpose, and the tolls and charges for receiving, handling, sale, storage, &c., will be subject to the approval of the Railway Commissioners.

Tenderers must state the annual rental they will be prepared to pay, and the specific purposes in addition to those of the dead meat trade for which it is proposed to use the premises, as both will be considered in dealing with Tenders.

The successful Tenderer will be required to execute a lease embodying the terms of his Tender, together with the following covenants :—

1. To keep the premises and all machinery in complete repair and good working order, and to deliver same up on expiration of lease in like condition; also, to permit inspection as required. 2. To insure the premises and machinery to the full insurable value, in an office to be approved by the Commissioners, and produce premium receipts. 3. Not to assign or sublet without leave. 4. Not to alter premises without leave. 5. Not to use premises for purposes other than those specified in tenders without permission of Commissioners. 6. For re-entry on non-payment of rent for 30 days or breach of covenant.

Tenderers may obtain orders at the Chief Traffic Manager's Office, 135 Macquarie-street, to inspect the premises, and will be bound by such inspection, and be required to accept them in their present condition.

Tenders must be endorsed
"Tender for Lease of Meat Market, Darling Harbour," and placed in the Tender Box at the Railway Commissioners' Office, Macquarie-street, before 12 o'clock noon on 20th NOVEMBER Next.

"THE WEARING OF THE GREEN."
RECEIVED NIGHTLY with GREAT ENTHUSIASM by CROWDED and DELIGHTED AUDIENCES.
"THE WEARING OF THE GREEN" was sung by Miss MOORE with such force, feeling, and pathos that it proved perfectly irresistible. In fact, the house was almost spellbound by the thrilling tones of her voice and her dramatic action.
In preparation and will shortly be produced, for the FIRST TIME IN SYDNEY, THE GOLDEN GIANT.

JUST A WORD WITH YOU.
Going into matrimonial bliss, eh! Go it, BOYS. Your father did it, and his father in his day. Why not follow their example? Try to compare the man going home to his cosy cottage with all its comforts and the single man going to his diggings. Bah! You can't do it. Might just as well try to find a shop in Sydney that can supply your requirements as good and cheap as
A. HALL AND COMPANY, the UNIVERSAL HOUSE FURNISHERS.
It is an admitted fact that for reliable and artistic Furniture, Carpets, &c., HALL'S leads the whole trade. HALL'S STOCK is the largest in Sydney. Don't take our word; come and judge yourself. HALLS will send post free to any address the most complete Illustrated Furnishing Guide ever published in the colony; and HALLS will carefully pack your orders for the country free.
For RELIABLE FURNITURE, at economic prices, look everywhere, but decide nowhere until you have seen our goods and compared our prices.

WASHINGTON H. SOUL and CO., 160 and 268 Pitt-street.

KILL THE INSECTS AND THEIR EGGS with Clayton and Co.'s Great American Insect Exterminator. It paralyses the first touch, and then kills. If blown into their haunts (crevices), or where their eggs are laid, death is instantaneous for Beetles, Ants, Silver Fish, or any other insects. It is perfectly harmless to birds or animals, and may be placed under the wing of a pet canary, and rubbed on dogs, cats, or monkeys, killing the parasites that infest them. If burnt in a room or in a camp, it kills flies and mosquitoes. If placed on window-sills you can see the large "blow-fly," as well as the common fly, give up the ghost. If placed under the edges of carpets, silver fish and all other insect vermin die. It is used in the mattresses and bedsteads of all the hotels and steamboats of the United States and this colony. Sold everywhere in tins, 1s and 1s 3d, and in large boxes, 1s 6d. In large cannons (to blow into crevices), 1s 6d each. Wholesale and retail, WASHINGTON H. SOUL and CO., 158, 160, 162, and 268 Pitt-street. Can be sent by steamboat or railway if not to be obtained of your druggist or storekeeper.

ONE BOX of CLARKE'S B41 PILLS is warranted to cure all ailments of the urinary organs in either sex (acquired or constitutional), gravel, and pains in the back. Sold in boxes 4s 6d each, by all chemists and patent medicine vendors. Sole proprietors, the Lincoln and Midland Counties Drug Company, Lincoln, England.

KEATING'S INSECT POWDER. Bugs, Fleas, Moths, Beetles, and all other Insects are destroyed by KEATING'S INSECT POWDER, which is quite harmless to domestic animals. It is perfectly clean in application. Ask for KEATING'S POWDERS. Sold (in tins) by all chemists.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Confidence.—The most implicit reliance can be placed on the remedies. No invalid after a fair trial has found them fail to relieve the pain or completely cure the disease. No disorder can resist their curative power. Sold at 78 New Oxford-street, W.C., London, and all druggists.

ABRAHAM'S PILLS overcome the worst forms of diseases of the Liver, Stomach, Head, and Kidneys. This family pill is a simple but effective remedy for indigestion, bilious and liver complaints, loss of appetite, coated tongue, drowsiness, giddiness, spasms, and all disorders of the stomach and bowels.

LAW REPORT.

SUPREME COURT.—MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6.

In Banco.—(Before Mr. Justice WINDEYER, Mr. Justice INNES, and Mr. Justice FOSTER.)

M'WHANNELL V. THE RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS.

Mr. Rolin, instructed by Messrs. Laurence, M'Lachlan, and Williams, appeared for plaintiff, and said that as the suggestion of the Court made on the 25th of last month to reduce the verdict of the jury from £5000 to £1500 had been adopted by the plaintiff, the only question was as to the costs of the defendants' application for a new trial. As plaintiff had consented to a reduction of damages, the rule for a new trial would be discharged, and she was therefore entitled to her costs of the motion. Sir Julian Salomons, Q.C., opposed the motion.

The Court considered that the plaintiff, having yielded to the suggestion of the Court, there should be no costs of the motion.

Rule discharged.

SULLIVAN AND WIFE V. MIDGELY.

Mr. Garland, instructed by Mr. M. A. H. Fitzhardinge (for Mr. Zlotkowski, of Moree), appeared for the plaintiffs (appellants), and Mr. Shand, instructed by Messrs. Villeneuve Smith and Dawes (for Mr. P. E. Sturton, of Moree), for the defendant. The action, which was tried before Mr. Justice Stephen and a jury, in April last, at Tamworth, was brought by Timothy Sullivan and Bridget Aloysia Sullivan, his wife, against William Henry Midgely, to recover damages for a libel published in the defendant's newspaper, the Gwydir Examiner, issued at Moree, upon the character of the plaintiffs, under the heading "Justices' Justice," in which certain comments upon the plaintiffs appeared in connection with the prosecution and conviction of a man named Keating on a charge of larceny. The accused in the case before the bench of magistrates, which was the subject of the article complaint of, was a person who had been lodging with the male plaintiff and his wife. Mrs. Sullivan, for some reason, wishing to go to Armidale, requested the accused to take charge of a sewing machine, and convey it from Moree to Narrabri, whence it would be sent to a sister of Mrs. Sullivan, at Armidale. At the trial of Keating for the larceny of the sewing machine, however, Mrs. Sullivan swore that although she gave the accused the instructions referred to at first, she positively countermanded them afterwards and told him to leave the sewing machine in the house where her husband was living. Keating, notwithstanding the countermand, took the sewing machine away, and having conveyed it as far as Narrabri he was arrested on an information laid by Mr. Sullivan. The accused swore at the trial that Mrs. Sullivan had simply given instructions to him to send the machine to her at Armidale, and had never countermanded the order, and that he had acted as he had done in compliance with her request. The magistrates, on the evidence before them, and having taken all the facts of the case into consideration, disbelieved the statement of the prisoner, who, having elected to be dealt with summarily, was sentenced to a short term of imprisonment. The defendant in the present action, who is the proprietor of the Gwydir Examiner, thereupon wrote an article under the title "Justices' Justice," purporting to be a comment on the case. Plaintiffs, however, complained in their declaration that it was not a fair comment, inasmuch as it did not correctly state the evidence upon which the decision of the Bench was founded, and that not only did it not state the case correctly, but it proceeded to make certain accusations against plaintiff and his wife which were entirely unfounded, the gravamen of the accusations being that plaintiff and his wife did not consort together on the happiest terms, and that the wife decided to leave her husband and take up her residence with her sister at Armidale. The jury, however, returned a verdict for defendant, and plaintiffs applied for a new trial on the ground that the verdict was against evidence.

Mr. Justice WINDEYER (Mr. Justice Innes and Mr. Justice Foster concurring) said that in the course of the action the plaintiffs, in their evidence, distinctly denied the allegation in the article that there was any domestic discord or marital unhappiness between them. The question which the jury had to try was whether the article complained of was a fair comment upon proceedings in a court of justice. No one questioned for a moment that a newspaper proprietor, like every other member of the public, had a right to comment upon proceedings in a court of justice; and, if the comment was fair, it mattered not if the conduct of some persons whose actions were the subject of inquiry in the court might appear in a light which was injurious to their character. With that they must put up if the comment was a fair one. On the other hand, no one had a right to comment on the proceedings before a court of justice in such a manner as unfairly to represent the conduct of a private person whose proceedings might be the subject of investigation. It was perfectly true that in the action the question was one for the jury, namely, whether the libel complained of was a fair comment on the proceedings in a court of justice; but whilst at nisi prius it was a question for the jury to decide, it was, like every other decision of a jury, one which was subject to the review of the Court to this extent, that the Court had a right to say whether or not the finding was a reasonable one. It was not true to say that the question of libel was solely for the jury in this sense that the Court had over and over again decided that the question whether a document amounted to a libel or not was one of law as well as of fact. If the verdict of a jury upon such question was flagrantly wrong, and such as no reasonable men would have arrived at, the Court had the right and power, and it was its duty, to so declare its opinion upon such a matter. The defendant, in making this comment upon the decision of the magistrates, instead of fairly representing that there was another side of the case upon which they acted, entirely ignored the facts upon which the magistrates acted, and the view of the facts presented in the article was not the view which the magistrates had a right to take upon the facts as disclosed in the evidence. The article entirely ignored the fact that Mrs. Sullivan denied the statement of the accused in Court that she had finally authorised to remove this sewing machine, and it gave the public to understand that the only evidence before the court was the version given by the prisoner. The article then proceeded to say that the finding of the justices was entirely wrong. Would anyone say for one moment that comment of that kind was fair or in any way justified by the evidence? For these reasons it appeared to him that the verdict of the jury, in saying that the article was a fair comment upon the proceedings in a court of justice, was clearly and demonstrably wrong, and to allow it to stand would be destructive of peace and unity and of private happiness.

Rule absolute for a new trial, with costs. The Court at the same time suggested a settlement of the matter, so as to avoid further litigation.

(Before Mr. Justice WINDEYER, Mr. Justice INNES, and Mr. Justice STEPHEN.)

PHIPPS V. THE BANK OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

Sir Julian Salomons, Q.C., and Mr. C. B. Stephen, instructed by Messrs. Allen and Allen, appeared for the appellant (defendant); and the Attorney-General (Mr. E. Barton, Q.C.) and Dr. Coghlan, instructed by Messrs. M'Donell and Moffitt, for the respondent (plaintiff). This was a motion on behalf of the defendant bank to make absolute a rule nisi to set aside the verdict for the plaintiff, and to have a verdict for defendant or a nonsuit entered. The action, which was tried in June last, before Mr. Justice Stephen and a jury of four, was brought by Albert Phipps against the Bank of New South Wales to recover damages for the dishonour of a promissory note. It appears that plaintiff, who was a hotelkeeper at the time, had dealings with the bank, and on the 2nd December, 1891, a cheque for £125, purporting to be signed by him, was presented to the bank, and it appeared from the evidence given by the officers of the bank that, in consequence of one of the officers being in doubt whether the signature to the cheque was really that of the plaintiff, he took it to the manager, and as he apparently thought that the signature was unlike that of plaintiff the cheque was not paid on the date mentioned, and was returned marked "unlike signature, but otherwise good." A communication then took place between the bank and the plaintiff with the object of seeing whether the signature was his. Previously to this, however, a communication had taken place between the bank and the payee of the cheque (Messrs. Tooth and Co.) which resulted in the bank manager apparently coming to the conclusion that the plaintiff was not acting straightforwardly with the bank in his dealings, that a sum which he had drawn out was not drawn out for a bona-fide purpose, but for the purpose of putting away the money. The manager, according to his evidence, also came to the conclusion that the plaintiff was insolvent. The plaintiff's account was secured by a mortgage and a bond for £1000, and the bond recited that it was made in order to induce the bank to afford plaintiff such credits, advances, and accommodation from time to time as he might require, and the mortgage recited that a cash credit had been granted to the mortgagor to the extent of £350. The manager, under the circumstances stated, informed the plaintiff that the bank had made up its mind to dishonour the cheque, and, accordingly, when it was again presented on the 7th December it was dishonoured. Plaintiff then brought his action. The bank, in answer, pleaded non assumpsit, and set out the bond reciting a condition that the bank might dishonour at pleasure. A third plea set out that the agreement between the parties had been determined by notice. At the trial, upon it being pointed out that these pleadings were evidently framed in view of the presentation of the cheque on the 7th December, and that the plaintiff could not possibly succeed upon the dishonour of the cheque on that occasion, inasmuch as plaintiff had notice, his case went to the jury on the alleged dishonour on the 2nd December. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, with damages £50. Defendant now appealed on the following grounds:—1. That upon the admitted facts of the case there was no dishonour of the plaintiff's cheque on the 2nd December, the answer given by the bank on the presentment of the cheque on that date being the only dishonour upon which the case went to the jury, and in respect of which the verdict was returned, and, therefore, that a verdict for the defendant or a nonsuit ought to have been directed. 2. That if the answer, "unlike signature, cheque otherwise good," in law establishes the dishonour alleged in the declaration the defendant would still, in the absence of any evidence of damage arising from such answer, be entitled to the verdict or to have a nonsuit entered, or at the most plaintiff could, on the evidence, only obtain a verdict for nominal damages.

The COURT, after hearing argument, said that the question never seemed to have been definitely presented to the jury whether there was a dishonour on the 2nd December. This arose doubtless from the fact that there was no plea denying the dishonour of the cheque on that occasion, and it appeared to the Court that, under the circumstances of the case, it would be right to add a plea of that character. The plea being thus added, the argument upon the case had proceeded before the Court on the assumption that there was such a plea denying the dishonour of the cheque on the 2nd December. It appeared to the Court, looking at the whole circumstances of the case, that the trial had not been altogether satisfactory, inasmuch as by reason of the absence of the plea referred to the real issue which defendants meant to raise had not been presented for the consideration and determination of the jury. Plaintiff contended that the mere fact of the cheque not being paid on the 2nd December, when it was presented, of itself proved the dishonour of the cheque on that date. That brought the Court to the question of what was a dishonour in point of law, and whether the argument that the mere fact of a cheque not being paid there and then when presented meant a dishonour. It appeared to the Court that this contention was not well founded. To constitute dishonour there must be not only a non-payment of the cheque, but a non-payment indicative of an intention on the part of the bank to dishonour; or, in other words, not to pay it for some reason which seemed good to the bank. The contract between a bank and its customer to honour his cheques implied an undertaking on the part of the latter that his cheques would be drawn in the style and character in which he usually drew them, and if he signed with a signature unlike that given by him on the bank signature book he had no right to complain if the cheque is not paid. A bank could only be expected to honour cheques the signatures upon which were like those of he customer, and in the present case the bank's real defence was that the cheque which was presented on the 2nd December was so unlike the signature of plaintiff in the bank book that it reasonably objected to cash it there and then, and simply held it over in order that a reference might be made to plaintiff for confirmation. It was a question for the jury, when such a question was before them, to consider how far a bank was bound to take into consideration those variations which took place from time to time in the signature of customers owing to lapse of time, advance of age, or any infirmity to which the customer might be subject. However, it appeared to the Court that the matter had really not been considered by the jury as it ought to have been by reason of the absence of a plea raising a definite issue, and the case therefore must go down for a new trial; but it must be understood that the question for the consideration of the jury would be whether the cheque was or was not drawn by plaintiff in accordance with the implied contract entered into with the bank in the sense which the Court had explained. If the jury found that the signature was so like the ordinary signature of the customer or his specimen signature in the bank book that the bank could have had no reasonable excuse for not paying it, they would find that there was a dishonour of the cheque on the 2nd December. If, on the other hand, they came to the conclusion that the cheque was so unlike plaintiff's usual signature that the bank was justified in withholding payment for a time in order to ascertain whether or not it was plaintiff's signature, then they would find that there was no dishonour implying an intention on the part of the bank not to pay the cheque; or, in other words, not to give plaintiff further credit. As the present unsatisfactory state of things was brought about by faults on either side in regard to the conduct of the case, there ought to be no costs of this motion. The costs of the previous trial would abide the event.

Order accordingly.

In Equity.—(Before his Honor Mr. Justice OWEN, Chief Judge in Equity.)

RE TRUSTS OF THREE CROWN GRANTS AND TRUSTEE ACT 1852 AND THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND PROPERTY TRUST, DIOCESE OF GOULBURN, V. ROSSI.

Mr. A. H. Simpson, instructed by Mr. John Stinson, appeared for the Attorney-General and Messrs. Gibson, Betts, and Hayes; and Mr. Loxton, instructed by Mr. Blackmore, appeared for the respondent, F. R. L. Rossi. Mr. Simpson said this was a petition by the Attorney-General on the relation of Messrs. Gibson, Betts, and Hayes, three of the plaintiffs in the suit, and the petition asked the Court to sanction a compromise, that the Bishop of Goulburn and his successors be appointed trustee of the lands mentioned in the grants, that the dispute be settled, and that the costs of all parties in the suit and the costs incidental to the application be paid out of the trust; that the appeal be abandoned. This had been approved of by the cathedral council, the standing committee of the diocese, and the defendant, who wanted some additional provisions.

Mr. Loxton said, as apparently the settlement was for the benefit and the peace of all parties, it was useless settling one lawsuit without at the same time settling all disputes in connection with the Goulburn Cathedral. The respondent proposed that all suits in connection with the cathedral dispute should be withdrawn without prejudice to the Bishop to call on the parties to account for the trust moneys they had in their possession. The respondent had no objection to the Bishop being appointed; but he thought that all bona-fide agreements entered into should be ratified. As the respondent was anxious that there should be an end of all the matters, he asked that the petition be allowed to stand over until Friday next so that the petitioners could consider the proposal of Captain Rossi.

The matter was ordered to stand over until Wednesday to allow Captain Rossi to consider whether he should pay money which he had been ordered to pay into court, as it was stated that if the money was paid in all probability the whole matter would be settled.

MONK V. SMITH AND OTHERS.

His HONOR delivered judgment in this case. The suit was brought by David Joseph Monk to obtain a declaration from the Court that he was entitled to contribution from the defendants, James Francis Smith, Samuel Payten, Frank Senior, John Adrian, and Thomas Renn, in respect of moneys paid by him upon a guarantee bond given jointly by him and the defendants to the London Chartered Bank of Australia on behalf of the Mutual Provident Land, Investing, and Building Society, Limited, after deducting the value of the securities given to the bank by the society, and that the defendant society and liquidators might be decreed to pay the difference between the sum paid by the plaintiff and interest thereon and the value of the securities to the plaintiff and the other defendants, to be divided amongst them in proportion to the amounts which they respectively shall have eventually contributed. An account was also asked for by the plaintiff as to the money paid by him and, if necessary, to ascertain the value of the securities.

His HONOR dismissed the plaintiff's suit, with costs.

FANNING V. GRIFFITHS AND ANOTHER.

Mr. Langen and Mr. Harvey appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Gregory Walker and Mr. Knox appeared for the defendants. The plaintiff in this case is Major Frederick Fanning, a merchant residing in London, and the defendants are George Neville Griffiths and William J. Fanning. The suit was one to compel specific performance of an alleged contract for the sale of the plaintiff's interest in a station property known as Wooroowoolgen, in the Richmond River district, for the sum of £24,000, such sum being alleged to be the balance of the purchase money to the plaintiff by the defendants under an agreement.

The case stands as part heard.

In Bankruptcy.—(Before the Acting Registrar, Mr. F. H. SALUSBURY.)

EXAMINATIONS.

Re Thomas York. Mr. Hanbury Davies appeared on behalf of the official assignee, and Mr. H. Hale to watch the proceedings on behalf of the bankrupt. The bankrupt deposed that his bankruptcy was caused by the trustees of his father's estate refusing to pay his debts. He settled his interest in his father's estate on his wife in 1889. The trustees and his wife paid his expenses up to November, 1892, but they refused to pay after then. He had an allowance of £3 a week now. He had been separated from his wife for eight months. The property left by his father returned about £28 or £30 a week. When witness incurred the debts he thought that his wife or her trustee was going to pay them. For the last few years he had only received what money his wife liked to give him.

Re William Alfred Brodie. The bankrupt deposed that his bankruptcy was caused by depreciation in the value of property and falling-off in land sales. He was an auctioneer for 13 years. About 18 months ago he found out that he was unable to meet his current liabilities. In August, 1892, he could not meet his current liabilities. He was then in an insolvent condition. He did not sequestrate then because he had a reasonable prospect of being able to sell his property.

Re David Wright. The bankrupt was briefly examined.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COURT.

MONDAY.

(Before his Honor Mr. District Court Judge BACKHOUSE.)

LANGHAM V. UNION BANK.

Mr. Ferguson, instructed by Mr. H. A. Lyons, appeared for the plaintiff, Mrs. Mary Annie Langham; and Dr. Sly, instructed by Messrs. Johnson, Minter, Simpson, and Co., appeared for the Union Bank of Australia. This was a suit for the recovery of damages, which were laid at £200, for alleged wrongful distraint. The plaintiff occupied premises in Fort-street, which she rented from the Anglo-Australian Investment Company, the rental being £91 per annum, payable quarterly. The property was mortgaged to the defendant bank, and the plaintiff was instructed to pay her rent, after the property had been taken over by the bank, to Mr. James, the secretary of the Anglo-Australian Company, as agent for the bank. There was an amount of £24 owing for rent when Mr. James wrote to her and asked for payment. Plaintiff saw Mr. James, and asked for time, and he promised to see about it. Without receiving a reply from Mr. James, a bailiff was put into possession. Plaintiff paid the rent to avoid distraint. Mr. Ferguson said that Mrs. Langham thought she had been roughly treated, and therefore she based her claim purely on a technical point. He held that Mr. Finlayson, the chief manager of the Union Bank in Melbourne, had no power to sign a distress warrant which was not filled up, and that, even if he had power to do so, Mr. James could not pass the document on in blank and authorise some one else to fill it in. His Honor said he would consider the point.

METROPOLITAN QUARTER SESSIONS.

MONDAY.

(Before his Honor Judge MURRAY and juries.)

Mr. W. L. Merewether prosecuted on behalf of the Crown.

STEALING FROM THE PERSON.

Joseph Adams, a middle-aged man, was charged with having stolen a watch and chain, the property of Walter Henry Griffiths, at Sydney, on 14th October. The case for the prosecution was that about 1 a.m. on the date in question accused followed Griffiths, a fruitgrower at Galston, from Erskine-street to the corner of King and Pitt streets. There he tried to persuade his quarry to go home with him, but the latter, although somewhat under the influence of liquor, refused. He, however, sat down on a doorstep, and accused snatched at his chain, and, securing it and the watch, ran away. Griffiths followed the thief and caught him, but he got away. A cabman, however, pursued and secured accused, and he then handed the watch and chain back to the owner. Accused denied having taken the articles, or having spoken to prosecutor, but the jury found him guilty, and he was remanded for sentence.

ALLEGED LARCENY OF A RING.

Henry Williams, a coloured man, was charged with having stolen a diamond ring, the property of Martin Simmatt, at Sydney, on the 23rd August. Accused was defended by Mr. Teece, instructed by Mr. H. T. Morgan. For the Crown it was stated that about lunch time on the date in question accused went into Mr. Simmatt's shop in the Strand and asked to be shown some rings. He did not purchase, and after he had left a single-stone diamond ring was missed. A month later accused pawned a ring which prosecutor swore was his, and the ticket for the article was found on him when he was arrested. Williams stated that he bought the ring at Wagga in November last, and on 30th September gave the article to a countryman, who pawned it. Accused was found not guilty, but as there is another charge against him he was remanded to custody. His Honor said that he had not a shadow of doubt that the ring was Mr. Simmatt's, and he ordered that it should be handed over to him.

STEALING IN A DWELLING.

Williams was subsequently charged with having stolen at Sydney on 21st October a watch chain and locket, the property of Philip Poons. In this case Mr. Poons, who keeps the New York loan office in Market-street, stated that about 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, 21st October, accused came into his shop and asked to see some gold chains. He was shown a number, and selected one, and a watch, which, he said, he would call for later on. He did not do so, but, after he had gone, one of the chains was missing. The defence was an attempt to prove an alibi; but the jury found him guilty, and he was sentenced to three years' penal servitude. Fully a dozen previous convictions were recorded against the prisoner.

ALLEGED SHOOTING WITH INTENT.

Robert Jamieson, an elderly man, who was defended by Mr. Levien, was charged with maliciously shooting at William Young with intent to do him grievous bodily harm at Sydney, on 2nd October. On a second count accused was charged with assaulting William Young. The case for the prosecution was that on the night of 2nd October Mr. Young was proceeding along Riley-street, and when he got within a few paces of Campell-street he saw accused, who lived near the place, raise his arm. Immediately afterwards there was a report, and a bullet whistled over the pedestrian's shoulder. Information was given to the police, and on a constable speaking to Jamieson at his house he at first denied that he had a revolver, but he afterwards pulled one out of his pocket, and remarked, "I did not fire at that man." Accused was taken to the Darlinghurst Police Station. The next day, at the police court he stated that he had been connected with seafaring matters for a long period, and had some connection with the maritime strike. After that for his own protection he carried the revolver, and on the night in question he had been entertained by some friends. When he got near home he fired off the revolver, to see if it worked properly. Mr. Merewether said that accused had borne a very high character, and had lived in Sydney for many years. On the night of 2nd October he appeared to have partaken very freely of the refreshments his friends had provided, but even if he did not intend to inflict grievous bodily harm on Mr. Young the fact of his pointing a revolver at him would be an assault according to law. Accused and the man he was alleged to have fired at were strangers to each other. Accused went into the box and denied having pointed the revolver at anyone. Finding it in an old coat pocket, he pointed it to see if it would go off. His Honor said that he did not think there was any felonious intention or even that the weapon was pointed at anyone. He considered that Mr. Jamieson's action was nothing but a stupid piece of folly, and the proper charge to have laid against him was the one originally preferred at the police court—unlawfully discharging firearms in the street—which was altered by the magistrate. The jury thereupon found accused not guilty and he was discharged.

The Court at half-past 5 o'clock adjourned until next morning.

CASES FOR TO-DAY.

The cases set down for hearing to-day are as follow:—John M'Arthur, perjury; Robert Scanlan, assault and robbery; and Robert Parker, stealing.

POLICE.

At the CENTRAL POLICE COURT yesterday Mr. James Giles, S.M., presided in the Charge Division, and Mr. G. W. F. Addison, S.M., presided in the Summons and Small Debts Divisions. George Williams, 40, pleaded guilty to a charge of having stolen four brass mountings and one brass tap, of the value of 2s, the property of Cornelius Marney, and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labour. Valentine Eagar, 23, a labourer, was fined £2, levy and distress, or one month's imprisonment, for having wantonly thrown stones in Randle-street. William Ella, 27, a wood-carter, having violently assaulted a publican named Thomas Fahey, on Sunday afternoon, by striking him in the face without provocation, was ordered to be imprisoned for three months, and to be kept at hard labour. Mary Aiken, 45, was imprisoned until the Court rose on a charge of being a drunkard. Peter James Cooper, 21, a wood and coal merchant, was fined £2, with the alternative of 21 days' imprisonment, for having assaulted Ah Fun, and James Frey, 29, a barman, was similarly dealt with for an assault upon Annie Sorensen. Frank Montgomery, 23, a sailor, having used threatening words towards Christopher Williams, was ordered to pay a fine of £2 in default to be imprisoned for one month. Alfred George Kemister, 27, a fireman, and George Reynolds, 18, a wood carter, having in company stolen two bags of potatoes, valued at 7s, the property of Quong Hing, were each sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment with hard labour.

At the WATER POLICE COURT Mr. C. Delohery, S.M., disposed of the charge cases. William Wylie Wilson, on remand on a provisional warrant from Queensland, was charged with a breach of the Insolvency Act in that colony, by removing property to the value of £10 and upwards within four months of the presentation of a petition against him. He was remanded to the City Police Court, Brisbane; bail was allowed, accused in £200, and one surety of £200, or two in £100. David O'Brien, on remand, was sent to gaol for 14 days, for stealing a pair of boots value 13s 6d, the property of John Wilkinson. George Weller, 18, groom, for behaving in a riotous manner in Palmer-street, was sent to gaol for seven days, and for using obscene language he was fined 40s, with the alternative of 21 days. George Hall, on remand, was charged with deserting from the N.S.W. Artillery, and remanded to the military authorities to be dealt with. In the Summons Division, before Mr. G. H. Smithers, D.S.M., George Robert Laing proceeded against H. B. Primrose for giving an unstamped receipt. Defendant was fined £2 and 5s 6d costs, levy and distress.

At the NEWTOWN POLICE COURT Mr. Whittingdale Johnson, S.M., presided. Joseph Johnstone and Elizabeth Byron, respectively, were fined 5s or to be imprisoned, the first-named for 24 hours and the latter till the rising of the Court, for drunkenness. Charles Mason was fined 10s or three days' imprisonment for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Henry Ryan pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting George Barrett at Newtown on Saturday last. It appears that accused went into prosecutor's shop, struck him on the mouth and threw a glass at him. He was sentenced to three months' hard labour. Alfred Drew, 17, and Frederick Willett, 15, on remand, were charged with in company stealing one pair of boots, value 6s, the property of Alfred Ernest Horton, at Newtown, on 2nd November. The evidence showed that the accused had taken the boots from a box in front of prosecutor's shop, and then ran away together. The accused pleaded guilty. Drew was fined 40s, or 21 days' imprisonment, and Willett was sentenced to six hours' imprisonment in the cells at Newtown. On the Summons side A. Purcell was fined 10s, with costs, levy and distress, or seven days' imprisonment, for travelling on the railway without paying his fare. John Doyle, for drunkenness, was fined 10s. Fifty-six defendants were fined 10s each, with costs, for not registering dogs, and other cases were dealt with.

At the GLEBE POLICE COURT, before Mr. J. Giles, S.M., William Carr and George Phillips respectively were fined 5s, or to be imprisoned till the rising of the court. Arthur Humphries, 30, was charged with being an idle and disorderly person. Constable Lynn found him lying in Wentworth Park under a fence on Sunday evening apparently very ill. He told the constable that he was starving, and asked to be arrested. He was thereupon taken to the police station, and his condition was such that he was at once removed to the Prince Alfred Hospital, where he was admitted for treatment. The formal police court charge against him was withdrawn.

At the REDFERN POLICE COURT Mr. Whittingdale Johnson, S.M., presided. J. W. Prescott was fined 5s, or 24 hours' imprisonment, for drunkenness, and was similarly punished for using bad language. Patrick M'Bride, for drunkenness, and Mary Atkinson, for using bad language, were similarly punished. John Coffey was fined 20s, or 21 days' imprisonment, for assaulting Constable W. J. Cubit, whilst arresting accused, on a charge of damaging a window. Elizabeth North was fined 20s, levy and distress, or seven days' imprisonment, for bad language.

CHARGE OF ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

At the Central Police Court yesterday Robert Moller, 39, a woolclasser, was charged before Mr. J. Giles, S.M., with having attempted to commit suicide by taking a quantity of chlorodyne. The accused was a few days ago taken to the Sydney Hospital, after having been observed to drink from a bottle of chlorodyne. The accused pleaded not guilty to the charge, and denied that he had endeavoured to take his life. He had, he said, taken a dose of chlorodyne to cure the cramps, from which he had been suffering. The accused was imprisoned until the Court rose.

BETTING HOUSES SUPPRESSION ACT.

In the Summons Division of the Central Police Court yesterday, before Mr. G. W. F. Addison, S.M., the police proceeded against a number of persons for having used their premises for the receipt and payment of moneys on contingencies relating to horseraces in contravention of the Betting Houses Suppression Act. Bonfield Allsopp, of 72 Castlereagh-street, was fined £7, with 5s 6d costs of court, and £1 1s complainant's costs, in default one month's imprisonment, and the following were each fined £5, with 5s 6d costs of court, and £1 1s complainant's costs, in default 21 days' imprisonment:—James Marill, Park-street; Frederick Hare, 165 King-street; Frederick Moller, 54 Market-street; Charles Rigden, 159 King-street; George Watson, York-street; and George Eldric, King-street.

SAD DEATHS AT NORTH SYDNEY.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

The City Coroner, Mr. J. C. Woore, J.P., held an inquest yesterday at the Albert Hotel, Walker-street, North Sydney, touching the death of the wife and the infant daughter of Joseph William White, a grocer's assistant, who resides at No. 5 Little Walker-street. Mother and child had been found dead in a bedroom at the house at about 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Joseph William White, residing in Little Walker-street, identified the body of the woman as that of his wife, Martha Ellen White, and deposed that the baby was his child, and was named Ellen White. His wife was 31 years of age, was of strictly temperate habits, and had delicate health. The child was a fairly healthy one, was one of twins, and was eight weeks old. He last saw them alive at about 2.30 p.m. on Sunday. He and they, and also the other twin, were in the kitchen. At about that time his wife took the baby girl into an adjoining room. He took the baby boy into the front room. At about 5.30 p.m. Mrs. Covey, a neighbour, knocked at the front door. Witness opened the door and said to her, "Come in, the missus is lying down, having a sleep in the other room." Mrs. Covey, on entering the room, screamed out "She's dead." Witness followed her into the room immediately, and saw his wife lying on the bed. The upper part of the child's body was underneath her. Mother and child were dead. A doctor was sent for, and, on his arrival, he pronounced life extinct. On the Sunday witness's wife had complained of pains in the back, arms, and neck, and had stated that she thought she had influenza coming on. For two or three days beforehand she had also been complaining. Witness had never known his wife to have a fit. He and his wife had been married about 14 months. Witness had known her for 12 months before marriage.

Dr. Rennie, Government Pathologist, deposed that he had made a post-mortem examination of the woman's body. It was that of rather a delicate woman. The anterior part of the tongue appeared to have been bitten, and there were also other indications of the woman having had a fit. In his opinion death had resulted from asphyxia, which was due to an epileptic fit. Witness had made an external examination of the body of the child. He had found the tongue clenched between the teeth. The cause of death was asphyxia, from being overlain.

The foreman: Would it be likely for anyone in a fit to create a disturbance, or make any noise that anyone in the next room would hear?—No, I don't think so.

Mrs. Covey gave corroborative evidence.

The jury returned a verdict that the woman died from natural causes, as shown by the doctor's evidence, and that the child died from asphyxia through having been accidentally overlain by her mother.

MARINE BOARD.

The Marine Board met yesterday. There were present Captain Hixson (president), Captains M'Lean, Moodie, Jenkins, O'Sullivan, Mr. Wildridge, and the secretary (Commander Lindeman).

The board continued its inquiry into the loss of the schooner Result, which occurred on the southern coast on the 3rd October.

The mate, who gave evidence against the captain at the former sitting, was called with the object of allowing the captain to examine him, but he did not answer.

The inquiry was adjourned until the following Monday, pending the production of the mate.

The Port Macquarie bar carried a depth of 15ft. at high water yesterday.

The Moruya bar yesterday carried 10ft. on the bar, and 7ft. 6in. inside at high tide.

A smart-looking schooner, the Sea Nymph, cleared the Heads on Saturday last, en route for the Sacred Heart Mission, Yule Island, New Guinea. Her cargo, consisting of 40,000 ft. of timber and sundry provisions, was shipped by her owner, Mr. W. S. [illegible], timber merchant, of this city. The Sea Nymph returns via Johnstone's River, where she will load sugar for Sydney.

Captain Francis George Lee reports that the steamer Arawatta cleared Port Phillip Heads at 11.30 p.m. of the 4th, and entered Port Jackson at 5 p.m. of the 6th.

Captain J. E. Meaborn reports that the steamer Wodonga sailed from Cooktown at 10.50 a.m. on 29th ultimo, called at Port Douglas, Cairns, Townsville, Bowen, Mackay, Rockhampton, arriving at Brisbane at 6.30 a.m. on 3rd instant, having been detained seven hours at entrance to river awaiting tide. Sailed and cleared Brisbane River at 7.30 p.m. on 4th, rounded Cape Moreton at 9.47 p.m. same date, passed Smoky Cape at 3.10 a.m. on 5th, and entered Sydney Heads at 6 a.m. on 6th.

Captain A. H. Thorpe reports that the steamer Elingamite left Melbourne at 2 p.m. on the 4th, cleared the Heads at 4.20 p.m., rounded Wilson's Promontory at 0.22 a.m. on the 5th, Gabo Island at 3.23 p.m. the same day, and arrived in Sydney at 11.15 a.m.

The Bay of Bengal goes to Fitzroy Dock to-day for cleaning and painting, and returns on Wednesday to complete her loading. She has on board, in addition to tallow, &c., 2000 bales of wool, and as the remainder of her cargo is in store waiting, she is meeting with quick despatch. Messrs. J. S. Mailler and Co. are the agents, and have also on the berth the fine steamer Argus, for Dunkirk and Antwerp.

The steamer Port Melbourne will to-day be undocked at Mort's after cleaning. She is to leave here for Brisbane to load part cargo for London.

The Thessalus has gone to Cockatoo Dock, and the Bay of Bengal goes up there to-day.

The Myrtle Branch, one of the Branch line of steamers is coming here to load.

Owing to the wool trouble, the Hazel Branch went away the other day with but 5 bales aboard towards her outward cargo.

The steamer Mararoa, one of the crack boats of the Union Steamship Company's passenger fleet, has come out of dock with several improvements, which have been carried out in view of the forthcoming tourist season. The fine promenade deck has been given additional length by the bridging over of the forward and after wells, and the space at the disposal of passengers now extends fore and aft from stem to stern, practically in an unbroken line. Thirteen new cabins have been added in the saloon, and both the saloon itself and the social hall have been thoroughly renovated and re-decorated. The engines also have received a complete overhaul.

GIVEN AWAY GRATUITOUSLY
to Each Subscriber.

THE COLOURED SUPPLEMENT
AN EXQUISITELY BEAUTIFUL PIECE
NEW SOUTH WALES LANDSCAPE, and
Is Entitled
"COACHING IN THE ARALUEN VALLEY."

The Design is by Mr. NORMAN HARDY, Principal of the Art Staff of the Sydney Mail, who paid special visits to the Araluen Valley to secure a faithful representation. The beautiful effects of New South Wales mountain scenery, with the delicate purple of the atmosphere, are well brought out, the result being a most charming picture.

The Lithographing was entrusted to Mr. John Sands, of George-street, Sydney.

The cost of producing this picture has been exceedingly great.

NO EXTRA CHARGE,
however, will be made for the special issue with which it is to be distributed.

We may add that
CHRISTMAS ISSUE
"THE MAIL"
A NUMBER OF ILLUSTRATIONS
Australian Subjects
of more than usual excellence.

There will be many STORIES,
all of an Australian character,
written by some of the ablest colonial writers.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1893.

THE Matabeles are gathering at Matipis, midway between Fort Tuli and Fort Victoria.

IT has transpired that Lobengula's general, who was wounded in the fighting with the Chartered Company's forces at Shangans, hanged himself in chagrin at his defeat.

AFTER routing the Matabele attack at Shangans, the Company's native allies fled back into the camp. In attacking the Matabele centre, the mounted whites narrowly escaped being cut off.

THE race for the Melbourne Cup will be run at Flemington to-day. In our sporting columns it will be seen that "Nemo" telegraphs from Melbourne that either Loyalty or Carnage should win the event.

YESTERDAY the Premier received a cablegram from Dr. Renwick confirming the news that the gold specimens sent by the New South Wales Government to the Chicago Fair had been seized as security for 50,000dol., claimed in an action entered against the Government by Messrs. Sells Brothers.

SIR GEORGE DIBBS intends to ask the Agent-General to communicate with the Secretary of State for the Colonies on the matter. He will also request the Governor to send a telegram asking for diplomatic interference in regard to it.

LATEST advices report that the fire caused at the town of Santander, on the north coast of Spain, by the explosion of a cargo of dynamite contained in a burning ship, is still raging. It is estimated that the number of persons killed by the explosion will reach fully 1000.

WHEN the explosion occurred 40 officers and seamen in a man-of-war launch were alongside the burning vessel attempting to extinguish the flames. The launch and the men were sent flying through the air in atoms.

THERE were over 500 cases of dynamite in the hold of the steamer which was blown up at Santander. It is alleged that the captain declared that there were only 20 cases, and that they had been landed.

YESTERDAY Sir George Dibbs paid a visit of inspection to the Newington Asylum for infirm and destitute women. The Premier inquired into the working of the institution, and expressed satisfaction with what he saw.

AT Marseilles, in the South of France, the tramway employees have struck work, have burned the cars, and have destroyed the tramline.

THE probate duty paid last week amounted to £619 12s.

YESTERDAY Sir George Dibbs promised Mr. Melville, M.L.A., that he would grant £50 to each of the municipalities of Waratah, Merewether, and New Lambton, for the relief of distress. The money is to be expended under the supervision of Mr. Creer, Superintendent of the Government Labour Bureau.

MR. G. R. BURNS, M.L.A., of Queensland, died suddenly yesterday owing to the breaking of a blood vessel. He was one of the most prominent men in the North.

AT Hay yesterday a baker named William Holliday committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor.

A YOUTH named Frederick Thomas Peasley, aged 18 years, was stabbed to death by a Chinaman at Forbes on Sunday night. The perpetrator of the deed is unknown.

AT a meeting held at Narramine on Saturday night a motion was carried urging the Government to immediately introduce legislation dealing with the alien labour question.

THE Rev. W Hessel Hall, formerly Wesleyan minister at Queanbeyan, has announced himself as a candidate for Albury at the next election.

AN inquiry held at Honolulu into the circumstances connected with the grounding of the steamer Miowera at the entrance to the Honolulu Harbour has resulted in the exoneration of Captain Stott from all blame.

MR. J. E. REDMOND, Mr. John Dillon, and Mr. Michael Davitt, Ms.P., have denounced Mr. John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, for allowing evictions to be carried out on the Defreyne estate, in County Mayo.

THE English newspapers are unanimous in expressing regret at the failure of the conference between the colliery proprietors and the miners' delegates.

FOR the month of October the Victorian revenue was £567,959, being a decrease of £35,677 as compared with that of the corresponding month of last year.

SPEAKING at the Glebe last night, Mr. Joseph Cook, M.L.A., leader of the Parliamentary labour party, said there was no lack of methods for getting over the present difficulties; but the great lack was a want of opportunity to give one of them a trial, and there never would be such an opportunity until we had quite a different system of Parliamentary government.

THE season of Italian opera was opened at the Lyceum Theatre last night, when a crowded house followed the musical drama of "I Pagliacci" with intense interest, and applauded the singers to the echo.

IN the Stock and Share market yesterday shares in the Commercial Bank of Sydney and the Bank of New South Wales were dealt in at previous rates.

No more than the usual "mail day" business came under notice in the Import market yesterday. Distributers have a fair number of orders in hand from the country.

IN the Export market yesterday the Sydney Woolselling Brokers' Association resumed its sales. Within certain limits competition was active and even excited.

THE only Mining shares dealt in yesterday were Central Broken Hill at 3s and 3s 1d.

YESTERDAY the Customs receipts amounted to £10,301. Towards this the 10 per cent. ad valorem duty contributed £2128 and the 15 per cent. £309.

It is at present difficult to judge how far the disunion manifested by some of the freetrade leaders is to be taken as implying an equal degree of division in the ranks of the party itself. But we feel on safe ground in inferring that if the party as a whole is as divided as its leaders, it will go to the country at the general election hopelessly torn in twain. It will cease to be even nominally a party, and will be two parties more irrevocably sundered from each other than from the opposing party of protection. The leaders of the section which originated the split, and told the majority of the party that unless it would consent to follow the "advanced guard" it could go its own road, must reasonably recognise that in the spirit and objects of their politics they assimilate much more closely to the protectionists than to the legitimate party of freetrade. They doubtless see that they agree with the protectionists in holding that taxation may be a boon and a beneficence in itself, without regard to the revenue it may yield, and differ only, if at all, in regard to the particular benefits they desire to secure by its imposition. On the other hand, the freetraders who have remained true to the traditions and principles of their faith, in holding that taxation is always an evil, and is only justifiable when it is a necessary one, may well doubt whether they are more opposed to the party which desires to tax the whole community for the benefit of a class, or to the section which proposes to put a crushing load of taxation upon a single class for the supposed good of the rest of the community. The true freetrade doctrine is that no class or person is to be taxed for the good of another, but only for the good of the general community of which he is a part and in the welfare of which he is a sharer. If this principle be taken as marking the line of cleavage in our political field at the present time, then certainly the freetrade party will be found on one side, and the protectionists and single-taxers in undefined groups, possibly soon to merge in one, upon the other.

The justice of the inference of the absence of any principle of logical connection between the principles of freetrade and the imposition of a land tax, except of course for necessary revenue purposes and as part of a general and equitable system of taxation, in which form we have always given the proposal our support, is borne out by the whole history of the land tax in these colonies. So far as we can recall the circumstances, a land tax, wherever it forms a part of the fiscal system of any of the colonies, has been imposed by the party which has either imposed or maintained protection. The land tax in South Australia and in New Zealand was imposed by protectionists. In Victoria it was imposed as the result of a severe struggle by Sir GRAHAM BERRY. When the proposal came up the other day in Victoria, instead of increasing tariff duties, to increase the land tax, it was mooted by Mr. DEAKIN, one of the most prominent leaders of the protectionist party. When protection was first introduced in New South Wales by the Jennings-Dibbs Ministry it was accompanied into Parliament by a land tax. When a resolution affirming the desirability of imposing a land tax was carried in the last session of Parliament, it was supported by the votes of Ministers and of many of their party. It is puerile in view of these facts to pretend that there is any necessary connection between freetrade and a land tax, or to deny that those seeking to impose a land tax are at least as likely to do it with the help of the protectionists as with that of the straight freetraders. The explanation is, of course, the simple one that freetraders, in view of the normal tendency towards extravagant expenditure and burdensome taxation, have more often seen their duty to lie in resisting taxation than in imposing it.

And now, what will be the probable outcome of the freetrade party's going to the country irreconcilably split in two differing and mutually hostile sections, assuming, what is not yet shown, that the cleavage between some of the leaders extends to the bulk of the party? There cannot be much doubt upon this point. The result is so apparent that we may not unfairly assume that it is sought, and that the scornful words addressed at the Protestant Hall meeting on behalf of the "advanced guard" to the general body of the party gave expression to the desire to tear the party to pieces in the hope of constructing a new party from one of its fragments. If that is the policy kept in view it is at least an intelligible one. If those promoting it are sincere in the belief that the blessings of a land tax are so great as to legitimately outweigh every other consideration, it would be to no purpose to criticise or to condemn their course. But at any rate we may ask, What will be its immediate effect? The answer to this question is plain and unchallengeable. Whatever else the policy will do, it will, if persisted in, ensure the success of the Government party at the next election. All that Ministerialists need do to secure a certain triumph will be to keep unobtrusively in the background, while freetraders and single-taxers divide their votes and waste their strength in internecine conflict in the front of the battle. Strong as we believe to be the movement amongst the mass of the people in the direction of freetrade, it is hardly likely that it could bear subdivision in this way without each section standing as a minority compared with the undivided body of the protectionists. Neither is it probable that the numbers of the two sections would receive a very large increment from the desire of the electorate of the colony to place the reins of government in the hands of a party so hopelessly divided and so bitterly at variance. The result, then, must most probably be that the protectionists, though representing only a minority of the country, will retain power. But should this be so, the party will hold power in a sense in which it has never held it yet. However its majority may be due to the folly and divisions of the other side, the Ministry will assuredly represent, and will, according to political practice, be entitled to represent, it as conveying the warrant of the electorates to the imposition of a policy of thorough-going protection. The little finger of a Ministry in such a position would be thicker than the loins of that holding office under present conditions. If such a result is brought about at the general election it will in all likelihood be the outcome of the action of the seceding section of the freetrade party, who may end by assisting a protectionist Ministry to impose a land tax, and subsequently merge undistinguishably in the ranks of the party to which it now professes such determined opposition. If this possibility foreshadows the darker chances of the case, all that we can hope from the brighter ones is that such a rupture of parties might bring to an end the laying down party lines upon the fiscal issue, and might supersede that division by one better adjusted to the conditions and requirements of the time.

The introduction of a bill to make the notes of banks legal tender throughout the country districts, being an extension in a modified form of the existing provision for the maintenance of credit during a time of disturbance, will be generally accepted as a measure of prudence, pending the full restoration of normal conditions. Whatever was said against the Bank Issue Act at the time of its inception, it is now recognised that the ills predicted from its operation have not arisen. The expansion of the note issue to the extent of millions has not occurred. Less than three-quarters of a million of additional notes were issued, the total averages of the last quarter having been £2,197,000, against £1,655,126 in the preceding quarter and £1,423,808 in the first quarter of the year, and some portion of the extra notes issued are held by the other banks, and, therefore, not by the public. The normal issue of notes was not increased by one-third; and as the circulation has since been reduced, and the notes are now a first charge on the assets, the paper money of the colony is probably on as safe a basis as that of any country outside of Australia. Approximately, the whole legal tender note issue last quarter, amounting to about £2,000,000, was only about one-sixteenth part of the assets on which they were a first charge. The amount of notes now being less, the security is still greater, and therefore no uneasiness need be felt by anyone in respect of the notes, which are to all intents and purposes as good as gold.

For greater precaution, however, Sir GEORGE DIBBS thinks it prudent to safeguard the position, which might be disturbed by the prompt resumption of specie payments. The chief objection raised to the Proclamation under the Bank Issue Act was that it would send gold to a premium; but by a judicious consideration in voluntarily providing for requirements of the metal outside the colony the difficulty has been obviated. The Act served to bring back the gold from its hiding-places, and the banks were never under any strain to find gold for those who needed it for use on travel or to pay for imports. A moderate excess issue of notes sufficed for the purpose; and it cannot be said, therefore, that there has been any inconvenience locally from the operation of the Act, even in the direction in which trouble was apprehended. What the Premier now proposes is by law to remove this one objection to the note issues of the colony, and make it compulsory on the banks in Sydney to cash their notes in gold—in other words, to pay coin to everyone having a claim on them. It may be thought that very much will not come from the change. Something, however, will be gained. People who want gold for travelling will be able to get it more easily, a practical benefit being thus secured; while our creditors in London, knowing that coin is payable in Sydney, cannot now so misunderstand the banking law as to fear the dreadful calamities which some critics predicted as the ultimate outcome of it.

Still it is conceivable that there may be some feeling in the country against the bill, which proposes that they shall for a while longer use only cheques, notes, and silver for monetary purposes. But in view of the object to be gained, that is the resumption of specie payments without the slightest risk of trouble, there will probably be few who will not recognise merit in the measure now introduced for continuing notes as legal tender throughout the country. The unnecessary use of gold at any time is only an expense; and if the colony could spare, say, £2,000,000 of the £10,000,000 of gold employed here, £80,000 to £100,000 would be saved annually. In consenting to use notes as largely as possible a creditor country is setting an example which, if adopted more widely, will tend to retard that appreciation of the metal which every year is telling against its own interests. Those from whom we buy or borrow we must pay in gold, but as for the rest it will be well, perhaps, at a time like the present, to use as little as is required within the territory. The chief objection to the bill will be made on our borders, where the population, having trade connections with residents of adjoining colonies, may require the use of some gold. At points of departure from the colony also provision would have to be made thereat by the banks for cashing their notes. To this it may be replied that as under the Note Issue Act the difficulties suggested have been voluntarily provided for, so likewise will they be met during the currency of the temporary measure now submitted. But it may be well to require the banks to make provision against inconveniences at these places. The public advantage, for which this measure is alone justifiable, is not so jeopardised by the existing conditions as to require the passage of any bill that will make it necessary to cause loss or trouble to people on the border. With precautions against this inconvenience, no doubt the bill will be a useful one in existing circumstances. It may serve to show that the colonies can do with a smaller amount of gold, bringing the proportion in use more nearly to the British level. The principal value of the measure, however, is that it diminishes the number of points of attack on banks in times of panic, and makes it more difficult to hoard gold against the general interests of the community. Time would be given for reflection, which would tend to calm public feeling. However that may be, the conditions created by the proposed bill will be less objectionable than those which exist as the result of the Proclamation under the Bank Issue Act; and rather than this should be extended, and so that the full benefit of the Proclamation should be secured without risk of any kind, the bill to be submitted by Sir GEORGE DIBBS may be accepted.

Surveys have now been proceeding a considerable time in the matter of artificially ensuring the navigability of the River Darling; but, except that it was the hope of the Minister to put down a series of locks, nothing very definite has been announced concerning the surveys. Now it is stated that preliminary work is still going on; but there is some prospect that a commencement will be made. The delay is regrettable in itself; it does not necessarily form a condemnation of the officials concerned. During the past few years the river has been several times in flood, and more than once in high flood; and as it is of importance to secure accurate geological knowledge of the river bed, this one hindrance alone would prevent any decided advance being made. It is, of course, well known that at several parts of the channel of the River Darling there are rocky outcrops, exceptional in that stream, which flows through deep strata of clay or alluvium. At these places the detailed surveys are being made, for it need hardly be said that without excellent foundation work the first flood would sweep any obstructions of man's devising right away to the Murray. Indeed, this matter of the regimen of the river during its periodical inundations is one of the chief difficulties in any scheme of locking. Greater engineering problems have been solved in Europe and the East, and with Parliamentary approval the great waterway and natural artery of Western New South Wales will be made available both for irrigation and navigation, to the enrichment of the colony, the extension of settlement, and the increase of products. That larger scheme is not yet within the Minister's purpose. What Mr. LYNE proposes is to make the river navigable between Bourke and Brewarrina northerly, and Bourke and Menindie southerly. The object is to concentrate the district trade at the railway terminus of the North-western line. This is a cheaper policy for the country than constructing even light lines through the pastoral regions for the pastoral trade. Provided that we do not keep an open river to carry away the traffic of our own districts, the scheme is much to be commended. Without at this stage discussing the principle of betterment, it would be interesting to learn how the Minister intends to apply it, supposing him to get legislative permission. Will he impose a toll on river-borne goods? or will he levy an assessment upon Crown or private lands along the frontage? If the former, he may drive business to the tramways leading out of New South Wales. If the latter, his colleague, Mr. COPELAND, is certain to hear from the lessees.

The catastrophe at Santander, recorded in our cable messages, illustrates the price we sometimes have to pay for the advances made by modern civilisation. There is something strangely, if painfully, picturesque in a town full of people turning out to line the wharfs to watch a blazing steamer; from the Governor down to the humblest all absorbed in the progress of the destruction proceeding amid circumstances inspiring sensations of awe, akin to those of admiration and even delight in the sublime; when, without an instant's warning, amid the deafening roar and blinding explosion, with wharfs and buildings rent to shreds, and the ground itself seeming to tremble with the concussion, hundreds of people are hurled to destruction. Of the carelessness that could have allowed such a thing to occur without proper warning of the dangerous character of the cargo on board the burning ship it would be idle to speak. When these things impend people are not infrequently so taken up with the perils of their own immediate surroundings that they have little attention to give to the concerns of others, and the system of lack-a-daisy with which the most potential forces of nature are now commonly handled, leaves the opening for incidents of this kind to occur in many a place besides Santander. It is among the triumphs of science and invention that we are now subjecting to human use, and applying to our every-day business, powers that if they only assert themselves can make short work of those who are supposed to hold them in subjection; and the worst of it is, that if familiarity does not breed contempt for the terrific forces themselves, it seems to engender indifference to the conditions that are indispensable to their safety. These are days in which electricity is being harnessed to our cars, and explosives are being manufactured each one more destructive and yet more useful than every one preceding it. Incidents occurring from time to time show us that caution is not proceeding pari passu with invention, and now and then an operator or experimenter is roasted by electricity or blown into fragments, sometimes without a record to tell the nature of the error that had led to the misfortune. But if this were the measure of the danger to which the public in general is subjected, we might rest satisfied with the feeling that these are but the necessary sacrifices we must render to the Spirit of first discovery. But the truth is, that these concentrations of irresistible force come to be looked on as common merchandise, and are handled and carried, and stored and turned to use with as little regard to the fearful potentialities contained as if they were a case of groceries or a bale of wool. Could not the Santander catastrophe be reproduced in Sydney harbour? In the harmless-looking drayload that sometimes traverses our streets, are there not the elements in slumber that if awakened by accident would sweep whole blocks of buildings and their inhabitants away? These are thoughts to be considered, not in an alarmist way, but as suggesting the caution which is too prone to be forgotten, the absence of which might easily bring nearer home to us a reproduction of this shocking disaster at Santander.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.—The Assembly will meet this afternoon. There are 11 questions on the notice paper. Private members' business will be taken. The following bills are set down for consideration:—Bankruptcy Act Amendment Bill, second reading; Criminal Law and Evidence Amendment Bill, second reading; Public Instruction Act Amendment Bill, second reading; Law Vacations Abolition Bill, second reading; Agricultural Holdings Bill (as amended and agreed to in select committee), second reading; Legal Practitioners Bill, second reading; Fisheries Act Amendment Bill, second reading; Net-fishing in Port Hacking Prohibition Act Amendment Bill, second reading; Friendly Societies Act Amendment Bill, to be further considered in committee; Criminal Law and Evidence Amendment Bill (No. 2), second reading; Use of Camels Regulation Bill, second reading; Australasian Rights Purchase Bill, consideration in Committee of the Whole of the Legislative Council's amendments; Agreements Validating Act Repeal Bill, second reading; Truck Bill, consideration in Committee of the Whole of the expediency of bringing in a bill to regulate contracts made with respect to and the payment of wages, to prohibit such payment being made in goods or otherwise than in money, and to regulate the service of legal process; Bills of Sale Bill (Council bill), second reading; Supreme Court Bill (Council bill), second reading.

PARCELS POST.—The Postmaster-General has obtained from Melbourne a return with reference to the working of the parcels post system there. As compared with Sydney, the average total number of parcels now passing through the parcels branch is as follows:—At Melbourne, parcels received at the counters daily, 330; received at Sydney, 510. Received at Melbourne from other offices daily, 270; received at Sydney, 220. Total received at Melbourne, 600; total received at Sydney, 730. The return of the parcels posted at Sydney for the week ended 4th November was as follows:—Number posted at the central parcels office 1310, of the weight of 4537lb., the postage being £81 7s 1d; number posted at the General Post Office 1756, of the weight of 4750lb., the postage being £101 0s 5½d. Mr. Kidd states that he is well satisfied with the business done at the office, and, as will be seen from the above figures, that of the Sydney already exceeds that of the Melbourne department. The return for the week ended the 4th instant, relating to postal notes, is also satisfactory. The total number issued was 5109, of the value of £2462. The number on the previous week was 4375 notes, of the value of £2019 18s 4d.

SIR GEORGE DIBBS AND GENERAL HUTTON.—Sir George Dibbs stated last night that he had received no communication from Major-General Hutton. He did not expect to receive any. The reduction he had made was £30,000. The military estimates this year stood at £187,000. There might be some criticism on the matter; but the reduction could not be avoided, and the only thing to be done by the military authorities was to make the best of it.

DISTRESS AT NEWCASTLE.—Mr. Melville, M.L.A., waited upon the Premier yesterday with reference to the distress in the Newcastle district. Mr. Melville asked that some assistance should be given to the people. The Premier promised to grant £50 each to the municipalities of Waratah, Merewether, and New Lambton, the money to be expended under the supervision of Mr. Creer, of the Government Labour Bureau.

THE CANADIAN-AUSTRALIAN LINE.—To-day is expected to see the arrival in Port Jackson for the first time of the 5000-ton steamer Arawa, which is to take the place of the Miowera in the Canadian-Australian line. The Arawa is on her way from Lyttelton. She was specially built for direct mail and passenger service between England and New Zealand, and it was thought to be fortunate at a critical time in the history of the new line that Mr. James Huddart was enabled to charter a steamer so eminently suitable. In an interview recently held with Mr. Huddart during his visit to Newcastle-on-Tyne that gentleman stated that Messrs. Swan and Hunter are now preparing designs for the next royal mail steamer. These designs will be submitted to the Admiralty with a view to seeing if they could comply with all the conditions necessary for securing a subvention in return for which the vessels would be available for Government use in time of war. Also that part of his business in Newcastle was to consult Messrs. S. C. Swan and Hunter, the builders of the steamships Miowera and Warrimoo, about fitting the holds with refrigerating machinery. The builders are now busy with the plans, and the work will be commenced immediately. "It may amuse you," said Mr. Huddart, "to hear me talk of exporting Tasmanian apples to Canada. It looks like taking coal to Newcastle; but the secret of all this is the reversal of the seasons. That makes almost all things possible in this new trade." Referring to his visit to Canada, and the conversations he had with the president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. Huddart remarked:—"Mr Van Horne struck the key note by saying that they had been desirous of establishing a line of steamships between British Columbia and Australia for a long time, and now when it was established they could not afford to see the Canadian-Australian Steamship Company fail, if it were within the power of the C.P.R. to prevent it."

WILLS OF THE WEEK.—During the past week probate duty has been paid in respect of the following estates:—W. Williams, Willie Ploma, £3395; D. Cotton, Woolloomooloo, £2080; W. R. Simcoe, Thelangerin, £295; J. Mayhew, Marrickville, £685; J. Read, Inkerman Downs, £400; D. A. Nan, Cundletown, £235; John Hunter, Deniliquin, £190; S. E. Murray, Waverley, £[illegible]; J. Dining, Kiama, £240; W. Coulson, [illegible], £6200; Lydia Smith, Burden Grove, £[illegible]; E. Farrell, Newton, £1055; M. Murray, North Sydney, £255; J. Murray, North Sydney, £[illegible]; H. B. Dawson, Camperdown, £3270; S. B. W[illegible], Greenland, £2005; P. O'Connor, Taralga, £[illegible]; J. Carr, Gulgong, £325; J. Percival, [illegible], £430; C. Hall, Inverell, £300; T. O'[illegible], Goulburn, £1440; J. E. Wolfe, West Maitland, £12,335; M. A. Wilson, Sydney, £[illegible]; J. Norman, Quat Quatta, £1245; E. A. Livingstone, Maclean, £1000; C. Kuhn, [illegible], £400; G. W. Bayley, Woollahra, £[illegible]; total duty paid, £619 2s.

THE FULL COURT.—The business of the Full Court yesterday was confined mainly to new trial motions. In Sullivan and wife v. Midgely, in which defendant had succeeded, at Tamworth, in an action for libel brought against him as proprietor or publisher of the Gwydir Examiner, the Court granted a new trial, being of opinion that the verdict was contrary to the evidence. In Phipps v. the Bank of New South Wales, the plaintiff had obtained a verdict with £50 damages for the alleged dishonour of a cheque by the Bathurst-street branch of the bank, and the Court also granted a new trial. To-day two Appeal Courts will sit.

ENGLISH MAILS.—The mails per R.M.S. [illegible], which left Sydney on 2nd October, arrived in London on 4th November. They were due on 6th November.

THE TRIP OF THE AUSTRALIA.—It was thought that the R.M.S. Australia on her run out to Sydney this time would put up a new record of speed. The vessel arrived yesterday at 6.5 a.m., and now lies in Neutral Bay. She is a week ahead of the usual date, but is behind the Himalaya's best time. It is true that the mails for Sydney were delivered in each instance on the Monday, but they were at the Semaphore a few hours earlier by the Himalaya than by her sister ship the Australia. As to the arrival of the two ships at Sydney, the Himalaya entered Sydney Heads at daylight on Monday, 19th June, and at 6.5 a.m. yesterday the Australia entered, thus showing how close in time these two magnificent steamships were with regard to a passage of 12,500 miles—London to Sydney.

HEAT INLAND—TROPICAL RAIN.—The feature of yesterday's weather news is the announcement that a tropical rain has set in and has travelled a long way down the telegraph route from Port Darwin across the Northern Territory. Katherine, Daly Water, Powell Creek, Tennant's Creek, Barron's Creek, and Alice Springs stations reported rain. Seen last night with reference to the prospect of general rain over Western Queensland and New South Wales, so much wanted, Mr. Russell said that had the same conditions as those of yesterday appeared two months ago there would be no doubt whatever that a good serviceable rainfall would take place, but with the present hot spell over the country it seems as if the rains were dried up before they reached very far. With the information to hand the Government Astronomer hesitated to predict general rain. The temperatures reported yesterday were all high inland. Out West, Mungindi seems to have had the highest—105° in the shade. At Moree it was 104°, Grafton 102°, and there were many between 90° and 100° shade temperatures. At Sydney yesterday the heat was oppressive, owing to the density of air with moisture. The maximum was but 74° as against 85·8 on Saturday last. As the day wore on the weather became very threatening for rain, and several times in the afternoon and at night a storm appeared to be close at hand. Similar conditions prevailed all along the New South Wales coast, with the wind between N.E., east, and south-east, and it looked very favourable for coastal rain during the night. Light showers fell in the city before midnight.

ENFORCING SOUTH SEA ISLAND REGULATIONS.—News with regard to the labour traffic at the islands of the Solomon Group that were recently annexed by England is to the effect that the warships are closely supervising the recruiting business. While her Majesty's ship Penguin is very busy surveying the harbours and the havens of safety for the benefit of commerce, the Goldfinch is equally active looking after the vessels that fly the labour flag. A vessel with returned Polynesians on board from Queensland was recently fallen in with by the Goldfinch, and it was discovered that some of the "boys," as the blackfellows are called, had not been returned to their homes, but were put ashore at other places, possibly without any intention of doing harm to the recruits, but as a matter of convenience. This being a distinct breach of the regulations, action was taken, and the master of the recruiting vessel was heavily fined. All time-expired labourers from the plantations must be returned to the islands whence they were taken. Failure to do so on the part of a labour vessel is regarded as a serious offence—scarcely less so, indeed, than improper recruiting, for it is a fact but too well established that a stranger amongst strange kanakas in the Solomons often meets with speedy despatch. A letter received in Sydney yesterday from the Solomon Islands states that so far the effects of British flag-hoisting has had a depressing effect upon the natives. Some of the chiefs have apparently gone out of business so far as copra-making is concerned, and the natives have suddenly developed a capacity for masterly inactivity with respect to the time-honoured custom of nut-gathering. As to the flags, they are in daily use, having been in nearly every instance annexed by the island chiefs for dress purposes.

RYDE MUNICIPALITY.—In connection with the application made that the municipality of Ryde should be subdivided, an inquiry made by Mr. G. Lewis, local Government officer, shows that the petition is in due form and contains the signatures of fully two-thirds of the municipal electors within the prescribed area. The matter will therefore be reported upon in due course.

FIELD NATURALISTS.—About a dozen members of this society visited Flemington on Saturday afternoon under the leadership of Mr. John Maiden, of the Technical College, for the purpose of collecting and studying botanical specimens. Mr. Maiden adopted the plan of collecting a number of specimens first, and then with the members seated round him proceeded to name the specimens and point out their peculiarities. About 40 specimens were thus examined and compared, and as most of the members carried notebooks and took named specimens home with them the afternoon was not only pleasantly spent, but the enjoyment was probably of a profitable nature.

NEWINGTON ASYLUM.—The Premier yesterday, accompanied by Mr. Critchett Walker, Principal Under-Secretary, and Mr. Maxted, Director of Government Asylums, visited the Newington Asylum for Infirm and Destitute Women. There were about 600 women there. The visit was a surprise one. Sir George went over the asylum, and inquired into the working of the place. He was, he states, well satisfied with what he saw there. The inmates were well cared for, everything was in good order, and no complaints were made.

THE REGENT-STREET DISPENSARY.—At a meeting of the house committee of the Sydney Hospital yesterday, over which Alderman M. Chapman presided, it was decided to reopen the branch dispensary in Regent-street to-morrow afternoon.

BETHANY HIGH SCHOOL.—On Friday afternoon the Bethany High School was visited by a number of friends, among whom were Miss Snowdon Smith, the Misses Smith, Mrs. Reade, Mrs. Sharp, and Mrs. Bracegirdle, the Revs. J. Vaughan, W. A. Charlton, and W. H. H. Yarrington. The pupils, under the direction of the head mistress, Miss Squire, gave an exhibition of the physical training they receive at the school. Field exercise was exhibited by the boys, and the girls used the poles, the Indian clubs, and the Roman rings. In the course of a short address the Rev. Mervyn Archdall, director of the Deaconesses' Institution called "Bethany," stated that the school, which had only been opened for four months, had now on its roll 100 pupils. From this rapid growth in an artisan suburb of a school of which the fees are considerably higher than those of the Public schools, he argued that the members of the Church of England are prepared to support schools in which the principles and piety of the church of their forefathers prevail. Other short addresses were also given. The proceedings closed with the benediction.

Y.W.C.A.—An unusually large gathering took place in the rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association, Phillip-street, last evening, when the weekly evangelistic meeting was held. Mr. E. P. Field gave an earnest address on Christ as the Sin-bearer, as typified by the sacrifices mentioned in Leviticus iii. and iv.

GEOLOGY AS ASSOCIATED WITH THE BIBLE.—The Rev. Adin Parsons, of the Newtown circuit, commenced a series of sermons relative to the geological proofs of the existence of a Supreme Being with a service at the Tempe Park Wesleyan Church on Sunday evening. The preacher took his text from the scriptural account of the creation in the first and second chapters of Genesis, and his remarks were listened to with much interest by a large congregation.

Anniversary Services.—At the Granville Wesleyan Church the anniversary services in connection with the Sunday school were held on Sunday, when there were large attendances. The church was prettily decorated, and special music was given by the scholars of the school, assisted by friends. The services were conducted by the Rev. F. Colwell. At the Auburn Wesleyan Church anniversary services were held on Sunday. The church was prettily decorated. The Rev. J. Beale, of North Sydney, was the preacher. The anniversary of the Primitive Methodist Church at St. Peters was celebrated by special services on Sunday. The Rev. W. Gilbey, of Dulwich Hill, preached a special sermon in the morning, and in the afternoon a service of song, entitled "From Prison to Palace," was rendered. The Rev. Theophilus Parr, M.A., from Albion-street Church, presided. In the evening the Rev. Theophilus Parr again presided, and in the course of an interesting address compared the state of the Church as it is now and what it was in the past. The anniversary services in connection with the Marrickville Wesleyan Sunday-school were celebrated in the church, Illawarra-road, on Sunday. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns, flowers, and arches composed of foliage, the work of Mr. Thomas, assisted by the committee. In the morning the Rev. P. J. Stephen, from Balmain, preached; and in the afternoon Rev. W. W. Rutledge delivered an address to the scholars. The Rev. Mr. Clark, superintendent of the Stanmore circuit, officiated in the evening. Last evening the anniversary was concluded with a tea and musical entertainment.

Formation of a Labour League.—A meeting of the electors of the Bligh division was held under the auspices of the South Sydney Labour League in the schoolroom, Palmer-street, near Liverpool-street, last evening, for the purpose of forming a branch of the Labour Electoral League in that district. The chair was occupied by Mr. T. Dodd. A motion affirming the desirability of the formation of a Labour League in the electorate was submitted by Mr. J. E. West (of the Trades and Labour Council), seconded by Mr. J. A. Hendry, and unanimously carried. The following office-bearers were elected:—President, Mr. J. E. West; vice-president, Mr. T. V. O'Rourke; hon. secretary, Mr. J. A. Hendry; delegate to the forthcoming conference, Mr. S. A. Rosa.

Christmas Cards.—A number of picturesque Christmas cards, copied from photos by means of the bromide process, have been published by Mr. John Sands. The cards, which are beautifully executed, include views of St. Andrew's Cathedral and the Town Hall, the North and South Heads, the Post Office, and the Botanical Gardens.

St. John Ambulance Association—Petersham Branch.—Dr. J. F. M'Allister, of Enmore, Surgical Tutor Sydney University, and hon. lecturer to the branch, having delivered a course of lectures to the ninth class held by this branch, the members underwent an examination of a practical and theoretical nature, conducted by Dr. Lester E. Roth, on the 27th ultimo. The following gentlemen were successful, and will be presented with their certificates at an early date by the Mayoress:—John Cook, Selby M. Cook, S. W. Hodge, Henry Overton, William Starr, James Taylor, Peter Taylor, William White. First re-examination:—Arthur W. Coates, J. Ernest Docker, Thomas E. Geddes.

Presentation to a Police Constable.—Before the business at the Parramatta Police Court was commenced yesterday morning, the police magistrate, Mr. Edwards, called Senior-constable Thornecroft forward and stated that he had been asked by the police magistrate of Hay to present Mr. Thornecroft with an address on the occasion of his promotion to Parramatta. The address was from the residents of Hay, who desired to express the esteem in which they had held Mr. Thornecroft during the 13 years he had resided in the Hay district. Senior-constable Thornecroft fittingly replied.

Painful Accident.—Yesterday afternoon a young woman named Florence Mills, employed at a laundry in Hereford-street, Forest Lodge, had her right hand very severely crushed in machinery. She was taken to the Prince Alfred Hospital for treatment.

An Infant Found Drowned.—An inquest was held by the City Coroner, Mr. J. C. Woore, J.P., at the Croydon Hotel, George-street, yesterday, concerning the death of a male infant whose body was found in the water at Balmain on Saturday morning. David Roche, master of the steam launch Bonito, deposed to the discovery of the body near the Jubilee Dock, Johnstone's Bay. Dr. Rennie, who had made a post-mortem examination of the body, said it was that of a newly-born, fully-developed infant. There were no marks of violence upon the body. The cause of death was asphyxia, but not from drowning. There was nothing to show how the asphyxia was produced. In his opinion the child had at the time of the examination on Saturday afternoon been dead from 12 to 18 hours. Constable M'Cracken, who had conveyed the body to the North Sydney Morgue, said that it was wrapped in a piece of brown paper and tied up with string. After the jury had been informed that there were no more witnesses to be called the foreman went round to his colleagues, and then, in answer to the Coroner, stated that they had agreed upon a verdict of wilful murder against some person or persons unknown. The Coroner asked, "How can you possibly bring in a verdict of wilful murder in a case of this kind?" The foreman: "That is the verdict agreed upon." The Coroner: "The doctor says that death was caused by asphyxia, and that he is unable to state what caused the asphyxia." A juror: "He says the child was born alive." The Coroner: "Yes, but you are to return your verdict according to the evidence. In my opinion the evidence does not justify you in returning a verdict of wilful murder. But however, gentlemen, it is for you to give the verdict without taking into consideration anything that I may say to you. You are sworn to give a true verdict according to the evidence." The coroner again impressed upon the jurors that they were at liberty to return the verdict which their judgment dictated, and at the close of his remarks the foreman again conferred with his colleagues. After a few moments had been spent in deliberating the foreman said that the jury, having reconsidered the matter, were agreed that the child was found dead in the waters of Port Jackson without any marks of violence appearing upon the body, that the cause of death was asphyxia, and that as to the origin of the asphyxia there was no evidence before them.

Sudden Death at Sherwood.—The Parramatta district coroner, Mr. J. E. Bowden, held an inquest at Sherwood yesterday on the body of William Appleton, who died suddenly on Saturday. Frances Appleton, wife of the deceased, stated that he was paralysed some three years ago, and had not been able to work since. About the same time he had a fall through the upsetting of a baker's cart on him, and he suffered much from the effects. About 12 months since a neighbour, out of kindness, gave him a glass of brandy, with the result that the deceased went raving mad for four days, and had been more or less imbecile ever since. Dr. Phillips stated that the cause of death was pneumonia, and the jury brought in a verdict accordingly.

Melbourne Telephone Exchanges.—A statement showing the expenditure for the purchase and maintenance of the Telephone Exchanges and the revenue for each year since 1887, when the telephone system of Melbourne became the property of the Government (says the Melbourne Argus), was presented to the Legislative Assembly on Thursday evening. The capital expenditure amounts to £143,091, and the expenditure for maintenance and renewals to £165,391. The total revenue for the series of years from 1887 to 1892 was £174,228, showing a net profit for that period of £8837. The number of subscribers to the Exchange on the 1st September, 1887, was 1277, but on the 31st December, 1892, it had more than doubled, being 2634. In comparing the management of the system of the Government as compared with the private company the facts should not be overlooked that the Government reduced the annual subscription from £16 to £12, and that the property when taken over had to be practically renewed, the batteries being worn out and the telephones being out of date.

Victorian Trades Unions.—The Government Statist yesterday (says Friday's Melbourne Argus) presented to Parliament his annual report on trades unions. Mr. Hayter states that he has received returns from the following registered unions:—Amalgamated Miners' Association of Victoria, Victorian and Intercolonial Labourers' Protective and Benefit Union of Australasia, Portland Fishermen's Union, and the Victorian Master Undertakers' Association. The following unions are known to be in existence, but they have not furnished returns:—Amalgamated Shearers' Union of Australasia, Associated Australian Yeomanry—Rochester and Durham Ox branches, and the Victorian Master Butchers' Association. The only registration effected under the Trades Unions Act was that of the Ballarat Cabmen's Protective Association. No particulars are published respecting the Ballarat Trades and Labour Council, as the necessary return was not furnished by the secretary, and Mr. Hayter has been since informed that the union has withdrawn from registration. Believing that particulars respecting the large number of trade unions which had not registered under the Act would be interesting, he recently addressed a letter to the Melbourne Trades Hall Council asking whether there would be any objection to supply him with a list of such unregistered unions as were in existence at the end of 1892, together with a statement of their numerical strength and financial position. In reply he received a communication to the effect that the council deemed it inadvisable to supply the particulars asked for; and, moreover, one of the objections to the Trades Unions Act was that under it the unions feel that they are compelled to furnish information the disclosure of which might place them in the hands of unscrupulous employers; and, further, that as employers' associations keep their affairs within their own circle, so the trades unions consider it better for them under present circumstances to remain outside the Act.

M. Zola on London.—Interviewed, on his return to Paris on the 1st October, with regard to his impressions of London, M. Zola said:—"I was much fêted, and must thank my friends in England for their greeting. As to the appearance of London, which, as you know, I visited for the first time, the big city made an indelible impression on my mind. Its beauty is not in its monuments, but in its immensity; the colossal character of its quays and bridges, to which ours are as toys. The Thames, from London Bridge to Greenwich, I can only compare to an immense moving street of ships, large and small, something suggestive to the Parisian mind of an aquatic Rue de Rivoli. The docks are stupendous buildings, but what impressed me most were the splendid arrangements for unloading vessels, which came close up to the quays, and disembarked their cargoes into the shops, as it were. One can understand the secret of London's greatness after having seen these things. The Thames is, in fact, the heart, or stomach if you like, of London, as the West End is the head of its wonderful organism. As to the buildings and monuments of the City and West-end, I did not care much about them artistically. Westminster Abbey is fine, but other buildings, mostly copied from the Gothic, are merely interesting by reason of their size." M. Zola went on to say that he was astonished at the extent of the outlying districts of London. He had never seen such miles of monotonous brick and mortar. The small houses of the workmen especially surprised him, and he put the existence of such diminutive structures down to the fact that every Englishman liked to have his own little place, where he reigned as a domestic lord. They were sad abodes, however. As to the parks, they were simply places for recreation and breathing the fresh air. None of them equalled in beauty the Parc Monceaux, for instance, and Hyde Park could by no means be compared to the Bois de Boulogne. The conversation turned on Whitechapel, which every Frenchman visiting London is expected to see. The novelist gladly prolonged the talk for a few moments in order to speak of the district which in later times has been identified with the terrible deeds of "Jack the Ripper." M. Zola visited some of the places where "Jacques l'Eventreur" carried on his exploits, and what most struck him was the tendency to efface and forget these crimes exhibited by the inhabitants. Whitechapel, he considered, had been much belied, and he referred to the fact that many of his fellow-countrymen had come away from it with preposterous stories of murder and misery. Whitechapel, as he saw it, was a thriving, prosperous place, with its wide, busy, well-lit central artery, and all the wretchedness and squalor were buried in contiguous courts. Squalor was, moreover, existent in the West-end as well as the East, and he had seen sweating dens, slums, and over-crowded dwellings in the purlieus of Covent-garden, within a few yards of the palatial mansions of Piccadilly, and near the wealthy shops of Bond-street.

Professor Jowett.—Among the innumerable stories and reminiscences of the late Professor Jowett now filling the papers, the following is one of the most striking:—What Professor Jowett was least tolerant of (says the St. James's Gazette) was pretentiousness and shallow conceit. He could come down on a fatuous young egotist, who thought too much of himself and too little of everybody else, with crushing and salutary severity. The reputation for extreme latitudinarianism that the fame of his impeachment for heresy long years ago had attached to his name, sometimes made foolish young men think to curry favour with him by extravagant professions of agnosticism. The following story—which is also, of course, a "chestnut" at Oxford—is too good not to be repeated. One self-satisfied undergraduate, who had a thin smattering of all the heathen philosophies, and fancied, like many of his age, that he had made the original discovery that all the world's dolls were full of sawdust, met the Master in the "Quad" one day, and having entered into conversation with him, continued to pace up and down by his side. "Master," he said, after a pause, "I have searched everywhere in all philosophies, ancient and modern, and nowhere do I find the evidence of a God." "Mr. ——," replied the Master, after a shorter pause than usual, "if you don't find a God by 5 o'clock this afternoon you must leave this college." If Dr. Jowett had really believed in the young man's professions of "philosophic doubt" as being anything but puppyish brag, he would have spent hours of valuable time in kindly and reasonable talk with him.

Having reference to an advertisement which has appeared notifying the intended sale by public auction of the household furniture and effects of "Mrs. Atkinson Price," Mr. Atkinson Price, of King-street, importer, writes to object to the assumption of the name, and states that no person of the name of Mrs. Atkinson Price ever lived at Randwick or existed in any other part of this colony.

Mr. G. A. Murray, of Rosslyn Hall, Manly, has presented Mr. Turner, the head master of Fort-street, with a cheque for £20 towards the funds of the school.

A concert in aid of the funds of the Sydney Bethel Union will be given this evening by Mr. J. H. Strout, assisted by a number of leading artists, in the Mariners' Church, Circular Quay.

On Friday evening last the officers of the interlocking branch of the railway service held their annual dinner at the Royal Hotel, George-street. About 24 persons sat down to dinner. Mr. D. Wilkin, the interlocking engineer, presided.

The Sydney Hospital report for the week ended 4th November is as follows:—Admitted, 55; discharged, 47; died, 5; remaining, 245; casualties treated but not admitted, 762.

TRAGEDY AT FORBES.

A LAD STABBED TO DEATH.

[By Telegraph.]
(From our Correspondent.)

FORBES, Monday.

Forbes has been the scene of another tragedy—the victim being Frederick Thomas Peasley, a lad about 18 years of age, and the only child of Mr. Thomas Peasley, of the Welcome Home Hotel. It appears that at about 10 o'clock last night Peasley was going home with another lad named M'Mahon, both living down the Condobolin-road, about three-quarters of a mile from the town. When they got almost within a stone's throw of Peasley's father's hotel, the lads met two Chinese coming towards town. The boys are alleged to have commenced to torment them. Peasley was stabbed in the neck, and also in the abdomen, and the unfortunate boy died within half an hour. He is said to have been a particularly quiet boy. The police were immediately communicated with, and made an arrest last night. An inquest on the body was opened to-day before the coroner, Mr. Sowter, and was adjourned until Monday next.

SPECIAL CABLES.

FROM THE HERALD'S LONDON CORRESPONDENTS.

THE DISASTER AT SANTANDER.

TOWN STILL BURNING.

MAN-OF-WAR LAUNCH BLOWN UP.

FEARFUL LOSS OF LIFE.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

The town of Santander, on the north coast of Spain, where a burning vessel with dynamite on board was blown up, causing wide-spread disaster, is still burning.

A man-of-war launch, with 40 officers and seamen, was alongside the burning vessel, attempting to extinguish the flames when the explosion occurred, and the launch and men were sent flying through the air in atoms.

It is estimated that the number of persons killed by the explosion will reach fully 1000.

Later.

There were over 500 cases of dynamite in the hold of the steamer which was blown up at Santander. The captain, it is alleged, declared that there were only 20 cases, which, he said, had been landed.

Fragments of the burning vessel, which were scattered over the town by the explosion, simultaneously set one hundred houses on fire. A hundred small craft were sunk.

GUNPOWDER EXPLOSION AT RIO DE JANEIRO.

TWO BRITISH NAVAL OFFICERS KILLED.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

Lieutenants Mowbray and Turper, of the British men-of-war Sirius and Racer, together with two others, have been killed by a gunpowder explosion on shore at Rio de Janeiro.

THE MATABELE WAR.

MASSING OF THE MATABELES.

SUICIDE OF LOBENGULA'S GENERAL.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

Later news from South Africa states that Lobengula's General, who was wounded in the fighting with the Chartered Company's forces at Shangans, hanged himself in chagrin at his defeat.

The Matabeles are gathering at Matipis, midway between Fort Tuli and Fort Victoria.

Further particulars of the fighting at Shangans show that the Company's native allies received the Matabele attack, and then fled back into the laager, or camp.

The mounted whites, in attacking the Matabele centre, narrowly escaped being cut off.

THE ANTI-ENGLISH FEELING IN EGYPT.

A COUNTER MOVEMENT.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

A number of propertied Egyptians in Cairo are forming a party in favour of the British control and to counteract the anti-English attitude of the Cabinet.

THE STRANDING OF THE MIOWERA.

CAPTAIN STOTT EXONERATED.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

An inquiry has been held at Honolulu into the circumstances connected with the grounding of the Miowera at the entrance to Honolulu harbour.

Captain Stott was acquitted of all blame.

EVICTIONS IN IRELAND.

THE CHIEF SECRETARY DENOUNCED.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

Mr. J. E. Redmond, Mr. John Dillon, and Mr. Michael Davitt, M.s.P., have denounced Mr. John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, for allowing evictions to be carried out on the Defreyne Estate, in county Mayo.

THE COALMINERS' STRIKE.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

The newspapers are unanimous in expressing regret at the failure of the conference between the colliery proprietors and the miners' delegates.

THE MINERS' STRIKE IN FRANCE.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

The miners' strike in France has collapsed.

STRIKE ON A FRENCH TRAMWAY.

MEN DESTROYING PROPERTY.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

A strike of tramway employees has occurred at Marseilles, in the south of France.

The men burned the cars and destroyed the tramway line.

EXCAVATIONS IN GREECE.

AN INTERESTING DISCOVERY.

LONDON, Nov. 6.

A Greek hymn to Apollo, with musical characters, has been excavated at Delphi, in Greece.

It is the first of the kind ever discovered.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Parliament was prorogued this afternoon by the Governor, Lord Hopetoun, with the customary formalities, in the presence of a brilliant gathering, which included the Countess of Hopetoun, the Earl and Countess of Glasgow, Sir Henry and Lady Norman, Sir Robert Duff and Lady Duff, Admiral and Mrs. Bowden-Smith, Sir Henry Parkes, and the Hon. Mackenzie Bowell. The proceedings were very brief.

THE REVENUE RETURNS FOR OCTOBER.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The revenue received last month was £567,939, as compared with £603,616 collected in October, 1892, being a decrease of £35,677. The Customs returns came to £136,588, as against £141,150 in October last year. There was an increase of £15,400 in spirits, £2600 in dried and preserved fruits, while the primage duties, which were not in operation last year, produced £3391. There were decreases of £10,800 in articles subject to ad valorem duty, £8200 in those subject to fixed rates, £5800 in live stock, and £3000 in sugar. The excise and inland revenue came to £40,959, as compared with £39,223 in October, 1892. There was a falling off of £5000 in the duty on spirits distilled in the colony, and an increase of £6000 in duties on the estates of deceased persons. The territorial revenue was £26,412, as against £34,423 in October last year. Public works produced, £246,092, as against £263,834 received last year. The falling off is mainly due to the decreased railway receipts.

SIR HENRY PARKES.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Sir Henry Parkes left by the express this afternoon for Sydney.

MAJOR-GENERAL HUTTON.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Major-General Hutton returned this evening from Queenscliff, where in company with Major-General Tulloch and other officers he made an inspection of the forts.

OPENING OF ST. VINCENT'S HOSPITAL.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

There was a large gathering of ladies and gentlemen in connection with almost every religious denomination at the opening ceremony of St. Vincent's Hospital this afternoon. Archbishop Carr presided, and invited Lady Clarke, in the absence of the Governor, to declare the hospital open. A liberal response was made to an appeal to wipe off the debt of £9000 on the hospital.

THE SHOOTING CASE AT MOONEE PONDS.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

An inquest concerning the terrible fatality at Moonee Ponds on Sunday night, the 28th October, when Kaleb Amos Kennett was shot in mistake for a trespasser by Lieutenant William Henry Main, was concluded to-day. A verdict of murder was returned. The foreman and another juryman disagreed with the verdict, for which they would have substituted one of manslaughter. The accused was committed for trial at the Criminal Court on the 15th instant. Bail was refused.

THE WOOL SALES.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

Two firms of selling brokers held wool sales to-day, offering 9261 bales, and selling 8276 bales, the number of lots amounting to about 1700. The selection was not a particularly good one, but the attendance of buyers was large, and competition was animated. Dalgety and Co., Limited, offered 5176 bales, of which 4344 were sold. Greasy sold up to 10½d. Crossbred sold up to 10d. for lambs and 8¾d. for fleece. Washed fleece realised up to 12¼d and scoured up to 14½d. The Australasian Mortgage Agency Company, Limited, offered 4085 bales, of which 3932 bales were sold. Greasy merino sold up to 9d and greasy crossbred up to 10¾d.

THE ATHLETIC TEAMS.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The representatives of the Amateur Athletic Associations of New South Wales and New Zealand who take part in the competitions on the Melbourne Cricket Ground on the 9th and 11th instant were entertained at the Town Hall this afternoon by the Mayor, who, in proposing the health of the teams, warmly commended the determination of the management to limit the prizes to trophies and to prohibit betting on the results.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The railway receipts for last week amounted to £61,931, as against £71,209 for the corresponding week of last year, being a decrease of £9278. The large decrease is explained by the fact that this year the Derby and Cup traffic is omitted from the return.

Adam Moss, alias Charles Coggins, appeared at the Police Court to-day on a charge of the theft of £2000 worth of diamond rings from T. M. Alcock's premises, Haymarket, Sydney. The accused was remanded for a week.

James Wilson, who was accidentally shot in the neck while being arrested on Saturday night, continues to recover, though the bullet has not been recovered. He has been identified as Patrick St. Laurence, alias John Sullivan, who was discharged from Darlinghurst Gaol on the 19th September last after having served three years for stealing. As soon as he recovers he will be charged with being illegally at large in this colony.

BRISBANE, Monday.

Mr. G. R. Burns, M.L.A., died suddenly on board the steamer Airlie last night on the voyage from Townsville through the breaking of a blood-vessel in the lungs. He was one of the most prominent men in the North, and was a member of the firm of Brand, Dryborough, and Burns, engineers and ironfounders. He was returned at the last general election as junior member for Townsville. He was 45 years of age, and leaves a widow and four children.

Archbishop Dunne has been confined to his bed for the past week from nervous prostration. His condition is causing some anxiety.

THURSDAY ISLAND, Saturday.

The s.s. Merkara is in port, and taking 320 cases of pearlshell for London.

Bishop Barlow is a passenger by her. He consecrated the Quetta Memorial Church on the 12th.

A Manilla diver, named Antonie Corpus, died a few days ago through working in deep water at Darnley Island, where the boats are still working, being unaware of the Government proclamation prohibiting diving there. He was working as a relieving diver from the lugger Zanco.

A fresh S.E. wind is blowing.

LAUNCESTON, Monday.

A large number of persons have applied for land grants under the Government village settlement scheme, but the applications cannot be entertained until the new Land Bill has received the Royal assent.

Sir Edward Braddon's friends have definitely decided to nominate him for the seat for West Devon.

The Launceston police have started a crusade against totali-ators. The present law, whilst prohibiting totalisators, provides no penalty. The police intend taking the cases to a higher court.

THE ANTI-ALIEN LABOUR MOVEMENT.

NARRAMINE, Monday.

A meeting was held on Saturday night, at the Royal Hotel, to deal with the alien labour question, which is becoming a pronounced nuisance in this district. Mr. W. O'Neil was chairman. He strongly protested against the inactivity of Parliament in dealing with a matter of such vital importance. Mr. E. D. Millen, the delegate from Bourke, spoke at length, chiefly regarding the social and industrial consequences of the Asiatic immigration. The meeting adopted motions asking the Government to introduce legislation at once, and authorising the chairman to sign a petition in its name.

DROWNED IN NARRABRI CREEK.

NARRABRI, Monday.

Walter Sargant was drowned to-night in Narrabri Creek. The deceased was groom to Dr. Henry, and went to bathe at the back of the doctor's residence. Dr. Henry shortly after also going for a bath, saw Sargant swimming, but on reaching the bank he had disappeared. The doctor plunged in with his boots on, but the depth of water prevented him from finding Sargant. Other assistance came, but three-quarters of an hour elapsed before the finding of the body in 12ft. of water. The deceased was a widower about 38 years of age, and leaves a daughter in England.

FORGERIES AT ALBURY.

ALBURY, Monday.

The police have information of several impudent forgeries. On Friday evening a man cashed a cheque for £15 5s, purporting to be signed by Mr. A. N. Mitchell, owner of The Olives station, with a local tradesman. The cheque was duly honoured by the Bank of Australasia, but inquiry elicited that it was a forgery. An attempt was made to negotiate a second cheque at the same establishment, but it was not accepted. Several other spurious cheques have also been negotiated and cashed at Albury. As a number of Mr. Mitchell's shearers' cheques are coming in now the operations of the forgers were facilitated. The forgery was only ascertained this afternoon, and as the men had several days' start their arrest is not expected. It is surmised that the men must have become possessed of a cheque of Mr. Mitchell's, and were guided by the signature, the imitation being clever enough to deceive the bank teller.

ALLEGED SERIOUS ASSAULT.

THREE MEN COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

FORBES, Monday.

At the police court this morning William Davis, Frank Moreland, and Herbert Ansley were charged with maliciously wounding a man named Lennon on Saturday last. It appears that Lennon had a dispute with Moreland at the Burrawong woolshed, where Moreland was a labourer and Lennon a shearer, and meeting him in town on Saturday afternoon last, Moreland, with his mates, assaulted Lennon. It was alleged that they knocked him down, and kicked him very severely about the head and body, and matters might have ended very seriously had not some persons standing near interfered. The accused Davis and Moreland, who came to Burrawang at the time of the rouseabouts' strike, pleaded guilty to the charge. Ansley is a local man, and against him the case was not so strong, he not having taken part in the kicking and battery. The name of the man who interfered and caused the accused to desist from their treatment of Lennon is Hector Greville, and the Bench eulogised him for his action. The three accused were committed for trial at the Forbes Quarter Sessions on the 5th December.

SUICIDE AT HAY.

HAY, Monday.

William Holliday, a baker, committed suicide early this morning by cutting his throat from ear to ear with an old razor. He had been strange all Sunday. He left home at 5 o'clock to look for a horse, and was found two hours afterwards in an insensible condition. He was taken to the hospital, and died 10 minutes afterwards. He had only been in business three months. Just after he started his bakehouse was destroyed by fire, causing him considerable loss. This, together with an attack of influenza, preyed upon his mind. An inquest was held, and a verdict of suicide while labouring under temporary insanity was returned. The deceased leaves a widow and young family.

THE ALBURY ELECTORATE.

ALBURY, Monday.

The Rev. W. Hessel Hall, formerly Wesleyan minister at Queanbeyan, formally announces himself as a candidate for Albury. He advocates freetrade, land value taxation, payment of members, mining on private property, and federation on a democratic basis. He says that Mr. G. H. Reid has promised to do all he can do to help his candidature, and to discourage any other candidate coming forward in the freetrade interest. Mr. Hall will have the warm support of the single-tax party, with whose cause he has for a long time been identified. He says he is still a Wesleyan minister, but will ask the conference to set him free from circuit work, so as to give him an opportunity of devoting his energies to political work.

THE VINE DISEASES ACT.

LIVERPOOL, Monday.

A large and influential meeting of vinegrowers was held at Mrs. Marsden's Commercial Hotel on Saturday evening last, Mr. F. E. Barker presiding. About 120 gentlemen were present, representing the vine-growing industry in Guildford, Fairfield, Canley Vale, Smithfield, Cabramatta, Liverpool, Hoxton Park, Moorbank, Glenfield, and Ingleburn. The report of the deputation appointed at a previous meeting to wait upon the Minister for Agriculture with regard to the Vine Diseases Act of 1893 was received, and it was generally conceded that the ultimate result of the deputation would be fruitful of much good in the interests of vinegrowers, and eventually secure the passing of an amended bill through Parliament. The selection of gentlemen to act on the board for the Cumberland district was then proceeded with, and the following gentlemen were nominated for the position—Messrs. F. E. Barker, H. F. Latham, H. J. King, T. W. Spring, and J. Backhaus. Alderman J. Asmus (Canley Vale) spoke at some length on the advisability of those present forming themselves into an association to watch and protect the interests of vinegrowers, and concluded with a motion to that effect, which was carried. A committee was appointed to devise rules and other requirements necessary for the working of the proposed association.

BALRANALD, Monday.

The Balranald Irrigation Act having become law, the council at a recent meeting framed regulations for selectors, and these have been forwarded for the Governor's approval. When confirmed the land will be thrown open for selection at once in farms of from five to 40 acres each.

Six deaths have already occurred from measles, and the disease is still very prevalent.

At the Euston boiling-down works, connected with Euston station, about 300 sheep per day are being put through. One flock averaged 25lb. of tallow per carcase, and the sheep from Paika are to be sent to Victoria to be frozen for export.

The crops are in a very bad state, and it is the intention of some selectors to turn sheep into them.

Just now the district is troubled with a plague of locusts, and the outlook for the summer is very gloomy.

The snagged barge Wyuna has been lightened, and the damaged wool taken to the woolscour.

BATHURST, Monday.

A public meeting in connection with the eight-hour demonstration was held at the Town Hall to-night. The annual report and balance-sheet were adopted. The balance-sheet showed a credit balance of £21 12s 6d. At the close of the meeting Mr. Powell, labour representative from Sydney, spoke in favour of a labour electoral league. A league was formed, and Mr. Shindlair was appointed delegate to the forthcoming conference, Mr. Hull being president.

Previous to leaving to join the headquarters of the 3rd Regiment at Richmond Sergeant-major Toovey was entertained at a farewell social on Saturday night in the Victoria Hall. A number of volunteers, ex-members of the force, and others were present. Captain Cassidy, of the Bathurst V.I., delivered a complimentary speech, in which he referred to Sergeant-major Toovey's services as an instructor to the force, and to the esteem in which he is held in the community. The captain was followed by Mr. G. H. Macdougal, Mr. D. Ferguson, and Lieutenant Hudson, each of whom testified to the valuable work done by the Sergeant-major in connection with the volunteers and cadets during his long residence in the district. Sergeant-major Toovey suitably replied. The rest of the evening was spent pleasantly in music. The Misses Toovey, who have been kind in assisting at public concerts, had been previously made the recipients of a handsome piece of plate at the hands of their friends.

BROKEN HILL, Monday.

A case of alleged bigamy was heard at the Police Court this morning. George Snell was charged on remand with having, on 27th July of this year, married Mary Kelly, his first wife, Mary Pate, whom he married in February, 1888, being then alive. Proof of marriage having been produced, the accused was committed for trial at the Quarter Sessions on 20th November. Bail was granted. Mary Kelly, the accused's second wife, was also committed for trial, for having married Snell knowing him to be already married and his first wife alive.

BOWRAL, Monday.

The thermometer registered 74 in the shade on Friday and 75 yesterday. To-day it is much cooler. Yesterday's heat was very unusual here for November. It is not often higher during summer. The weather is dry, and rain would do good.

CLIFTON, Monday.

Arrangements have been completed between the Southern Coal Owners' Association and the South Clifton Coal Company for the former to purchase the entire output at the mine for five years, the minimum quantity being fixed at 100,000 tons per annum.

Measles are still prevalent in this neighbourhood. One-third of the Public school children are laid up at present.

At Austinmer, where the union miners have been out on strike for some months resisting a reduction in the hewing rate of coal, and where the mine has been worked (in a small way) by some twenty free labourers, the latter have received notice that in future their services will no longer be required.

Intermittent work continues at this end of the district. South Clifton has only worked five days last fortnight, and Coalcliff three days. At the latter place there has not been a shipload of coal sent away during the last two weeks. At the southern end of the district, however, work was fairly brisk last week.

COLLARENDABRI, Monday.

A fire, which is supposed to be the work of an incendiary, occurred at Mr. Pearce's wool scour on Saturday morning, when about 120 bales of wool were burned, also two waggons and part of the plant. The damage is estimated at £1100. An inquest is to be held.

COOLAH, Monday.

Messrs. Sleath and Ferguson have held meetings at various places throughout this district in the interest of the Labour League. A number of men have become members, and their tour is considered a success. They are leaving for Mudgee.

DUBBO, Monday.

Measles are still prevalent.

The weather is very hot. The thermometer registered 93· in the shade yesterday.

FORBES, Monday.

The weather is warm and dry, and a change is anxiously looked for.

LAWSON, Monday.

At the monthly meeting of the Lawson Progress Committee, Mr. Geggie in the chair, the correspondence was read from the Department of Public Instruction, stating that as a result of the request that a teacher's residence be erected at Lawson the Minister has decided to grant a rent allowance from the 1st instant instead.

Mrs. Watt, storekeeper at Haz'ebrook, was bitten by a snake and lay unconscious for several hours, but under the treatment of Dr. Moore, of Lawson, she is now out of danger.

The late rains have done much good locally. The weather is charming.

LISMORE, Monday.

The Quarter Sessions were opened to-day, Judge Coffey presiding. Mr. Browning was Crown Prosecutor. In the case of a man named J. George, alias Egeson, who was committed by the Casino Bench to the Grafton Circuit Court for false pretences, out on bail, he was not called at that court, and the trial being ordered to the Lismore Quarter Sessions, the accused did not answer to-day when called. Application was made to estreat his bail; but it transpired that although the bondsmen had been served with a notice of the change of place of trial, there was no proof that the accused had received such notice. His Honor declined to make an order to estreat the bail, and in like manner refused to order a warrant for the apprehension of the accused. He said the proper course would be to obtain a warrant through a justice of the peace. A case wherein the accused parties are indicted with disposing of certain stock held under a stock mortgage by the bank has occupied the Court the whole day, and is still unfinished.

LIVERPOOL, Monday.

A public meeting was held at the Royal Hotel on Saturday evening for the purpose of forming a branch of the Canterbury Labour Electoral League. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. T. Bavister, M.L.A., Jackson, Acton, and Deane. The result of the meeting was that an effort is to be made to re-establish the local league. Mr. W. E. Leroyd (secretary of the old league) consented to act as a delegate to the conference to be held in Sydney on the 9th instant.

LITHGOW, Monday.

A meeting of the local branch of the Labour Electoral League was held on Friday night to consider the representation of the branch at the coming conference in Sydney. It was decided, after discussion, to be represented by proxy, Mr. Bavister, M.L.A., being elected as the proxy. Resolutions for the conference were read, and members decided to leave the final arrangements of the same to the district representatives. It was also decided to invite Messrs. Bavister, Fitzgerald, and Black, Ms.L.A., to speak at the next meeting. Mr. S. Penus was then elected secretary of the branch. Mr. Powell, delegate from the Central Labour Electoral League, spoke here at open-air meetings on Saturday night and yesterday afternoon.

MACLEAN, Monday.

A six-year-old daughter of Mr. George Martine was drowned at Harwood on Thursday. The body was recovered on Saturday. She is supposed to have accidentally slipped into the river.

The next Maclean show has been fixed for the 4th and 5th April.

An effort is being made to get a team of Sydney cricketers to visit the Clarence during the Christmas holidays.

The crops look splendid after the late refreshing showers.

The new Roman Catholic Church here will be opened on Sunday next by Bishop Doyle.

The police who have been appointed collectors for the new electoral rolls complain that they have no distinct guide whereby to define the boundaries of their respective divisions, and anticipate trouble in getting the names of persons living close to the boundaries on correct lists.

The Harwood mill has almost completed the season's crushings. Some of the smaller mills expect to be kept going till the end of the year.

MOUNT VICTORIA, Monday.

A meeting initiated by the Wentworth Falls Progressive Committee was held at Manuel's Hotel, Wentworth Falls, on Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of forming a Mountains Progress Committee League. All the members of the Falls committee were present, also three delegates from Mount Victoria and two from Lawson. Blackheath and Springwood had also been invited, and had sent communications. The league was established and named The Mountains Delegate Committee. It was decided that Katoomba should be invited to join in sending delegates to the league.

MOSS VALE, Monday.

The returns at the Moss Vale railway station for October show that the total revenue was £789, which is a slight decrease as compared with the corresponding month of last year.

ORANGE, Monday.

The ceremony of laying the foundation-stone of the new school connected with St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church took place yesterday afternoon. The Very Rev. Father M'Carthy preached in the church, after which a procession was formed of societies connected with the church, and marched to the site of the new school, where the stone was laid by the Right Rev. Dr. Byrne, Bishop of Bathurst. After the stone was laid Mr. Thomas Dalton, M.L.C., placed a cheque for £100 in the hands of the Bishop. A cheque for £50 was also received from Mr. James Dalton. Other subscriptions were received, totalling £555. Mr. Thomas Dalton spoke at some length. He stated that the great expense of the State schools was commencing to cause dissatisfaction. He claimed that the attendance was greater proportionately in the Roman Catholic than in the State schools. He referred to the success of the scholars of the Marist Brothers' schools in the University examinations. Mr. Torpy, M.L.A., also spoke. When the school has been completed a new presbytery is to be started, to which Mr. Thomas Dalton has promised £100.

The Wesleyan Sunday-school anniversary was held yesterday. The services were conducted by the Rev. C. E. James, of Bathurst.

The weather has been very hot during the past few days. Diphtheria is said to be prevalent. Several cases of sickness from this complaint are reported.

PAMBULA, Monday.

Several whales have been seen very close to the coast here during the last few days.

PARKES, Monday.

The annual flower show in connection with St. George's Church closed last Thursday. A large marquee was obtained from Sydney, as no hall in the town was of sufficient size for the purpose, and the committee were amply repaid for the extra expense and labour. The exhibits of pot plants and cut flowers were excellent, but the most striking feature of the show was the wild flower stall, which excited praise and admiration. Over £30 was distributed in prizes, while the proceeds amounted to £128 16s 8d. The show was opened and closed by the Rev. F. G. Neild, R.D., the incumbent.

SPRINGWOOD, Monday.

The newspaper train this morning was 2¼ hours late in arriving, owing to the engine breaking down between here and Glenbrook. The train was taken back to Glenbrook to clear the road, and the morning passenger train to Sydney was delayed an hour in consequence.

TRUNKEY, Monday.

The total rainfall for October as recorded here was 196 points. The late heavy winds have had a bad effect on the crops and other vegetation. On Saturday last 57 points of rain fell, doing great good for a few days, when the winds again arose. Clouds of dust may be seen now everywhere.

Farmers are beginning to feel anxious; the prospects are far from encouraging.

Shearing operations have begun in this locality. The losses of sheep during the year seem above the average. I am informed that all old sheep have disappeared. The lambing has not been up to expectation. The clip of wool appears to be far above that of last year in quality.

There are a great many men looking for work as shearers. All the boards are full. Upwards of 50 men have called here during the week inquiring for sheds, but have had to pass on.

The police are busy collecting the electoral lists.

WAGGA, Monday.

A demonstration was held yesterday by the Friendly Societies in aid of the hospital. The societies mustered in force, and marched in procession from the bridge to the Newtown Gardens, where an excellent programme of music was given by the town band. There was a large attendance of the public at the gardens, and a considerable sum was realised by collection at the gates.

WENTWORTH, Monday.

Operations are proceeding satisfactorily for the recovery of the wool lost through the sinking of the barge Venus a few days ago. The barge was being towed down stream behind the steamer Jupiter, and when a few miles above Para station she struck a sunken stump, and quickly sank. There were over 600 bales of Callara and Gidgee wool on board, which was insured. Up to last Friday over 40,000 bales of wool, the greater portion of which went to South Australia, and the remainder to Echuca, have passed through Wentworth during the season, which is by far the best for many years.

The farmers in the vicinity of Tareena are busily engaged in reaping and binding. The crops are good considering the late dry weather. Mr. Thomas, a South Australian expert, who visited Wentworth recently, describes the land as particularly good for wheat-growing.

Bush fires have been prevalent lately. In all probability a good portion of the grass will be burnt off this summer. The heat is daily increasing. To-day it registered 92· in the shade.

WEST MAITLAND, Monday.

The anniversary services of the Wesleyan Sunday School were held yesterday. The Rev. T. Duesbury preached to large congregations. The church was handsomely decorated, and there was special singing by the children. A public meeting was held to-night to receive the report of the school work. There was a good gathering.

WOLLONGONG, Monday.

The 14 days' mission services conducted by the Franciscan Fathers Kennedy and Birch, at St. Francis Xavier's Church, were brought to a conclusion yesterday. The church was crowded at all the services. During the fortnight there have been over 700 communicants. It was announced yesterday that on the 3rd December there will be an adoration service at St. Francis Xavier's, and in all probability confirmation will be administered on the same date by Bishop Higgins.

YOUNG, Monday.

Mr. Campbell, who has been for four years stationmaster here, was entertained on Friday night on his transference to St. Peters. An address and a purse of sovereigns were presented by the Mayor on behalf of the residents.

Up to Thursday 4824 bales of wool had been despatched from here. On that day four teams delivered between them 228 bales of wool.

The harvest promises to be the best ever seen, not only in bulk but in quality. Owing to the heavy rains in the early part of the year the prospects of the wheat harvest are very bad. In many cases the farmers are turning their stock into the crop.

The weather is very hot. Rain is much wanted for the crops.

SEIZURE OF THE NEW SOUTH WALES MINERAL EXHIBITS.

ACTION BY THE PREMIER.

In yesterday's issue we published a telegram from our correspondent, stating that the Sheriff of Cook's County, State of Illinois, U.S.A., had seized the collection of mineral exhibits belonging to the New South Wales Government at the Chicago World's Fair as security for 50,000dol., being the amount of damages claimed in an action entered by Sells Brothers, of Sells' Circus, against the New South Wales Government as damages for having quarantined their horses. The Premier yesterday received the following telegram from Dr. Renwick, Executive Commissioner at the Chicago Exhibition:—"Sells Brothers have entered an action against the New South Wales Government for losses in New South Wales. They claim 50,000dol. Sheriff has seized gold specimens as security. British Consul is assisting me."

Mr. Slattery, the Minister for Mines, is now on a trip to Melbourne, and during his absence Mr. Kidd, Postmaster-General, is acting. Mr. Kidd states that he made inquiries yesterday from Mr. Harrie Wood, the Under-Secretary of the Department, and from the officers in the stock branch, with reference to the quarantining of the circus horses. The Minister learned that, at the time, no complaint whatever was made by Messrs. Sells Brothers. On the other hand, the proprietors of the circus expressed thanks for the considerate manner in which they were treated. The disease which broke out amongst the horses, viz., glanders, was a serious one, and it was recognised by Messrs. Sells Brothers that they might have been put to much more trouble and inconvenience than they were. The department, however, showed them as much consideration as possible, and did everything that could be done under the circumstances to save the circus proprietors from loss or inconvenience. No action was threatened by Messrs. Sells Brothers before they left for America. Indeed, the cable news in the Herald was the first that the department knew of the matter, and they were completely taken by surprise. Mr. Kidd stated that in his opinion the action was not intended to be a bona fide one, but was merely one to advertise the circus. Mr. Kidd did not think that the Government would be likely to hear anything more on the matter, and had no doubt that the exhibits would be liberated in due course.

The Premier last night stated that it was his intention to send a telegram to the Agent-General asking Sir Saul Samuel to place himself in communication with the Secretary of State for the Colonies. He should also ask the Governor to send a telegram requesting diplomatic interference with regard to it. Upon being asked for his own opinion on the subject, the Premier stated: "We went to Chicago as guests of the American Republic, and we expect protection for our exhibits against any action—or any wrong—committed by one of their citizens." On the subject generally Sir George Dibbs stated that the action here was taken under our quarantine law, and certainly no suit against this Government could be begun in America. "Had we enforced the law," remarked the Premier, "we should have put Messrs. Sells Brothers to no end of inconvenience; but instead of that we quarantined their horses at Moore Park. They made money here; and this is the way we are treated in return." However, Sir George Dibbs thought that eventually the whole matter would be put right.

MANLY DEBATING SOCIETY.

ADDRESS BY MR. JAMES INGLIS, M.L.A.

An address was given last night by Mr. James Inglis, M.L.A., entitled "A Talk About Land Tenures," under the auspices of the Manly Debating Society, in the local Oddfellows' Hall, Raglan-street. There was a good attendance of ladies and gentlemen. Mr. F. Kirkpatrick (president of the society) occupied the chair.

Mr. Inglis said the importance of the subject on which he purposed speaking could not be overestimated. It behoved all, young and old, to encourage and support the divine faculty of seeking information, and he was glad that this faculty was characteristic of the best of the young men of Australia. It was important to every city that they should take a direct interest in a correct settlement of the land question. Reference was made to the laws and regulations of primitive times, when each tribe had an accurately defined portion of land assigned to it. There were then village communities, village settlement or selection after survey was in vogue, of a primitive kind, no doubt, but free from indiscriminate free selection. After addressing himself to the land customs found related in the sacred writings, Mr. Inglis said it was little wonder that the people of Britain became averse to kings, princes, prelates, and barons monopolising land, and in no less measure were the people of Australia averse to the land going into the hands of grasping monopolists. After a brief résumé of the ancient land laws of Britain, Mr. Inglis referred to the mistakes made in the regulations of the land questions. He (Mr. Inglis) was not by any means a singletaxer, but—and they would pardon him for saying it—in 1879, long before Mr. Henry George was heard of in Australia, he had written a book advocating a land tax, to do away with the monopoly of land which compelled the workers on land to go far into the interior to cultivate the land, from whence the transit of his products was so expensive that production did not pay him. (Cheers.) He instanced the evil of permanent settlement in India, which ground down the poor miserable Bengal tenants while the landed aristocracy lived on the fat of the land. The people have it in their own hands to regulate the use and sale of land if they please. Past land legislation is one record of grim blunders. To exclude people and multiply sheep has been the rule here; but the squatters were not to blame. They, although great pioneers, showing true British fortitude, had suffered greatly, and they had his sympathy. (Cheers.) There should be periodical reassessment) or modification of the betterment system; land classification according to quality. Three or four times more land than is wanted should be ready for settlement. A man's holding, great or small, should be properly fenced and marked off, so that a new comer would know were to begin.

The Rev. R. S. Willis proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the lecturer, which was carried with acclamation.

AMUSEMENTS.

ITALIAN OPERA—"I PAGLIACCI."

"I Pagliacci" was revealed at the Lyceum Theatre last night as an opera of contrasts, and this is the source and secret of its strength. These contrasts are not rudely enforced, for they have been contrived by a master hand; but for all that they exist. Thus music that now surges with passionate vitality, and anon flows on in stately grace, has been united with a story in which Death tramples underfoot the innocent gaiety of a rustic festival. It might be thought that some special preparation was needed to place the public mind here in a condition fully receptive for such an advanced work. Leoncavallo's music is essentially modern, and the entire treatment of the libretto is away from anything with which our audiences are acquainted. For this reason no greater testimony to the musical taste of the community could have been given than the instant and enthusiastic appreciation of the new work displayed last night. "I Pagliacci" is emphatically a work that must be heard more than once—which is, after all, only another way of stating that it is fine music. Yet the crowded house followed the musical drama with intense interest, applauded the singers to the echo on the few occasions presented by any kind of pause in the continuous action of the opera, and at the close of the work called forward the principals and the conductor, not once but four or five times. In fact, without disclosing any great singer, the cast was highly effective; the orchestra, conducted by Signor Guerrera, played splendidly, and the representation was in every respect worthy of an important occasion. No small debt of gratitude is owing Messrs. Williamson and Musgrove from our opera-goers for thus putting them in touch with the advanced Italian school, at the head of which the aged Verdi still stands by virtue of his later works, with Leoncavallo, and perhaps Mascagni, to uphold the highest traditions of the Land of Song.

In "I Pagliacci" Leoncavallo has been his own librettist. It has been said that "Mirth cannot move the soul like grief"—hence the composer chose tragedy and pathos for his first great work. He found these qualities in a romance by Paul Ferrier entitled "Le Tabarin" (Pierrot), the story of which he employed in "Pagliacci." We have described the opera as full of contrasts. This keynote of the scheme, is struck at once in the daring originality of Tonio's speech at the footlights before the curtain rises. The idea is so old as to be classic, yet this classic prologue is the foundation of a story entirely of to-day in its pitiless force and realism. The moral atmosphere of the fable at the close is, in fact, almost as murky as that which envelopes Darmont's "Pauline Blanchard," and for Australian audiences it has the same interest of strong local colouring. Pauline's tragic life amidst the wheat fields and vineyards of Burgundy—Nedda's bitter end amidst the rustic merry-makers of a remote Calabrian village. In both dramas the audience is placed in the very heart of the places and people depicted. Then, too, the composer has mated Nedda's somewhat shallow and pleasure-loving nature with the deep and darkly passionate temperament of Canio, with his boundless capacity for suffering; and in the same way the bright gaiety of the music play is ever throwing its brilliant light where the swift shadow of the tragedy comes and goes, until at last it swallows all in settled gloom. Then the black curtain falls, and . . . "la commedia è finita."

This story moves very quickly, borne along upon some of the most emotional strains of music that were ever conceived. Leoncavallo in this, as in every other respect, is purely Italian, and modern in his style. Every composer must now indirectly profit by the influence of Wagner's genius upon the public taste. But Leoncavallo has borrowed nothing from the German composer, and, indeed, he owes little to anyone unless to Verdi. In that case, however, he has not felt the sway of the Verdi of "I Lombardi" and "Trovatore," but of the Verdi of "Otello and "Falstaffe." Some day, encouraged by the reputation they have now acquired for artistic enterprise of the highest kind, Messrs. Williamson and Musgrove may produce these late fruits from a royal stem. Till then it is only possible to point out that Leoncavallo has avoided the set solo at the footlights of old Italian opera, adhering to the modern scena of musical dialogue—and that this is, from the published accounts, a characteristic of "Falstaff." Nedda's ballatella in the first act of "Pagliacci" is, indeed, almost the only set song apart from the immediate action of the quickening story in the entire opera. As to the general style, if in such a story as "I Pagliacci" it is chiefly remarkable for its extraordinary dramatic power, yet in the sweet and simple grace of the music allotted the village play proper—the serenade of the Harlequin, the stately minuet of the orchestra, with the fascinating dance-movement which accompanies the comedy-dialogue—the melodic invention of a master is displayed. Without speaking positively at a first hearing, it almost seems as if the composer playfully dropped into the flowing melody of old-fashioned opera whilst Columbine and Harlequin are sporting together; hence one of his most striking contrasts when Pagliaccio demands of his guilty wife her lover's name, whilst she, in her character of Columbine, takes up the old vein of melody, and timidly reminds the heart-broken man that "they are only in play."

This scene of a "play within a play" is cleverly managed at the Lyceum. The villagers who form the audience occupy one side of the stage, which they only half face; the other side is occupied by the mountebanks' booth, with a well-lighted interior showing the humble home of the Columbine. Opera-goers should note that the change from jest to deadly earnest is rendered possible by the well-known fact that in the outlying Italian villages the travelling troupes invent their dialogue as they go on, keeping only to the pre-arranged outline of some favourite comedy. Thus it is that when Canio breaks all bounds and at last plunges his knife in Nedda's heart, none are ready to interfere. Silvio, too, is killed; and as Canio sinks into a chair by the side of the little table, the phrase of music first heard when Tonio, the arch-plotter, was rejected, strikes the ear again with fateful significance. Apart from this incident, Leoncavallo appears to have used the motif method of Wagner most sparingly.

Signor Fiorella Giraud, the new tenor, was certainly at his best in this last scene. Expectation in his case had been raised so high by rumour that the artist made no great impression in the opening aria. His acting was, however, so forcible that he won a legitimate artistic success before the evening waned, and though we must decline to place the new-comer at the top of the list of operatic tenors who have appeared on the Australian stage, yet he may be welcomed as an artist peculiarly well fitted to such a dramatic rôle as that of Canio. The voice is of good quality and of fair power, and was expressively used in the closing aria "Vesti la giubba." "Go hide with laughter thy tears and thy sorrow; laugh, mountebank, laugh," is the bitter cry of Canio, in this melting aria. Signor Giraud, both in voice and manner, showed the poignant anguish of this situation; and as he staggered behind the little curtain to play his part, the clever melodramatic exit made a deep impression. However, the pathos of the mountebank's position lies in the circumstance that from the beginning he sees that Tonio means to force him to play the rôle of a husband deceived like himself; and Signor Giraud in this touching scene shows how Canio feels the innocent laughter of the crowd like a whip. His finest moment was when, the murders achieved, he stared vacantly before him, and with delirious look and exhausted voice whispered "La commedia è finita." The music here was very fine, and the tenor acquitted himself especially well in the beautiful air beginning "Sperai, tanto il delirio." The new cast is strong in the possession of such a baritone as Signor Guglielmo Caruson, a good actor and a fine singer, who may be accepted without reserve as an admirable Tonio. He declaimed the prologue with distinctness, sang with tender force the love air in the declaration to Nedda, and joined with her in the ingenious duet in which his passion and the scornful lightness of her reply are so wondrously interwoven by the composer. Signor Caruson, who has a baritone of great resonance, also showed well the sullen malice of this "Iago in motley" of the plot.

Signorina Del Torre, who has an agreeable stage presence, showed experience as an actress in the part of Nedda. We cannot agree in any way with those of the London critics who described the Ballatella as conventional. Nothing could have been more strikingly skilful than the orchestral devices by which the whirr of wings and the sound of distant song was suggested as Nedda mused upon the birds that flew so freely overhead. Signorina del Torre, who has a soprano voice of ample power, very resonant, and well produced in the upper register, though occasionally unequal in the lower, sang the ballatella with sentiment, and the shakes were tunefully executed. Signor Ciro Frasca's strong tenor voice was pleasantly used (as Beppe) in the Harlequin's Serenade, with its piquant accompaniment pizzicato, and with flutes gambolling together, in the Spanish style. Signor Mario Roussell, a baritone, who sang the part of Silvio, made a good impression in the fine duet with Nedda, where the Southern intensity of the music was made apparent. Certainly as pleasing a feature as any in the performance was the fine rendering of the all-important orchestral part by the strong band under Signor Guerrera's direction. A great deal of delicacy was shown, noticeably in the "Bird Song," in the Intermezzo, and in the undertones of the gay music of the comedy; the strings were strong and accurate, and the harp, to which Leoncavallo resorts so frequently, was in its place. The choruses, which are short and vivacious, were gaily rendered. Mr. Walter Raynham managed the stage, both in opera and ballet, to the advantage of the ensemble.

The Turquoisette Ballet was the occasion for a magnificent set by Mr. George Gordon, showing, presumably, the hall of a Moorish palace. This interior was exquisitely tinted in harmonious shades of blue, with a fine perspective of apparently illimitable gallery at the back. More than a hundred dancers arrayed in light or in dark blue costumes filled the stage, and more than one fine tableau was devised. Mr. Lovell Phillips, whose return was cordially recognised by the house, conducted the orchestra. Both the new dancers were warmly received. Signorina d'Argo appeared to the classic sweetness of familiar strains by Mozart, and was encored for her first pas seul. The handsome danseuse showed that complete command of every limb which gives grace to the difficult feats of the classic ballet. Mdlle. Bartho, an artiste of noble form and beauty, possesses a finished style with pretty gestures which appealed directly to the audience; and here, too, there was an encore after the danseuse had crossed the stage [illegible] with the heel of [illegible] her. A number of pretty girls had been engaged, and the Turquoisette Ballet was generally appreciated.

An entertainment in aid of the widow of Colour-sergeant D. Gee (a famous rifleman) was held last night in the Paddington Town Hall, under the patronage of Major-General Hutton and staff, Colonels Farrell and Waddell, the officers of the Volunteer Forces, the New South Wales Rifle Association, and the Sydney Rifle Club. Sub-Lieutenant A. F. Stephens, Naval Artillery Volunteers, was the chairman; Colour-sergeant Cooke, 1st Regiment, the honorary treasurer; Mr. W. Turner, honorary secretary; and Mr. P. M'Cormick, honorary musical director. There were present—Lieutenant and Quartermaster Strong, 1st Regiment; Captain M'Coy and Lieutenant M'Credie, Public School Cadets; Warrant-officers Muckleston and Beauman, Colour-sergeant Marshall, and many other non-commissioned officers, members of the Rifle Association, and other representatives. Miss Louise Herbert acted as accompanist. One of the most attractive features was the exhibition of physical drill by members of the Redfern Public School Cadets. The 1st Regiment Band, under the baton of Band Sergeant Mellor, played "The Fair Maid of Perth" and "Trafalgar." Miss Ethel Searle was encored for the pretty ballad "Dear Heart" (T. Mattei). Mr. A. Edwards's rendering of "The King's Champion" and "The Gallants of England," were exceedingly well received. Mrs. Nellie Allpress, Mrs. Zeech, Misses Jessie Gilchrist, Maxwell, and Messrs. M. Fitzgerald, F. J. Bewley, F. Dick, C. H. Law, and J. Scoon (cornet solo), contributed to the enjoyment of the evening.

The St. Andrew's Cathedral Young Men's Institute celebrated its eighth anniversary on Thursday last, the Rev. R. J. Read presiding. The attendance was large, the schoolroom being filled to overflowing by an audience which frequently testified its approval of the entertainment. Miss Maud A. Stedman was successful in two pianoforte selections from "Norma" and "Il Trovatore." Miss M. Robertson, who sang "In Sweet September," and "Whisper and I shall Hear," and Miss E. Murray, "I Cannot Sing the Old Songs" and "Who's at my Window," were well received. Messrs. A. J. Searl, who sang "Queen of the Earth" and "Good Night Beloved," and S. A. Noble "The King's Minstrel" and "The Mighty Deep," were each encored. After an intermission, during which refreshments were handed around, a comedy, "Six Months Ago," was performed by Mr. B. J. Franklin as Edwin, Miss A. M. Lloyd as Angelina, and Mr. F. J. Marshall as Jack Deeds. The interpretation was good, the play being enthusiastically received.

MINING ON PRIVATE LANDS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Another bill is now waiting discussion in the House on the above subject; hence a few remarks by an old gold-miner may not be out of place.

I have possessed myself of a copy of the measure, and, after perusal, I find it, from a gold-miners' standpoint, fully as awkward, clumsy, and unworkable as its predecessor. It is, from beginning to end, fraught with a mass of useless verbiage and absurdities. Its provisions, more particularly in parts I. and II. are, to the bona-fide miner, unworkable, from the fact that the bills teems with rents, tributes, royalties, fees, and demands upon the miner's purse ere he can get a footing on the coveted ground. Now, why all this worse than useless rigmarole of sections and sub-sections, together with the expense, in order to enable one to get one's own? That it belongs to Government—the community—has been decided as against the landowner, i.e., he, the owner, has no right whatever to the minerals. Then why should the miner pay and the owner claim a tribute for that which belongs as much to the miner as to any other member of the community, and, by the same reasoning, to the landowner as well, but he has no special right, only that of a member of the community? Then, I ask again, what right, either commercially or morally, has he to a tribute on that which he neither owns nor ever produced?

Clauses 26 and 27 deals with companies (no liability, I suppose) together with the pains and penalties attaching to falsification of books, returns of gold, &c., which, by the way, has nothing to do with gold miners, but sub-section A (clause 27) claims a royalty to the Crown. I shall ask why a 2½ per cent. royalty on private lands when such is not claimed on Crown lands? Is the private land gold any more precious, or will it assay a greater degree of fineness than gold obtained on the adjoining Crown lands? If not, why this extortion, solely because of a wire fence intervening? Sub-section B deals with the tribute to the landowner, of which I have already written. Sub-section E is as amusing as it is absurd. Human nature is pretty much the same the civilised world over. Some men, particularly landowners, are wondrous kind! Ironically speaking, they "would be willing" no doubt to forego a source of income or "accept a lower tribute." Oh, yes, they're built that way! One would be inclined to think that the framer of the bill now under consideration was never a gold-miner, as the word "miner" or "claim" does not occur anywhere in the bill. He must surely be ashamed of his former calling from the fact of substituting "leases of not less than one acre" instead of "claims." Does he not know—does the public not know that "claims" developed the colony and brought it to a state of importance among the peoples of the world; such it would never have experienced only for the "claims." On the other hand, what have "leases" done? Why, locked the country up, and our goldfields are in a state of stagnation owing to the leases and their concomitant system of doing nothing. Then why continue them on private land?

However, after perusing the major portion of the bill, from the glossary, Part I., I come to Part III., the first few lines of which showed a rift in the cloud of obscurity that hangs over the other "parts." I see that a "person" (not a "miner," the word is tabooed), the holder of a miner's right may be "granted the privilege of prospecting." The words "person," "miner' right," and "prospecting," were all except the first to me familiar words, and I thought to myself "our friend, the Minister, is going to give us a show after all; but clause 35 knocked the "go" out of me. As it (the clause) is composed of "owner," "warden," "assessor," "damages to be paid," "stipulations," "operations," "power to enforce," &c., &c., ad nauseam, until the "prospector" is compelled (clause 36), in the event of a discovery, to apply for a "lease," as if a reef could not be held as a "claim" as well as alluvial.

True, I am writing from a "claim" miner's ideas, derived from many years of hard toil, who has witnessed the great good, so far as prosperity and development of the country go, i.e., in the building of thriving and prosperous towns and settlement on the land of hundreds of happy families, erection of schools, churches, post and telegraph offices, &c. &c., all of which tend to a higher state of civilisation and enlightenment; but of the "leases," just the reverse—then why advocate their continuance on private lands? They have ruined the Crown lands gold-mining industry; their effects are visible all over the colony; then I ask again, why continue them on the private land? As the whole bill is bristling with leases and monopoly it is to be hoped, in the interests of the mining community, it will meet with the fate of its predecessor of last session, not but that we require a measure that will allow us to unearth the great amount of wealth that is now lying dormant, but, in the name of all that is reasonable, let us have a measure that will tend to the development of the hidden wealth—a measure that will tend to its dissemination among the thousands who are now clamouring for employment—instead of the measure now before Parliament, the whole tenor of which is for conservatism and monopoly.

The gentleman who furnished me with a copy of the bill asked me to criticise, amend, and return it. I think I shall do so, but my criticisms will be the pen run diagonally each way across every page. I do not pose as an instructor to any member of the collective wisdom of the colony, but I hope every member who reads the remarks, I may say truths, I have stated, will be found voting with the "nays" on every clause. But, say some, why not amend it? As well ask a cooper to repair a cask when only the bunghole is left. The amendments would destroy the original. Better destroy it and start afresh.

Thanking you for past favours, and in anticipation of this,

I am, &c., J. H. LEWIS.

THE STATE AND ITS DUTIES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I notice in your issue of the 3rd instant that a petition has been received by the municipal council of Granville requesting that the Mayor call a public meeting to consider the question of local scarcity of labour employment, with the view to "urge upon the Government such remedial measures as will aid the development of industrial enterprise, and open up avenues for the remunerative employment of labour." That this movement is an electioneering one is beyond the region of doubt. But apart from that point, on what principle of administrative justice is the Government, in cases of social distress arising from lack of employment, expected to provide relief? If it is right, if it is consistent with the Constitution that the Government of the State should, in emergencies of this kind, come to the aid of labour, it also must be its duty to, in special cases, come to capital's aid. If the man who lives by his labour is, when private sources for its application fail, justified in approaching the Government for succour, then I, who live by my business, also would be justified in demanding of the Government that the State should purchase my goods, and at a price which would pay me, if trade conditions were such as to render their sale in the open market remuneratively impossible. Unfortunately, as well for this country generally as for its wage-earners, it has got to be too much the fashion, alike with individuals and corporations, to rely on State support for their respective wellbeing. It is, however, gratifying to know that Sir George Dibbs is now alive to this fact, and that he is resolved, as far as may be, to check its future growth. Sir George's late definite refusal of the Friendly Societies' deputation to incur to the State the expense of drafting an amending Friendly Societies Act, on the score that "he was going to take Government out of the position of being a sort of big pauper institution," will, it is to be hoped, have a salutary effect, for there are certain classes of the people who, while they can sponge on the Government, will prefer to live by that means rather than engage in the legitimately constituted avenues of employment. It is, of course, quite natural that aspirants to the lucrative office of a Parliamentary seat should court popularity; but, when this is done, or attempted to be done, at the expense of the general taxpayer, it forthwith becomes the duty of Government to administer a check to personal ambition.

OUR NEW GUINEA LETTER.

PORT MORESBY, OCT. 12.

Our mail boat the Myrtle was due here on the 29th August according to time-table. She arrived on the 5th October! In mail arrangements we are worse off now than at any time during the last 10 years. There is a delightful uncertainty about getting and receiving letters which is detrimental to all correspondence. It is more than two months since my last news letter. The schooner Resolute, which was then away on a cruise to the east, returned on 18th August. One object of her voyage was to get labour for several settlers here who could not get it locally. Twenty-one boys were recruited by Mr. Gous, manager of Burns, Philp, and Co.'s business here. They were farmed out to three or four employers. The agreement with them had to be signed before a magistrate at Samarai, and the names of their several employers entered on agreement. Then they have to be returned by shipper at the expiration of the 12 months, for which term alone they can be engaged. They must be paid off before a magistrate, and during their time of service they have full opportunity to make known any complaint or grievance. There is as much difficulty as ever in getting native labour for continuous work. In this district natives are too busy with their own gardens and affairs to heed the white man and his wants. Not until artificial wants have been created which only the white man can supply will they be at all eager or even willing to give their services to him.

The native fleet has just left on their annual trading expedition to the west. This involves a great deal of work for both men and women, and follows sharp upon the fencing and planting of their new gardens. Since May last the natives here have been examples of industry to their more civilised white brethren.

We were startled the other day by a report that a small village inland, about 12 miles from here, had been completely wiped out by a mountain tribe. The story proved to be only too true. A small village called Kava, on the inland side of the Laroge River, contained the remnant of several villages large and populous 20 years ago. Almost all the men were away at a dance in a distant village, when about noon the noise of a coming party was heard. The women supposed it was the dancers returning, but were soon undeceived, as with a terrible shout a troop of warriors from Varigadi rushed in upon them. In a few minutes all was over and the houses in flames. Fourteen were killed and only three of them men. Women and children were ruthlessly killed beside their cooking pots, while some were left in the houses and afterwards burnt. The site of the massacre two days after presented a horrible sight, bodies unburied half eaten by wild dogs and pigs, while some were charred and half-burnt. A few escaped, and came down to a coast village, but none could return to get their yams or bury their dead. The tribe that perpetrated this outrage have always been troublesome. The Government has not been able to do much with those wild mountain tribes. They live in strongholds whence they can see any approaching party, and no system of telegraphy is more rapid and certain than their signals by which they know of the approach of any hostile travellers. Just now the Commandant and police force are away with the Administrator, and so the Government has adopted the wise course of waiting until they can send a sufficient force to ensure success in punishing the perpetrators of the outrage.

The new Government ketch, the Lokohu (Bird of Paradise), arrived here from Cooktown on the 27th August. She justifies her name in appearance, sails well, and is about 20 tons register. The Hon. F. E. Lawes, the resident magistrate of this district, for whose service she has been built, is now away in her on a magisterial tour in the eastern part of his district. The Merrie England is still in the Samarai district. We have not seen her at Port Moresby for more than two months. Sir William Macgregor has been three months away from his residence here.

From the west comes news of Mr. Chalmers, who is making good use of the steam launch Miro in the Fly River. He has been joined by a young missionary, the Rev. J. H. Holmes, who arrived at Thursday Island from England on the 5th August.

PILOTAGE CHARGES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—As economy is the order of the day, there is still another means of saving a considerable amount of money that is now lost to the country. The said saving would not hurt anyone. I allude to the pilotage charges in New South Wales waters. Speaking from my own experience of pilotage charges over a considerable portion of the harbours of the world, I may say that New South Wales is one of if not the highest in any country I have sailed to.

You have trading from foreign ports to N.S.W. waters steamers up to 4000 tons net register, 3000 is now getting common, and of which tonnage you have had as many as four in your port lately. Taking a vessel of 3000 tons net register, entering and clearing out of this port, her pilotage, exclusive of removals, would be £100; and should she, as is the regular thing now, have to go to Newcastle for wool, returning to Sydney to fill up, she would pay in pilotage alone the sum of £300 before finally clearing out from here.

Now, Sir, do you wonder that masters of the regular lines of cargo steamers trading to New South Wales ports are, in these times of low freights, compelled to obtain their certificates, exemption, for your ports? That, however, is not the worst. The latest is for large vessels, sailer as well as steamer, to engage an ex-master, to place his name on the ship's register, enter and clear in all the New South Wales ports, and be written off in the first port the vessel touches outside this colony, thus saving the owners from £100 to £250, but cheating the colony at the same time.

The profits on the pilotage at Newcastle alone exceeds £6000 yearly, proving that charges are too high. (In 1890-91 the profits came to over £14,000.) Why cannot the authorities do away with exemption certificates for foreign-going vessels and reduce the present rate, and making a maximum pilotage of £30 for each port? This would pay handsomely, and be fair to everyone concerned.

Hoping that some more able pen than mine may take up the matter, or some of our Ms.L.A. have it up in the House, and do away with such a state of affairs,

I am, &c., EXEMPT.

CANON KEMMIS AND THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND ASSOCIATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—It was not frank of Canon Kemmis at the Churchman's Institute to repeat the allegation against his Honor Mr. Justice Foster after the secretary of the Church of England Association of New South Wales had published in the press the actual statement made by the president at our eighth annual meeting. His Honor did say "he would call their attention to 'Books for the Young, No. 1, Confession,' not published by the Church Extension Association, but published by the same Ritualistic party."

Having before me a series of the publications issued from the publishing office, 5 and 6 Paternoster Row, of the Church Extension Society, I have conclusive proof that precisely the same heresy is being taught by the Kilburn Sisters, Sister "May" notwithstanding.

It is but fencing with facts for Canon Kemmis to say "he denied that there was any attempt to subvert the doctrines of the Reformers." The books, many in number, issued from the Kilburn press are saturated with false doctrine and erroneous teaching. His vision must, indeed, be morbid, or his memory treacherous, if he has so far forgotten the solemn vow made and the Thirty-nine Articles of the Church of England subscribed to by him when he was ordained. Seeing how he and other ministers are flouting their ordinary, I just quote part of the ordination service:—"1. The Bishop asks, 'Will you be ready, with all faithful diligence, to banish and drive away all erroneous and strange doctrines contrary to God's Word, and to use both publick and private monitions and exhortations, as well as to the sick as to the whole, within your cures, as need shall require and occasion shall be given?' Answer: 'I will, the Lord being my Helper.' 2. The Bishop asks, 'Will you reverently obey your ordinary and other chief ministers of the Church, and them to whom the charge and government over you is committed, following with a glad mind and will their Godly admonition?' Answer: 'I will so do, the Lord being my Helper.'"

It is not necessary that I take up any more of your valuable space to reiterate how opposite to the constitution of the Church of England are the many glaring infractions of her formulary in the books of the Church Extension Society, as you have previously published extracts therefrom which I sent you. Canon Kemmis subscribed his hand, when ordained, vowing them to be "blasphemous fables and dangerous deceits." Now he coolly turns round and denies "that there was any attempt to subvert the doctrines of the Reformers."

It is marvellous how this lust of sacerdotal power blinds men. But from it good will result and the time hastened when a second Reformation will be brought about to purge the Church of England prayer-book from language which, by a peculiar mental process, unintelligible to many, can tolerate such gross vow-violating within her pale, teaching in no ambiguous manner the truth as it is in Jesus, who came, spoke, wrought, died, and lived that we might be free men in a free land. The signs of the times point that the battle of the Reformation must be fought over again, and that ere long; then shall we know the truth, and "the truth shall make us free" of sacerdotalism.

MEETINGS.

ARCHITECTURAL ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Sydney Architectural Association was held last night in the rooms, 70 Pitt-street, Mr. George J. Oakeshott occupied the chair, and announced the names of the gentlemen elected to act as officers during the next year:—President, Mr. Howard Joseland; vice-presidents, Messrs. George J. Oakeshott and J. P. Power; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. Stanton Cook; librarian, Mr. J. H. Merriman; auditors, Messrs. W. Blacklock and W. Grace; committee, Messrs. J. S. Adam, J. W. Ashcroft, H. Budden, H. O. Jackson, G. Sydney Jones, H. G. Thurlow, G. M. Pitt, W. B. Wall, J. B. Wellings, and R. M. S. Wells. Mr. Andrew Wells read a paper on "Stained Glass and Decoration," treating in an interesting manner the process of glass painting. The paper was illustrated by a large number of cartoons and specimens in all stages of manufacture, from the first sketch design to the finished window. A vote of thanks was accorded by acclamation to Mr. Wells for his valuable contribution.

SCOTTISH TEMPERANCE LEAGUE.

A social meeting of members and friends of the Scottish Temperance League resident in New South Wales was held last evening in the upper hall of the Young Men's Christian Association building, Pitt-street, to celebrate the jubilee of the league. Mr. W. A. Smith, F.S.S., occupied the chair. The attendance numbered about 100. After tea had been served, a programme of addresses, songs, and recitations was gone through.

The CHAIRMAN said he was sure he expressed the voice of the meeting when he said that it was with great pleasure that they met there that night under the Southern Cross to celebrate the jubilee. The previous night was the actual jubilee of the league, which had done more to bring happiness, peace, and prosperity to the homes of all Scotland than any other organisation outside the Christian Church. Some near relatives of the gentlemen who founded the organisation were present that night.

The Rev. JAMES BUCHAN, M.A., gave an account of the progress of the league. He said that at the time of the issuing of the last annual register the members numbered 11,525, each of whom subscribed to the funds in sums varying from 1s up to £100. Besides these there were 418 affiliated societies and templar lodges, each of which contributed to the funds from 10s to £5. The membership of many of the affiliated societies had to be reckoned by hundreds, and their aggregate membership was very large, numbering, one would suppose, tens of thousands. He was safe in saying that a better-known name, or a more honoured name, could hardly be found in almost every temperance home in Scotland than that of the Scottish Temperance League. The one object of the league was "The entire abolition of the drinking system." That object had ever been steadily kept in view. He then indicated a few of the methods by which the league worked.

Addresses were also delivered by several other gentlemen who were present, among whom were the Revs. R. Edgar, F. B. Boyce, and J. Bennett Anderson, and Messrs. T. Walker, M.L.A., E. J. H. Knapp, J. Roseby, R. R. Jack, W. L. Dash, and W. R. Dovey. Mrs. Bowes spoke in reference to the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The vocalists included Miss Clara Hamilton (who was enthusiastically encored), Mrs. Clubb, Miss Wright, and Messrs. J. Beaton, G. Strachan, and J. Craig. Mr. D. Lindsay recited, and Mr. E. J. Lane acted as accompanist.

LADIES' COMMITTEE OF THE WOMEN'S COLLEGE FUND.

A meeting of the ladies' committee of the Women's College Fund was held in the Town Hall, city, on the 3rd November. Lady Windeyer, vice-president, was in the chair, and the following members were present:—Mrs. C. U. Carruthers, Miss Macaulay, Mrs. R. E. Todd, Miss F. Walsh, and Miss Fairfax and Miss J. F. Russell, hon. secs. Apologies for absence were received from Mrs. H. E. Kater, Mrs. J. G. Fraser, Mrs. Kearney, and Mrs. Badham. Promises were received from several ladies that they would collect sums towards the furnishing fund. It was resolved that the committee should not meet again till March, 1894.

SYDNEY CITY MISSION.

The monthly meeting of the ladies' committee of the Sydney City Mission was held at the mission office, Y.M.C.A. Rooms, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. John Marks presided. There were present—Mesdames Antrobus, W. Crane, W. Docker, R. Miller, W. P. Mulholland, Notting, J. Pottie, H. C. Russell, Starkey, J. M. Smail, and Miss Harris. In the hon. secretary's (Mrs. Reading) absence Mrs. Pottie acted instead. The monthly report of the Dorcas Society connected with the mission, which met monthly at the mission office, showed that a large number of garments had been made by the members. A box containing 80 articles had been received from the Stanmore branch society—in all 145 garments had been handed to the missionaries for distribution among the poor. Mrs. R. C. Russell read Mrs. Spear's journal for the month of work done in Miller's Point district. The establishment of a food depot, which was a useful adjunct of her work, and several instances were narrated where many cases of want had been dealt with. In all 4000 meals had been dispensed. The recipients were known to the missionary as necessitous people. Acknowledgment was made of gifts from local tradespeople and others, so that the distribution had not been a burden on the mission funds. Mrs. W. Crane read Miss Craven's journal of her month's labours in Woolloomooloo, where quiet, persevering work had been done. In all 214 visits had been made to the distressed and poverty-stricken, and 69 to sick people, for whom comforts had to be procured. The committee expressed satisfaction at so good a record, and the hope that other missionaries could be employed in other districts where they were equally needed.

LECTURE.

"PLOT VERSUS PLAN."

A interesting "song" lecture, entitled "Plot versus Plan—Lessons from the 5th November," was delivered by the Rev. T. Parr, M.A., at the Albion-street Primitive Methodist Church last evening. The chair was occupied by Mr. W. H. Austin, in the unavoidable absence of Mr. J. C. Neild, M.L.A., and a large number of Orangemen in regalia occupied seats on the platform. The building was crowded. The lecturer at the outset met the objection that the discussion of such historical subjects tended to perpetuate strife. The true Orangeman was pledged to act charitably and kindly towards his fellow-citizen of whatever creed, and yet firmly to contend for the faith. To attempt to forget the past of our nation would be to cast dishonour on those brave ancestors by whom our liberties had been won, and to be ungrateful to our God who had so signally interfered on our behalf. The "plan" referred to was the Revolution effected by the agency of Prince William of Orange, who landed at Torbay on the anniversary of Gunpowder Plot, and who came by reasonable and constitutional methods to uphold the Protestant religion and the liberties of the people of England. What was wanted at the present time was that the reforms desired should be carried out on the same lines as the Great Revolution, namely, a regard for the law, a prudence of method, courage of spirit, and genuine faith in the Bible, the Word of the great King of all. The lecture was illustrated by musical selections given by Mr. and Miss Parr.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

N.A.V. RIFLE CLUB.

On Saturday the members of the N.A.V. Rifle Club held the first competition for the fourth quarter of the current year at the Randwick Rifle Range, when some good shooting was done. The conditions were seven shots each at 500 and 600 yards, handicap limit 58 points. The following are the scores made:—

A.B. Lester, 500 yards 29, 600 yards 31, handicap 0—total, 60; P.O. J. Warren, 31, 29, 2—62; Sub-Lieutenant Falk, 33, 27, 0—60; L.S. Greenland, 31, 28, 1—59; A.B. Binkins, 25, 26, 20—58; Artificer Hancox, 23, 25, 15—58; P.O. J. Wood, 24, 24, 10—58; P.O. Winfield, 24, 20, 20—56; C.P.O. W. Warren, 31, 26, 0—57; L.S. Collins, 23, 26, 8—57; A.B. Stanhope, 30, 26, 0—56; A.B. M'Neill, 24, 22, 10—56; P.O. Cutter, 25, 18, 12—55; Sub-Lieutenant Ives, 14, 26, 14—54; A.B. Deacon, 21, 19, 14—54; Sub-Lieutenant Stephens, 28, 23, 0—51; A.B. Williamson, 18, 15, 17—50; Sub-Lieutenant Coggins, 24, 25, 0—49; Lieutenant Keating, 21, 27, 0—48; C.P.O. Dunn, 22, 22, 4—48.

The monthly prize shooting of the Alexandria Civilian Rifle Club was held on Saturday last at their rifle range, Botany, the distances being four shots at 400, six shots at 500, and four shots at 600 yards. The following are the scores:—

D. M'Calley, 400 yards 20, 500 yards 26, 600 yards 16, scratch, total 62; G. Price, 17, 29, 15, handicap 4—61; W. T. Ireland, 19, 28, 17, 1—57; W. Minett, 20, 24, 11, scratch—55; T. Ballard, 9, 21, 8, 15—53; E. W. Holder, 13, 24, 11, 3—51; J. Skelton, 14, 23, 9, 4—50; J. Ballard, 12, 18, 7, 7—44; J. Parr, 6, 12, 5, 20—43.

SPECIAL CHEAP EXCURSION TRAINS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Last month about this time special cheap excursion trains were run on each of the long-distance lines, North, West, and South, and, judging from the way they were patronised, the concession was highly appreciated by the public. I and several of my friends took advantage of the opportunity to visit the country for a holiday, a thing we could not have thought of under ordinary fares, and doubtless many others were in the same fix.

In expectation that these trains would be run about once a month, many, doubtless, are scraping together a few savings to expend in a similar way, but so far, with the exception of comparatively short excursion trips on Prince of Wales' Birthday, there has been no notification of a special cheap excursion for this month. In anticipation of them, I and a few friends had proposed taking our families for a holiday for a fortnight to places inland where we have friends and relatives, but we cannot do this at the usual rates of passenger fares.

On the 21st of the month the Governor proceeds to Narrabri to open the new town hall there. It is to be a gala week there, and numbers of people here, for instance, would doubtless be glad of such an occasion to visit friends if there were cheap fares in order to see and enjoy the festivities.

I am, &c.,

H. MARSHALL.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

THE TURF.

The V.R.C. Spring Meeting will be advanced another stage at Flemington to-day, and, should the weather prove favourable, a great assemblage is almost certain to witness the contest for the Melbourne Cup. According to Sydney time, the events on the card will be started as under:—Hurdle Race, 1.25 p.m.; Railway Handicap, 2.10 p.m.; Kensington Stakes, 3.25 p.m.; Melbourne Cup, 4.25 p.m.; Nursery Handicap, 5.10 p.m.; and Yan Yean Stakes, 5.55 p.m. The programme is set forth in another part of this paper, and "Nemo," telegraphing from the seat of war, anticipates the following results:—"There is every promise of fine weather to-morrow, and the city is joyous in consequence. A brilliant programme is set forth, but the path of indicating winners is strewn with dangers, and those in search of the right ones have a troublesome task. The curtain will ring up upon the Hurdle Race, which, in the absence of Whitefoot, should bring about a splendid contest, and Barzan, Leonardo, and Anarrow are likely to have a great say in the battle. The Railway Handicap is anyone's race, and perhaps Budgeree, Titan, and Scrip may be the hardest to beat. It is impossible to tell what will start for the Kensington Stakes, which is not an interesting event, but the prospects of Cumberland, Enna, and Quiver appear to be the brightest, for there is a doubt about Mirridong starting. The more that the Melbourne Cup is looked into, the more open it appears. The Melbourne Stakes running seems to have extinguished the prospects of The Admiral, Cremorne, Vakeel, and even Camoola; but it is not easy to forget how, after having suffered repeated defeats at Randwick, Camoola suddenly returned to form, and cantered home for the three miles' race, so that the unreliable son of Chester may repeat the dose. When alive to the importance of the proceedings, he is always a desperate horse to beat, but is apt to sulk; therefore he is not to be trusted. Malvolio will be better suited by the distance than in the Melbourne Stakes; but Portsea should have run a better race to have a chance. Realm is not so well as he was in Sydney, and Sternchaser has met with an accident, so he promises little danger. Tim Swiveller will meet Oxide on a trifle better terms than in the Caulfield Cup, and should finish before him; and the same may be said of Sainfoin. Some years have elapsed since a three-year-old won the Cup, but two colts like Loyalty and Carnage are not often found, and one or other should win. Carnage is a lazy colt, who requires a deal of riding, and it remains to be seen if Toby Moran has judgment and strength enough to handle him. Loyalty won the Melbourne Stakes in very fast time; but he appeared weary at the end, and there is just a doubt that he may not be able to stay it out. He is a very generous goer, and his long, terrible stride is sure to be effective. Jeweller will meet the colts on very favourable terms, and the fact of getting third in the fast-run Melbourne Stakes entitles him to great respect, notwithstanding his numerous previous defeats. On the same running Newman has a great pull over Loyalty at the weights; but the two miles may prove too tiresome, and he is hardly big enough to worry his way through a large field; still he has got a good outside chance. All There also reads like having a fair outside chance. Assuming that Carnage and Loyalty are the best colts of the season, and that the fortune of war be not too hard upon them during the bitterness of the struggle, one of them is likely to secure the great race of the season; and they may be followed home by Tim Swiveller, while the best outside prospects await Jeweller, Newman, and for a surprise Oxide. When the Cup excitement subsides the Nursery Handicap comes on for decision, and I fancy the chances of Dryden, Destiny, Mirridong, and Moorite, as named. Brockleigh must be hard to beat in the Yan Yean Stakes, despite his impost of 9st 10lb, for he is quite at home over the distance; and after him most danger may come from Rosebrook, The Captain, Cooya, and Confidence."

Business in the local betting market was pretty brisk yesterday, when Camoola commanded a deal of attention and was supported to the extent of between £4000 and £5000 at 100 to 11, and at one time 100 to 14 was the best offer, but he eased at the close to 100 to 12. Loyalty was backed to win nearly £3000 at 100 to 12, which price was still on offer. Between £2000 and £3000 was booked against Tim Swiveller at 100 to 10, without exhausting the market at that figure, and Carnage was similarly befriended at 100 to 9; while Newman was also supported at 100 to 8, that price being still available. Sainfoin had admirers who accepted 100 to 7, which figure was on offer against Oxide, about whom 100 to 6 was written to small amounts. 100 to 5 was obtainable about Portsea, Vakeel, and Jeweller; 100 to 3 was taken about The Sailor Prince, Sternchaser, and Pippin, and 100 to 3 to 100 to 1 could be got about the others. A fair amount of business was done in place betting at the following prices:—5 to 2 v. Camoola, 3 to 1 v. Loyalty, Tim Swiveller, Carnage, and Oxide, 4 to 1 v. Newman, and 5 to 7 to 1 v. others.

The regular weekly meeting of the Liverpool Horse and Galloway Club was held yesterday, with the following results:—Ete Ete Handicap (13.2), 4 furlongs, Mr. C. Hunt's ch g Antonill, 8st 4lb, 1; Mite Handicap (12.3 and 13.0), 4 furlongs, Mr. Flaherty's b g Redbank, 7st 8lb, 1; Handicap Selling Race (13.3 and 14.0), 4½ furlongs, Mr. J. Williams's ch m Reine, 7st 6lb, 1; and Liverpool Handicap (14.2), 7 furlongs, Mr. F. Willis's br h Fraud, 7st 11lb, 1.

At the Lillie Bridge pony races last evening the Tom Thumb Handicap (11.3 and 12.0), ½-mile, was won by Mr. J. Mihell's b g Pardon, 8st 2lb; the Annandale Handicap (13.1 and 13.1½), ½-mile, by Mr. S. Dunn's ch m Daisy, 8st 9lb; the Lodge Handicap (12.1 and 12.2), 3 furlongs—first heat by Mr. S. Rosen's ch m Eurobin, 8st 10lb, and the second heat by Mr. E. Law's br m Galatea, 9st 3lb; and the Toxteth Handicap (12.3½ and 13.0), ½-mile, by Mr. C. Hunt's b g Umpire, 7st 4lb.

The annual press inspection of the Rosehill racecourse took place yesterday, when, at the invitation of the secretary, Mr. G. B. Rowley, the sporting representatives of the metropolitan and Central Cumberland district press assembled at Parramatta railway station, where a drag was in readiness to convey them to the conveniently-situated sporting rendezvous near the Parramatta River. A stroll through the different enclosures showed that the appointments for the spring reunion, which opens on Thursday next, were in apple-pie order, and no pains had been spared to make the arrangements complete. The grand stand reserve presented a bright and pleasing picture, and evidenced the care and attention bestowed upon it. The close-cropped lawn was like an emerald carpet, and the verdant slopes at the rear of the grand stand formed a rich setting for the parterres of many-hued flowers that bedecked the scene. The almost innumerable specimens of choice roses that meet the eye at every turn confirm the idea that the popular sporting resort has been aptly named, for the wreath of blossom that beautifies the slopes is supplemented by the climbing varieties, which form pleasant and shady bowers, and interlace the fences with fragrant blooms. The fernery and fishpond, situated in the south-eastern corner of the enclosure, is also worthy of a visit; and a couple of eagle-hawks, a sparrow-hawk, several emus, kangaroos, and other animals form an interesting collection in the grounds. The flowering shrubs and ample shade trees give evidence of vigorous growth, and, though the water supply is none too generous, the whole place has a delightfully bright and refreshing appearance. An inspection of the race track proved that, while the reserves have been properly looked after, it had also received due attention, and the magnificent stretch of turf from the home turn to the riverside, on which the mowing machine had just been operating, was a sight to please the most fastidious sportsman, while the rest of the track was in equally good condition; and should the weather remain fine in the meantime, fast times should be registered at the Spring Meeting. At the conclusion of the inspection an adjournment was made to the committee-room, where an excellent luncheon was served by the club caterer, Mr. Harvey, and a very pleasant time was spent ere the company left for a drive through the Parramatta Park prior to returning to the metropolis.

Althea has been struck out of the Granville Stakes in connection with the Rosehill meeting on Thursday next.

MELBOURNE BETTING MARKET.

MELBOURNE, MONDAY.

To-day was one of the heaviest betting days that have been experienced for some years past the transactions recorded on the Melbourne Cup being both numerous and important. The return of Mr. Humphrey Oxenham from Europe has had the effect of livening matters up considerably, the well-known layer opening business to-day in his usual plucky way. There was also a lot of sweep "hedging" money in the market, which had the effect of easing the prices in several instances. In the morning Carnage, Loyalty, and Tim Swiveller were all heavily backed at the Victorian Club, several thousands being wagered against each. Camoola was very easy at the opening of operations, 100 to 6 being laid against him; but later on he was backed in a very spirited manner down to 100 to 10. Sainfoin and Newman were also supported for a large amount in each case. At the afternoon reading of the card at the Victorian Club, business was commenced with Cremorne, who was backed to win £800 at 100 to 2. Camoola was supported at 100 to 10, and £3000 was secured about Malvolio at 100 to 4. Portsea was easier at 100 to 4, a few hundreds being laid at that price. Between £3000 and £4000 against Sternchaser was accepted at 100 to 2½, and Vakeel was supported to the tune of £2000 at 100 to 4½. About Oxide £3000 was secured at 100 to 5, and close on £3000 about Sainfoin was taken at 100 to 7. For smaller amounts Carnage, Loyalty, and Tim Swiveller each met with support, 100 to 9 being taken about the former.

At Bowes' Tattersall's Club business opened with taking 200 to 2 and 200 to 3 about The Admiral, and 200 to 4 about Cremorne. Camoola provided much livelier business, and after 1000 to 80 had been laid against him he advanced to 10 to 1, at which price he was backed to win close on £3000. Malvolio was supported to the extent of £2000 at 100 to 3 and 100 to 3½, and 300 to 15 about Portsea was booked. Realm met with slight support at 100 to 2 and 100 to 1½, and Sternchaser was backed to win £1000 at 100 to 2½. Vakeel was supported for about £1500 at 100 to 5 and 100 to 5½; and at 100 to 6 Oxide's name was written up to £1000. Port Admiral was backed for a few hundreds at 100 to 1, and £2000 was accepted about Tarcoola at 100 to 2½. Newman was in request, £1500 being laid against him, in small lots, at 100 to 6 and 100 to 5½. About Sainfoin £1500 was accepted at 100 to 7½, and 500 to 5 about Tridentate was written down. Light Artillery was at the long price of 200 to 1, but he was well back at that figure; and £1000 was taken about Carnage at 10 to 1. Jeweller was supported at 100 to 4½ for about £1000; and 400 to 4 about Patron was recorded. A few wagers at 200 to 3 were put down to All There. A single 100 to 2½ about The Sailor Prince was taken, and about £1000 against Loyalty was secured at 100 to 9 and 100 to 10. Tim Swiveller figured at 100 to 9, being backed to win £600; and Pounamu's name was written several times at 200 to 3. At the same price Polly Mohr was supported to win between £2000 and £3000.

The Victorian Club rooms were crowded in the evening, when the card for the Melbourne Cup was again read over. Business started with The Admiral, about whom £8000 was secured at 100 to 1. Wagers of 1000 to 20, 500 to 10, and 1000 to 27½ were recorded to Cremorne, whose closing price was 100 to 3. About £2000 against Camoola was taken at 100 to 10, and then his price suddenly firmed to 100 to 12. Malvolio was the medium of speculation up to £2000 at 100 to 4, and £4000 against Portsea was laid at 100 to 4, with the same price on offer at the close. Oxide was backed for a few hundreds at 100 to 5½. A bet of 1000 to 1 was registered to Lord Hopetoun, and wagers of 2000 to 30 and 1000 to 15 against Port Admiral were pencilled. Altogether, over £6000 was obtained about Tarcoola at 100 to 1½, and £4000 was accepted about Newman at 100 to 6. At 100 to 7 Sainfoin received backing up to £1500, and 800 to 8 against Tridentate was written. Carnage was in request, about £3000 at 100 to 9 and 100 to 10 being laid against the Derby winner. Bets of 1000 to 5, 500 to 5, and 1000 to 8 were registered to Light Artillery, and 500 to 20 about Jeweller was accepted. Patron was the medium of some very lively speculation, at 500 to 5 and 500 to 6, about £4000 being taken, and All There was backed for over £2200 at 1000 to 18. Some £3000 was secured about Loyalty at 100 to 11, and at 100 to 2½ The Sailor Prince's name was written to win about £4000. Pippin was well backed at 100 to 1, and about Tim Swiveller £8000 was taken at 100 to 9. The closing quotations were:—100 to 12 v. Camoola, 100 to 11 v. Loyalty and Carnage, 100 to 10 v. Tim Swiveller, 100 to 7½ v. Sainfoin, 100 to 6 v. Newman and Oxide, 100 to 4 v. Portsea, Vakeel, Malvolio, and Jeweller, 100 to 3 v. Cremorne and Sternchaser, 100 to 2½ v. The Sailor Prince, and 100 to 2 to 100 to ½ v. others.

ODDFELLOWS' RACES AT MOSS VALE.

MOSS VALE, MONDAY.

The entries closed on Saturday for the Oddfellows' races on Thursday next with 39 for the four events.

SYDNEY HUNT CLUB.

The prospect of a run after live game induced the members of the Sydney Hunt Club to undertake the trip to Rooty Hill on Friday evening last, the meet having been fixed for 6 a.m. on Saturday near Plumpton Post-office. Punctual to time the huntsmen and hounds were at the trysting-place, and among those present were Messrs. W. Cope (master) on Tudor, Alaster Lamb on Bredonhill, A. B. Paterson on The Ace, J. Gulliani on Guglielmo, T. Mullens on Oofty, R. Scarvell on Soot, J. Auslow on Barney, A. Listen on a brown, Miller (huntsman) on Cremorne, and Mayne (whip) on Relation. The morning was fine and cool, and the country round was looking very well after the good season. Mr. Listen, who is a resident of the locality, acted as pilot to the covert where the deer were likely to be found, but the place was thoroughly worked without result. The hounds were then put in the scrub along the creek bank from end to end on both sides, and all the likely places for a few miles round were searched, but without success. By this time the forenoon was wearing on and the weather was becoming warm, with every prospect of a day hot enough to prevent hunting, so a cast was made for a hare, and the first one put up, either by accident or design, led the field a very merry burst, circling about in a corner where several paddocks met, and giving everyone lots of jumping while it lasted. Later on another hare, or rather a leveret, was started, and it also ran well for a time and concluded its performance by jumping into the creek, where it was followed by the hounds and killed before it got across. There were a couple of harmless spills, and some amusement was caused by the difficulties encountered in crossing the creek, the banks of which were a tangle of scrub and interwoven roots undermined by the water in places. Bredonhill got first across cleverly, but Old Tudor half buried his head in the soft earth on the opposite bank.

CRICKET.

Owing to the turf wickets at the Agricultural Society's ground not being in good order since the military tournament, the borough matches on that ground will for the present be played on matting.

The match between the Graziers' C. C., of Brisbane, and the representatives of the Sydney senior clubs was concluded at the Association Ground yesterday, and resulted in a draw. At the end of the first day's play the Sydney men had scored 146, and the Graziers had lost one wicket for 33. On the resumption of play, M'Glinchy and Hoare, the not-out men of the Graziers, took up their innings again, and M'Glinchy carried his total to 50 by steady play, when he was caught at mid-off, the scoring-board showing 81 for two wickets. Hoare did not give a chance in compiling 32. Towards the end of the innings Bowden and Lewis made a good stand, and Lewis batted very freely for 30. Bowden kept his score going by cautious play until he had reached 28, when he attempted to run an impossible single, and was run out. The total reached was 193. Clements bowled in very good form, his average being four for 45. The Sydney men opened their second innings, and at the call of time had scored 56 for one wicket, S. Callaway carrying out his bat for 24. The following are the scores:—

SYDNEY CLUBS.—First Innings, 146.

GRAZIERS' C. C.—First Innings.

Trinnick, b S. Callaway	5	O'Brien, c S. Callaway, b Clements ...	8
M'Glinchy, c Clements, b S. Callaway	50	Bowden, run out	28

The following matches were played last Saturday:—

Glebe and Paddington commenced their electorate match on Wentworth Park, in the presence of a large number of spectators, who evinced keen interest in the game, and bestowed impartial applause at any piece of good play. Patrick, the Paddington skipper, won the toss from Cobcroft, and decided to go to the wicket, one end of which, however, did not play quite as well as was expected, the ball keeping low at times. This suited Barton's bowling, and the batsmen, with the exception of A. M'Kenzie, Brewster, Bell, and Patrick, made the great mistake of playing back. Patrick and A. M'Kenzie opened the Paddington innings, the former being the first to go, the board showing 1-4-7. Brewster became M'Kenzie's partner, and by a splendid exhibition of cricket they brought 40 in view before M'Kenzie was bowled off his pad. The rest of the wickets fell for the poor score of 14 runs, Newell and Barton getting rid of them in quick succession. Newell bowled with good judgment, and obtained six for 28, and Barton four for 23, both bowlers being well backed up by the field. S. Deane and Duggan went in first for the Glebe, Deane being got rid of the first over. Youll then became Duggan's partner, and they defied all the bowlers, their opponents' score being soon passed, amidst great excitement amongst the local club's followers. At 97 Duggan was caught out off Wills, after playing a careful innings. Youll, who is not out with 78 to his credit, played a masterly and scientific game, no chance being recorded against him. Newell is also not out with 17. When stumps were drawn the score stood at 122 for two wickets.

PADDINGTON.—First innings.

C. Patrick, lbw, b Newell	4	C. Pye, not out	1
A. M'Kenzie, b Newell	23	A. Sweetnam, b Newell	1
R. Brewster, b Newell	17	G. M'Kenzie, b Barton	0
W. Bell, c S. Deane, b Barton	3	T. Alcock, b Barton	2
W. Davis, b Newell	0	G. Wills, b Barton	0
A. M'Elhone, h.o.w., b Newell	0	Sundries	3
		Total	54

Bowling Analysis.—A. Newell, 96 balls, 5 maidens, 28 runs, 6 wickets; W. Barton, 94 balls, 4 maidens, 23 runs, 4 wickets.

GLEBE.—First innings.

S. Deane, lbw, b Sweetnam	0	A. Newell, not out	17
T. Duggan, c M'Elhone, b Mills	20	Sundries	7
G. Youll, not out	78	Total for 2 wickets	122

Macdonaldtown, 141 for four wickets, beat North Botany, 30.

Balmain Gladstone, 78 for five wickets, beat Belvidere, 66.

Balmain Murnieville, 40, commenced a match with Balmain Grosvenor, 72 for six wickets.

Dunmore, 93 for six wickets, beat Albion Park, 50.

Waverley Undaunted, 52 and 44, beat Mosman's Bay Warringa, 31 and 60 for nine wickets.

Erskineville, 102 for five wickets, beat Rockdale, 74.

W. Gardiner and Co., 43, beat Sydney Steamship Company, 42.

Woodford, 30, beat Junior Swifts, 28 and 24.

University Third, 161, played a draw with Kenilworth, 1 for 52.

T. M. Hall and Co., 83, played a draw with Chatswood Rovers, 35 for four wickets.

Enoch Taylor and Co., 151, played a draw with Prospect, 68 for four wickets.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENTS.)

MOSS VALE, MONDAY.

A cricket match, Moss Vale Glenrica v. Bundanoon, was played on the show-ground on Saturday, and resulted in a win for the former team by 44 runs. A match, Moss Vale Juniors v. Sutton Forest Butchering Company, was won by the latter by 10 runs.

WOLLONGONG, MONDAY.

A cricket match was played on the Centennial Grounds on Saturday, between teams representing the electorates of Shoalhaven and Wollongong. Great interest was taken in the game, and there was a large attendance. The visiting team went in first and made 93. Wollongong got 111 in their first innings, and Shoalhaven declared their second innings closed when seven wickets had fallen for 107. The home team had one wicket down for 39 when time was called, and thus won the match on the first innings.

FOOTBALL.

The Referee's Association closed the first year of its operations with a picnic to Tom Ugly's Point on Saturday last. Two four-horse drags were provided by Mr. J. Coffill, of Ultimo, and on arriving at Bennett's Hotel the party were photographed, and then indulged in a swim. About 5.30 the company, to the number of 30, sat down to dinner, the chair being occupied by Mr. H. A. Langley. The following toasts were drunk:—"Rugby Football," proposed by the chairman, responded to by Mr. W. A. Rand (hon. secretary N.S.W. Rugby Football Union); "The Referee's Association," proposed by Mr. J. Henderson, replied to by Mr. H. C. Stockham (hon. secretary of the association); "The Ladies" and "The Visitors." Apologies for non-attendance were read from Messrs. M'Manamy, Braddon, Carr, W. M. Arnold, M'Pherson, and others. Messrs. M'Beath, R. P. Browne, J. Henderson, Murdock, and T. Henderson favoured the company with songs, whilst Messrs. A. E. Speer, Parish, and others gave recitations. The proceedings were closed by drinking the health of the hon. secretary, Mr. H. C. Stockham, and the party returned to town about 11 o'clock after an enjoyable outing.

CYCLING.

In connection with the club rooms of the Sydney Bicycle Club a movement is on foot to establish a chess branch. A number of members have signified their intention of joining.

LAWN TENNIS.

A team from East Maitland will visit Strathfield on Thursday (Prince of Wales' Birthday), with the intention of playing an all-day match.

The following is the result of the draw for the Gentlemen's Handicap Singles, in connection with the above club. The first round of this event must be played on or before Saturday, the 18th instant:—C. A. Fraser v. Nott, D. Roxburgh v. Lindemann, Oakeshott v. Scott, Wade v. Mant, Humphrey v. A. Newman, Braddon v. R. Roxburgh, K. Newman v. C. Newman, Williamson v. Vicars, Bunting v. Priddle, Bowden v. Thompson, W. Cowdery v. J. Silly, L. Rolin v. Connell, Dinslow v. Ross, A. Silly v. C. Cowdery, Hilliard v. Dr. Sly, Drake v. W. Blaxland, Bowman v. Gillespy.

BOWLS.

The Balmain Bowling Club met Waverley on Saturday afternoon on the local green, a fair number of bowling patrons being present, the game resulting in a win for Balmain by 73 points. The visitors were entertained at the close, and cheers were given for the respective teams. The following are the details:—

No. 1 Rink.—Balmain: Dr. L. G. Davidson, Captain M'Clemens, Dr. R. A. Wilson, J. J. Reeder (captain), 46. Waverley: H. A. Magney, A. Horrocks, G. T. Waterhouse, E. S. B. Saville (captain), 20. No. 2 Rink.—Balmain: J. Hurst, J. T. Dalrymple, J. H. Jervis, B. Kershaw (captain), 35. Waverley: H. King, Major Blanchard, W. M'Leod, T. Varley (captain), 18. No. 3 Rink.—Balmain: Dr. P. J. Kelly, S. P. Hogg, H. Selfe, Walter Akhurst (captain), 29. Waverley: E. Thomas, D. Ross, J. J. Haycroft, W. Andrew (captain), 14. No. 4 Rink.—Balmain: T. P. Rodley, W. Cruickshank, J. D. Cronin, H. B. Cohen (captain), 33. Waverley: G. Sadler, T. K. Rutherford, H. C. Evans, Captain Konlio (captain), 15. Total scores: Balmain, 140 points; Waverley, 67 points. Majority for Balmain, 73 points.

AQUATICS.

PORT JACKSON SAILING CLUB.

A meeting of the committee of this club was held at Punch's Hotel last evening. Commodore G. Hellings presided. Two boats were added to the club register, and several new members were elected. Arrangements were made for next Saturday's race; prizes were fixed at £5, £2, and £1. The Lightship course was chosen. The same gentleman as officiated in last race were elected to similar positions. Several boats were entered, and further entries will be received on Wednesday evening next.

BOTANY SAILING CLUB.

This club held its second event of the season on Saturday last by a race for all boats under 19ft., for trophies presented by Messrs. Stewart, Dawson, and Company, and Buzacott and Company respectively. The entries and handicaps were as follows:—Isabel, 19ft.; Acme 19ft., Ruby 19ft., Pearl 18ft., scratch; Winnie 18ft., Iverna 19ft., 1 minute; Pacific, 18ft., 2 minutes; Sylvia, 19ft., 4 minutes. The handicaps were given at the start. The course was from the Botany Pier round boat at Lady Robinson's Beach, then round boat moored at the Basket, back to the pier, and over the same course again. All boats got away with a good start, but it was soon found the Pearl was leading, followed by the Acme, Pacific, Winnie, Isabel, and Ruby in the order named. The Sylvia retiring from the contest shortly after the start. The finishing time on the first round was—Pearl, 4h. 51m.; Acme, 4h. 55m. 37s.; Pacific, 4h. 56s. 5s.; Winnie, 4h. 57m.; Isabel, 4h. 59m. 12s.; Ruby, 4h. 59m. 44s. On the second round the wind dropped and the boats became almost becalmed, several retiring. The Pearl and Acme finished first and second in the order named some time after sunset. The rules, however, provide that races must finish before sunset, consequently the matter will be referred to the committee for consideration.

PARRAMATTA ROWING CLUB.

The Parramatta Rowing Club held a successful afternoon's racing on Saturday, in the shape of a Trial Fours Race, over a mile and a half course, from Rydalmere Wharf to Subiaco Convent, for trophies presented by the club. The following are details:—

First Heat.—J. Sheather (stroke), H. Davey, A. Davey, and A. Manton beat Dr. Millard, A. Barry, E. Bowden, and A. Henderson. The latter crew got the lead, but were soon caught by their far heavier opponents, who won by two lengths.

Second Heat.—L. A. Wickham (stroke), D. Russell, T. J. Barry, and J. Roche beat F. Todhunter (stroke), A. Barry, H. Bishop, and S. Willis. The former crew went ahead at the start and were never caught.

Final.—L. A. Wickham (stroke), D. Russell, T. J. Barry, and J. Roche beat J. Sheather (stroke), H. Davey, A. Davey, and A. Manton. Both crews got away to a good start, and kept on level terms for some time. Then Wickham's crew went ahead, and although the other crew pushed them all the way they could not catch them, Wickham's crew winning by two lengths.

NEW CRAFT.

A new boat of the 18ft. class has been built by Mr. R. Stephens, of Balmain. The Rosamond, as she has been named, is 18ft. long, 9ft. beam overall, and 2ft. 3in. deep. As Stephens has built several very fast boats of the 24ft. and 22ft. class, and the new boat will be on somewhat similar lines, she should give a good account of herself. Her maiden appearance will be in the 18ft. Boats Race at the Balmain Regatta on Thursday next.

SWIMMING.

There was a large attendance at the Elkington Park baths, White Horse Point, Balmain, on Saturday afternoon, when a 66-yards handicap for boys under 14 years, and a 100-yards test race, were swum off, under the auspices of the Balmain Swimming Club. The object of the test race was to secure two representatives to compete at the carnival which is being organised for the purpose of selecting a team to compete in Auckland, New Zealand, early next year. There were three starters, viz., P. Payne, A. Davis, and J. W. Johnstone. The race was one of the best ever witnessed in the baths, and the greatest excitement prevailed while it was in progress. E. Payne and A. Davis swam a dead heat, with Johnstone only a foot behind. Time, 1 minute 10 seconds. The handicap for boys was well contested, and resulted as follows:—R. Creig, scratch, 1; A. Kinnamont, 13 seconds, 2; A. Davis, scratch, 3. The other starters were R. Keers, 3 seconds, J. Creig, 18 seconds, and W. Milham, 18 seconds. Mr. E. Davis (captain of the club) acted as starter and timekeeper; Mr. P. Murphy (vice-captain) as judge, and Mr. Tom Kinnamont (treasurer) as laptaker. The remaining portion of the afternoon was then devoted to a scratch water polo match amongst the members.

A swimming class in connection with the Cleveland-street Girls' Public School has been formed at the Natatorium, 409 Pitt-street, under the supervision of Madame Cluths. The head mistress, who has taken a great interest in the movement, has now between 40 and 50 girls enrolled as members of the class, and in all probability this number will rapidly increase, as the idea was only suggested last week.

A meeting of the committee of the New South Wales Swimming Association was held last night, to make arrangements for the carrying out of the carnival to be held on Tuesday, the 14th instant. Mr. A. B. Pyke occupied the chair. The following officials were appointed:—Starter, Mr. J. J. Moran; judges, Messrs. W. F. Corbett and T. J. Moloney; referee, Mr. A. B. Pyke; timekeepers, Messrs. J. J. Moloney, A. T. Hendry, and F. Michell; costume stewards, Messrs. F. W. Lloyd and H. G. Thomas; referee for polo, Mr. W. F. Corbett; judges for polo, Messrs. T. J. Moloney and A. B. Pyke. The teams for the polo match were selected as follows:—Probables: A. Holmes, J. Tacher, P. Murphy, W. H. Brown, G. Farmer, T. Henderson, and E. Payne; emergencies, J. W. Johnston and J. G. Bull. Possibles: T. Meadnam, G. Meadham, C. Hellings, J. Hellings, J. O'Grady, R. Thorpe, E. O'Grady; emergencies, A. Davis and H. Hellings.

The Police Swimming Club was duly constituted last night under the name of the New South Wales Police Amateur Swimming Club at a meeting presided over by Sergeant Parkinson. About 30 members were present. The Inspector-General was elected patron, Superintendent Read president, and Superintendent Grainger vice-president, and it was resolved to write to those gentlemen asking them to accept office. Other officials were elected as follow:—Hon. secretary, Senior-sergeant Chalmers; captain, Sergeant Trenchard; starter, Senior-sergeant Chalmers; judge, Senior-constable Manion; swimming instructor, Sergeant Parkinson; committee, Senior-sergeant M'Donough, Senior-sergeant Chalmers, Sergeant Parkinson, Sergeant Trenchard, Senior-constable Kelly, Senior-constable Manion, Constable Arnold, Constable Hughes, Constable Ritchie, Constable Allison, and Constable Smith; treasurer, Senior-sergeant M'Donough. A set of rules was adopted to govern the working of the club.

MUNICIPAL COUNCILS.

AUBURN.

A special meeting of the above council was held on Thursday night, when the Mayor (Alderman J. R. Palmer) presided, and there were also present—Aldermen Myers, Wright, Dyer, Heilbert, Ewart, and Taylor. An offer was received from Mr. J. W. Neale, of Sydney, to allow council a loan of £1000 at 5½ per cent. per annum, for 10 years' currency, and on the motion of the Mayor, seconded by Alderman Wright, the offer was accepted.

DARLINGTON.

The monthly meeting of this council was held on the 2nd instant. The Mayor (Alderman Spring) was in the chair, and there were present—Aldermen Beale, Keifer, Moran, Mease, Livingston, and Hawken. The Carcoar Municipal Council submitted a subscription list in aid of Mrs. Phillips, widow of the late bank manager. The Fire Brigade Board intimated its decision not to establish a fire alarm at the council-chambers. Alderman Livingston pointed out that, as the council-chambers are in a central position, an alarm should be provided, and on his motion it was decided that a deputation, to consist of the Mayor and Aldermen Beale, Livingston, and Moran, should wait upon Superintendent Bear in reference to the matter. Alderman Moran drew attention to the thieving of flowers from the front gardens of residents, and asked if anything had been done in the matter of increased police protection. The Mayor said that the authorities had informed him that they were exerting themselves in the matter.

REDFERN.

At the last meeting of the Redfern council Alderman Howe submitted some figures in connection with the electric light now in use by private consumers. A steady increase was apparent, and Alderman Howe moved that circulars be printed and given currency showing the increase, with a view to extending the use of the light, particulars of prices, &c., to be appended on the circular. Later in the evening the Mayor received permission to make a call of the council with a view to the reduction of the present meter charge.

HUNTER'S HILL.

A meeting of this council was held on the 3rd November. Present:—The Mayor (Alderman M'Bride), Aldermen M'Neil, Joubert, Brown, Jeanneret, and Turner. An appeal from the committee of the fund for the assistance of the widow of the manager of the Carcoar bank was received. Alderman Jeanneret spoke of the bravery of Mrs. Phillips, and hoped the Mayor, as an act of kindness, would instruct a collector to visit each house and obtain subscriptions for the worthy object. To commence the list he handed in a cheque for £2 2s. The Mayor contributed £1 1s, and Alderman Turner £1 1s. Alderman Jeanneret moved that the Mayor act as hon. treasurer for the Hunter's Hill subscription fund. Carried. The Mayor reported that he had interviewed the Telegraph Department in reference to the advisability of having the telegraph wires insulated, so as to prevent the cutting of the trees in the streets. He was informed that the cost would be about £[illegible] or £1400, and he had little hopes of the Government doing this at present. It was decided to obtain an opinion from the Municipal Association as to whether the department had the power to cut the trees. The Mayor moved,—"That Mr. C. W. L. Grace be appointed park ranger, and be authorised to proceed for offences against the bylaws, to impound cattle straying in the park, and that application be made for him to be appointed a special constable under the Towns Police Act." Carried. The tender of Peter Page for the removal of house refuse at 8s and general carting 9s per day was accepted for the term of one year, with the option of renewal by the council for two years.

SMITHFIELD AND FAIRFIELD.

A meeting of the above council was held on Wednesday. Present the Mayor (Alderman Downey) and Aldermen Jacob, Boger, Fain, Spring, Stimson, Vallence, and Anthony. The Mayor of Carcoar wrote forwarding a subscription list in aid of the widow and children of the late J. W. Phillips, who was murdered. The Mayor moved that the letter be received and an effort made to secure funds towards the movement. Alderman Jacob seconded the motion, which was carried. The balances of the various wards were reported to be as follows:—Fairfield Ward (cr.), £59 3s 8d; Prospect Ward (dr.), £33 13s 4d; and Smithfield Ward, £34 7s 8d. Accounts aggregating £26 13s 4d were passed for payment.

SUNDAY RAILWAY EXCURSIONS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Replying rather superciliously to a protest against running excursion trains on Sabbath, "Traveller" says, "If F. W. Davis does not agree with Sunday excursions he can stop away just as easy as the Sunday excursionist can stop away from church." This, however, is obviously a fallacious statement of the case. Within certain limits "Traveller" may be a law unto himself, and for his attitude towards Christ's Church and the Lord's Day he is responsible to God only; but it is quite otherwise with what is publicly done by the State Government, for whose conduct, good or bad, each individual citizen is accountable. The railways are public property, under State control, when, therefore, with a view to profit or otherwise the Commissioners use these as a means of breaking down the sanctity of the Sabbath, not merely are non-church goers, but the whole community is involved in the violation of the fourth commandment. Moreover, when the law is invoked to prohibit the heathen Chinaman from watering his vegetable garden, the barber, butcher, and baker from plying their usual callings, there is good reason for objecting to the money-making proclivities of railway officials on the Lord's Day. Surely there are holidays enough and to spare here without infringing on the quiet rest of the Sabbath, and if it is merely fresh air that is needed, I submit a walk round Mrs. Macquarie's Chair or the Botanic Gardens is far more healthful than a dusty journey by rail.

I am, &c., R. K. SIDEY.

SHIPPING REPORTS.

THE ARMAND BEHIC.

This noted French mail steamer, under the M.M. [illegible] yesterday arrived from Marseilles after a quick [illegible]. She reports leaving on the 3rd October with light [illegible] fine weather up the Mediterranean. She [illegible] coaled up prior to taking the Canal, so as to [illegible] same day. The passage of the Red Sea was [illegible] with medium temperature, and on the 12th she [illegible] anchor at Aden. Then had a fine-weather [illegible] Mahé, entering harbour in company with the Ville [illegible] Ciotat, from Australia, and the s.s. Sindh, from [illegible]. An ordinary weather passage was made to Albany [illegible] she anchored on the 28th. Then a rapid run [illegible] over the Great Australian Bight, the Bell [illegible] reached on 30th October. Melbourne was called at [illegible] fast run round made to Sydney. The steamer [illegible] Noumea.

ANOTHER SPLENDID PASSAGE BY THE AUSTRALIA.

Though she has not wrested the record from her sister P. and O. liner, the Himalaya, the Australia has demonstrated her magnificent steaming capabilities in delivering the English mails in Sydney in 29 days. The Himalaya on her famous run in June last arrived at the Semaphore with the mails at 2.54 a.m. on the Thursday. The Australia arrived there with the mails last Thursday at [illegible] a.m., so that though in both cases the mails were delivered in Sydney on the Saturday, they were at Adelaide a few hours ahead by the Himalaya. Taking the Albany dates the Himalaya arrived there on 13th June (Monday), at 7.[illegible] a.m., and the Australia was there on Monday, 30th October, at 4.5 p.m. Both are wonderful passages, and [illegible] establish the P. and O. Company in their claim to [illegible] place in oversea steaming between England and Australia. As a matter of record the following synopsis of the [illegible] will be of interest:—The Australia sailed from London 2.15 p.m. 29th September, in command of Captain [illegible] Reeves, and arrived at Gibraltar on the morning of [illegible] October, and proceeded to Malta at 4.10 p.m. [illegible] where she arrived at 6.20 a.m., 6th; and leaving at [illegible] p.m., arrived at Brindisi on 7th October. Here [illegible] of mails were shipped, and at 7.45 a.m., 9th October, [illegible] ship sailed, after a delay of several hours caused by [illegible] accident on the Italian railway. Port Said was reached [illegible] 4.15 p.m. on 11th October, the Canal entered at [illegible] p.m., and Suez touched at noon the following [illegible]. Aden was reached at 9.3 p.m. 15th October, and transferred to the company's steamer [illegible] passengers, &c., and 579 bags of mails for Bombay. Left at 1.30 a.m. on the 16th, and arrived at Colombo at [illegible] a.m. on the 21st, and transferred 64 passengers, &c., and 416 bags of mails for China to the s.s. [illegible] of the company, finishing coaling and proceeded to Albany at [illegible] p.m. the same day, where we arrived at 4.5 p.m. on the [illegible] and proceeded at 7 p.m. to Adelaide, where we arrived at 9.41 a.m. on the 2nd November. After landing [illegible] and mails we sailed at 3.45 p.m. for Melbourne, arriving there at 9.29 p.m. on the 3rd November, left there at 9 p.m. on the 4th for Sydney. Passed Cape Green at 6 p.m. on the 5th, arrived at the Heads at 5.53 a.m., and dropped anchor in Sydney harbour at 6.45 a.m. on the 6th November.

ARRIVAL OF THE SOLINGEN.

The German-Australian liner Solingen anchored in Watson's Bay direct from Antwerp and Hamburg. The Solingen left Hamburg on 17th September, and had [illegible] westerly squally weather with snow after starting. The S.E. trades were strong, the N.E. light, and the [illegible] was crossed on 3rd of October, the Cape on the 14th. Her cargo is mostly salt and a little general.

HOMES WITH INDEPENDENCE FOR THE UNEMPLOYED.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—In your editorial remarks dealing with Mr. Reid's connection with the unemployed you say that "if any man has an answer to this question which satisfies his own mind it is his duty to put that answer before the public." Believing I have an answer to that statement, I wish to respond to it, and I must ask for leave through your columns. Whether the position of the unemployed is a disgrace to themselves or a reproach to this country, I believe that the evil can be removed by energy on the one side, and proper legislation on the other.

Much has been said about throwing open the lands under leasehold tenure in the Central and Western divisions of the colony, but I am opposed to this, because in throwing open those lands we disturb interests already settled on the land that give profitable occupation to a large and energetic section of our colonists, who make their holdings contribute a considerable revenue to the State. There is no need of killing one set of interests to make room for the planting of another, so long as there is plenty of room elsewhere for the planting of that other.

There are hundreds of thousands of acres of land in the North Coast districts, rich in all the essentials for profitable occupation, which, with energy and properly directed industry and good management and reasonable expenditure in opening up roads, could absorb the whole of our unemployed, and convert them into independent yeomen.

This is no mere imaginary statement based on the improbable. It is an idea based on solid facts supported by experience, which I will now endeavour to illustrate. Fourteen miles west of Coff's Harbour, 2000ft. above sea level, there commences the great Dondoriga brush, consisting of about 300,000 (three hundred thousand) acres of heavy brush land, splendidly watered, and with a climate not to be surpassed in the world. If a feature survey were made of this land, roads laid out, and creeks charted, and the land measured into blocks ranging from 20 to 200 acres, this one block of land could maintain in comparative affluence about 6000 families. This country is admirably suited for the cultivation of wheat, oats, barley, rye grass, cocksfoot, prairie, rib, clover, and other grasses. It also grows to perfection potatoes, turnips, and beetroot; and for all kinds of semi-tropical fruit trees it can hardly be excelled. The land is rich, as all heavy brush lands are, and all that is required to connect it with one of the most productive areas in the colony is proper administrative action on the part of the Government, and industry on the part of the man who occupies the land.

There are thousands of unemployed who can boast of at least £10, or property that would realise that, and even with that small capital, he need not be afraid of starting on the Dondoriga with every prospect of becoming a landowner, with all the essential comforts of life around him, if the Government would do their part in the matter wisely, and of course do it first, and promptly.

In the first place, the Government would have to make necessary roads from the nearest port to and through this land, so that immediate access to markets be obtainable, and in making these roads intending settlers might, by preference, be employed. The land should be sold under the conditions of the present Land Act, with the exception that no survey fee be charged, and no interest required on the balance due to the Crown. Without these advantages, I have known men take up a 40-acre block of land with only money enough to do so, and by hiring themselves out at odd times have kept themselves in clothes and tucker till they have got a crop off the land, and eventually they have become well-to-do men with very comfortable homes.

The Italians of New Italy, in the Richmond River district, are examples of what can be done by patient industry. They had nothing but their industry and patience to depend on, and the poorest of forest lands to cultivate, but their positions might be coveted by thousands of our own countrymen. With such a place as the Dondoriga and access to market these Italians would now have model homes and be as happy as princes. Surely our own countrymen could do nearly as well. Many a man without £20 has settled on these brush lands as far away from market as the Dondoriga, with no road but what he could make himself, and only worry from land boards and other nuisances, has pulled through and become prosperous and independent on his holding. There are other places beside the Dondoriga on the North Coast districts where hundreds might settle down and do well. Only let the unemployed and those wishing to help them take the matter up, and good will come of it.

The cry of open up the lands of the interior has been made by land speculators, and those jealous of the pastoral occupants of the land, and, in the struggle to become sheep and cattle owners, have ruined themselves and seriously injured the colony. A man in the interior would require a thousand acres to make a living on, while on the coast 50 acres of good brush land would be sufficient. In the scrubs of the Orara, where land has been occupied for 12 years, few of the selectors have more than 25 acres of land under cultivation, but they have maintained large families off that area, and for years their communication with markets has been by means of a pack horse, and in many cases they have had to do without that, but they have succeeded against all obstacles, and it would require a lot of money to buy such men out now. Poultry and pigs have been the mainstay of these men in their early struggles, but now they have horses and cows, and are looking forward to dairying. Their success is due to their own pluck and industry. They have had the advantage of taking choice plots of land, but this advantage was neutralised by the want of roads and isolation from all markets. With the increased facilities now obtainable, there are thousands of plots of land where others could do equally well—if they are made of as good stuff—if the Government open up communication by proper roads. The interior is not suitable for small holdings; the brush lands of the coast are. The latter are not under occupation, and yield no revenue, so the State can afford to sell cheaply.

Turn the energies of the unemployed into such a field as I have suggested, and give them a fair chance of a home to fight for, and one of our social problems will be solved.

THE AUSTRALIAN RIGHTS PURCHASE BILL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—When population increases on the Blue Mountains it will become necessary to provide a water supply for the townships. The only available catchment areas for such purposes drain into the Grose River, and it is the duty of Parliament to provide that the Australian Rights Purchase Company shall have no claim for compensation in the event of it being necessary at any time to take water from the catchments of the Grose or Colo Rivers for water supply purposes. Mr. Cook and Mr. S. E. Lees should watch the interests of their constituents in this respect, as a little discrimination now may obviate future litigation.

THE STAGE AND THE PULPIT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—If the excellency of the Stage is on a par with that of the Pulpit, as Professor John Stuart Blackie would have us believe, why should theatre doors be closed on Sundays when the public generally have more time to attend and obtain the advantages thereof? If a thing is good on the six days of the week surely it is not less so on Sundays, and that being the case why should the Government discourage the opening of theatres on Sundays, depriving the people of the good they offer?

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY EVENING.

The day's business in the Stock and Share market may be said to be at least no worse than it has been for some time past. There is, perhaps, a rather better inquiry. Commercial Bank of Sydney and Bank of New South Wales were dealt at previous rates. Balmain Ferry were quitted at an advance on the last price, and a sale of Port Jackson is mentioned. A new feature was a buyer of New Zealand Insurance. Miscellaneous shares generally were neglected.

The following sales were reported at the Sydney Stock Exchange at noon to-day:—Commercial Banking Company of Sydney, A 20¼, B 9¼; New South Wales, 27; Balmain Ferry, 2s 10d. And at 4 o'clock: Port Jackson Steam, 4s 8d. The closing quotations were:—

The banks have been busy to-day consequent on the resumption of the local wool sales. London exchange remains as last week, the buying rate for 60 days' sight bills being 12s 6d per cent. discount, the selling rate 12s 6d per cent. premium. The bills of the month, both of city and country traders, have been fairly well met, though, of course, some assistance has had to be given. The monetary position, however, is generally better, and this may be taken as an augury of further recovery as the season progresses.

The Wodonga (s.), which arrived to-day from Queensland, brings 7740oz. gold.

The following is a return of the rate and amount of the half-yearly dividends declared by the various local companies during the past month, together with the rate for the corresponding half of the previous year:—

The figures show reduced dividends in the case of the Bank of New South Wales, Illawarra Steam, Castlemaine and Wood Brothers', and the Sydney Tramway and Omnibus companies. On the other hand, the Permanent Mutual Building Society has entered into the dividend-paying list. The total amount of dividends paid by all these companies was £217,430, as compared with £253,366 at the corresponding period of last year.

The decision of the Court of Queen's Bench ordering the Mortgage Insurance Corporation to pay £1000, the amount of an insured deposit with the Commercial Bank of Australia, seems to meet substantially the justice of the case. The suspension of the banks may be said to have entitled the assured depositor to recover that for which he had paid a premium. Otherwise, what was the advantage of insurance? The reconstruction scheme went into force practically for the benefit of the insurance company. It may be supposed that the plaintiff took no part in the reconstruction; otherwise a claim on the assuring company might seem to be invalidated. The details of the case will be interesting, as well as of the grounds of appeal against the decision.

The directors of the St. Joseph's Investment and Building Society report very much better results of the past year's business than were obtained in the preceding year. Then there was a loss of £3415; now a net profit of £5941 is announced, a debit balance of £3415 having been wiped out, and a credit balance of £2526 carried forward. In addition £2375 had been written off accounts for bad debts, partly due to financial depression, but mainly connected with expenses relating to unproductive investments, such as the Federal Coffee Palace. While the securities for advances had been reduced by realisations during the year from £365,000 to £314,000, the income instead of being reduced by £3000 had increased by £1600, due to a large extent to the improved returns from properties which had fallen into the society's hands; and the expenditure had also been reduced from £1032 to £652, and in management other savings had been effected. But while the profit and loss account was satisfactory, it is now stated that the recommendations of the depositors' representatives, giving the society six years to pay off depositors, had been based on a misleading statement. Instead of the income being £48,000 a year, which was computed by Messrs. Miles and Vane on a statement made by the then chairman of the company as the basis for the present arrangement, only £39,000 had been received, against which a deduction of £6892 for expenses of ground rents, repairs, rates, and insurance had to be made. Assuming that £32,000 would be received in the coming year, £12,000 would be required for the year's interest on deposits, leaving £20,000 available to pay an instalment on £241,139, the present amount of deposits. At this rate at least 12 years would be required to pay off deposits, but the property which had fallen into the society's hands is available for realisation at a suitable time, and, looking at all the circumstances, the directors felt no hesitation in expressing their confidence that a period of nine years from the present date would suffice for the repayment of the deposits with interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum. The shareholders are to be asked to sanction a proposal to this effect, to be submitted for the consent of the depositors.

Although capital is not being subscribed at all freely for new undertakings issued in Great Britain, the total for the third quarter of the year, amounting to £8,951,000, exceeded £7,715,000, the amount in the like period of 1892, but it fell far short of £16,936,000 in 1891 and £20,103,000 in 1890. The quarter's figures were swollen by the Victorian loan, amounting to £2,107,000. With such a dearth of investments it is not surprising that capitalists in England subscribed freely for the issue, though it is matter for wonder that they should place so low a value on the security, especially considering that it was only a conversion loan and not an addition to debt. It appears that the British public are even more averse to taking up foreign loans, as not one was subscribed during the quarter. The time has in consequence been particularly favourable for the British corporations to obtain money for various municipal works. The Investors' Monthly Manual gives the total applied for as £965,750. It was mostly made up of comparatively small sums. As the interest offered was generally only 3 per cent., and the minimum price but slightly under par, the total amounts had sometimes not been subscribed for except after a little delay and at the minimum price. Foreign and colonial corporation loans amounted to £845,500, including £362,000 for Capetown; Montreal and Ottawa both having received assistance. British railways had taken £1,030,000, colonial and foreign railways £102,500, mining companies £133,334, banking and finance companies £476,000, pneumatic tyre and cycle companies £140,000, land and exploration companies, £90,000; gas and water undertakings, £856,250; tramway, gas, foreign and colonial, £228,500; music-hall, &c., companies, £50,000; industrial and miscellaneous companies, £710,300. These figures indicate how British capitalists are investing their money. Despite the fact that trade is quiet, there must be considerably greater accumulations for investment, all the more so from the fact that they have been unloading from United States securities. The following figures are suggestive of the difference in the amounts of money now being offered as compared with investments in four preceding years:—

Quarters.	1893.	1892.	1891.	1890.
	£	£	£	£
First	7,770,000	30,943,000	30,548,000	49,243,000
Second	18,179,000	28,133,000	24,809,000	59,510,000
Third	8,951,000	7,716,000	16,936,000	20,103,000
	34,900,000	66,792,000	72,293,000	128,856,000

These figures indicate how great a shrinkage there is in the investment of British capital.

The wool sales were resumed to-day after the suspension caused by the dispute, and everything proceeded as if there had been no trouble. Since the advent of so many foreign buyers the din of a wool auction sale has become much more pronounced. The wool is so carefully and closely valued by the experts that there are probably half a dozen, sometimes a dozen, ready to name the figure, and the endeavour to be first, or first heard, causes a roar which can be heard a considerable distance. To-day, after the holiday, the buyers' lungs were in particularly good form, and the sales proceeded with more than the usual animation. The selling brokers had to be particularly quick to catch the first out of the dozen who named the price at which the fleece was knocked down.

THE IMPORT MARKET.

No more than the usual "mail day" business came under notice to-day. Distributors have a fair number of orders in hand from the country, and their requirements will probably bring them into the market during the coming month. The sales of the Associated Woolselling Brokers were resumed to-day, and these will release a large amount of cash. It is a pity the deadlock should have lasted so long, but it is gratifying to note that there seems to be on both sides a disposition to make up for lost time. The money put into circulation by the purchases of British and Continental buyers will give some impetus to general business, but nothing very flourishing can be expected until "the unemployed" are again at work, and the "wage fund" of the colony again assumes its normal proportions.

The London freight market continues to be mainly controlled by the steamship lines, which work so cheaply that sailing ships have difficulty in obtaining cargo. Mr. W. Balchin writes as follows in his monthly circular of 2nd October:—

Rates of freight to Melbourne and Sydney during the month just closed have fluctuated to some extent, but at the time of writing have a somewhat steadier tendency. This fluctuation is attributable to the uncertainty of the mailboat quotations, which naturally govern the cargo steamer figures. A slight revival is noticeable in the shipments going forward, doubtless owing to the fact that the present is the season for the despatch of merchandise for the Christmas markets. Steam quotations now stand as follow:—Cargo steamer, rough measurement, 12s 6d to 17s 6d Melbourne wharf, 15s Sydney; mail steamer, rough and fine measurement, 25s both ports; weight cargo steamer, 7s 6d to 12s 6d Sydney, 12s to 15s Melbourne; weight, mail steamer, about the same. It is a matter for some satisfaction to note that the different loading brokers have of late fixed their departures at intervals, arranged so as not to clash with each other. Sailing vessels are still receiving very scant support, handicapped as they are by the cheap current steam rates.

In teas a better demand was noted for fine Chinas up to 12d; common was quiet, buyers' ideas not having advanced quite so rapidly as those of sellers. A small lot of Yung How, o. w., was sold at 5½d; 100 packages Kooloo (packets) at 8¼d, and 108 packages at 8d. Other sales reported were—100 half-chests Panyong, 10d; 40 chests Indian pekoe souchong, 7d; 20 chests Ceylon pekoe souchong, 6½d; 26 ½-chests Ceylon broken pekoe, 14d. Ceylons are in a little better supply, the Australia (s.) having brought shipments which had been shut out of two or three other mail steamers next preceding her. About 750 packages of tea, chiefly China, will be offered at auction to-morrow (Tuesday) by Messrs. Harris and Ackman. Of the Calcutta market Messrs. Bathgate, Pim, and Co. write on 14th October:—

The first sale, 21,229 packages, held on the 5th instant, comprised a very good selection, the improved quality previously noticeable being well maintained. Nearly all were sold at previous rates for common and indifferent medium kinds, while good teas sold very irregularly, but generally showed a slight advance. The second sale, held on 12th instant, was rather smaller—18,331 packages—and the quality all round was rather poorer. Pekoe souchongs and low brokens were a little easier, fair medium pekoes and broken pekoes advanced, while the few good teas offering were keenly competed for, and went at an advance on previous week's prices.

In sugar a little business was done in whites at £24; also, in a Bundaberg sample at a c.i.f. price equal to about £23 7s 6d. For a small parcel of yellows £21 was paid.

DRJ candles were moving in spot lots at 6¼d, and Schiedams at 6⅜d. A parcel of 350 boxes paraffins was cleared at 5¼d. In other lines of general groceries the following sales were mentioned:—A parcel of Bryant and May's vestas at usual tariff; 40 cases Glen Ewin jam, 2lb., 11s; 20 cases Eno's fruit salt, 25s; 25 cases Lea and Perrins' pint sauce, 20s; a small lot of coriander seed, for export, 3½d; one tank Taylor's cocoa; 4 tons canary seed, for export, £16 10s, f.o.b.; 10 cases Symington's coffee essence; sales of Black Horse coarse and fine salt at usual tariff; Liverpool red rocksalt, at 37s 6d; German red and white ditto, 35s.

Fruit had not much business. A few distributing sales of currants were mentioned at 3¼d to 3½d. For an import parcel to arrive 3⅜d would probably be accepted. New elemes, sultanas, muscatels, and figs were to hand by mail steamer, and samples, which have turned out in excellent condition, have been placed on the market. New elemes in import parcels are quoted 4½d; old fruit, 4½d; new sultanas, 4½d; old, 4½d; new figs, 6s 3d; new muscatels—half-boxes 13d, trays 13½d.

Messrs. De Lissa, Sons, and Co., under date 6th October, write as follows respecting the London market for dried fruits:—

Sugar is not quite so strong as when we last wrote, owing to improved appearances on the Continent, but we are of opinion that the crop will be a very moderate one. Dried fruits: Currants, according to Messrs. Hamburger's report in Patras, the market there has been very firm, large transactions have taken place, and all fruits from the provinces are being largely bought up. The same firm also reports that the French are coming in to buy for distilling purposes. Here the market has fluctuated considerably, and a great deal of "bull" and "bear" dealing, which is simply speculating on the future course of the exchange, has taken place. Elemes: Early arrivals have fetched fancy prices, 18s to 20s, a great deal being rubbish, but for distant colonial markets buyers have been compelled to purchase, to get the fruit out in time for Christmas trade. We have shipped via Marseilles, as owing to the quarantine laws nothing will go direct to Port Said this year. Sultanas are in short supply, not being enough for the demand. Prices are 2s up from the opening rates, and are now worth 17s to 19s. Much lower prices will ensue later on. The crop is a very heavy one. Figs are in heavy demand, and the price paid, c.i.f. in the Thames, has been 43s to 45s. We having purchased early for our requirements, we bought them at from 7s to 8s lower. Muscatels: Good fruit is selling from 68s to 80s, according to package. Dates: No new crop here yet. Old is selling at from 15s. Hops: The market has moved about a little, and is now firm. Fine Kent goldings are worth £7 to £8. Extra fine, suitable for hopping down, are fetching another £1.

Hennessey's case brandy is still quoted 36s and 47s for one and three star respectively. To arrive, however, a good deal of business has been done, at a shade under these prices. Geneva is quiet, the deliveries made during the last few days having fairly supplied the requirements of buyers for the present. Burnett's Old Tom is selling to arrive at 11s 6d. Some business was done in John Jameson and Son's bulk whisky at 16s 6d in bond. Agents report sales last week totalling 400 cases Shamrock whisky (flagons); 200 cases Loch Dhu (flagons), also 15 quarter-casks 5 octaves Shamrock, and 10 octaves Loch Dhu. 20 cases Pommery champagne were sold at 110s and 115s quarts and pints. Trade sales of ale and stout at usual tariff.

In kerosene a little business was done for export, 300 cases to arrive, Pax being placed at 7d, f.o.b. Duty-paid quotations are unaltered, with little business passing. The general quotation is 1s 2d to 1s 2½d for 150° test oil, but one or two holders are willing to sell at ¼d lower.

Nearly all available lots of woolpacks have been taken up, and the market is firmer, ¼d advance being asked for blue-stripe packs of good sample. Cornsacks had some attention to-day, and small lots were sold at full prices. It is hardly probable that shipments to Melbourne will be on a large scale, although there is considerable inquiry from that quarter, the expenses—primage, &c.—being much heavier than would be the case here. A fair parcel of bran bags was sold at 3s 9d, ex store. According to Calcutta advices, the s.s. Argus brings 704 bales of cornsacks to Sydney, 4163 to Melbourne, 1537 to Adelaide, and 137 to Queensland, making a total of 6541 bales. This brings the total shipments of cornsacks for the season to 25,178 bales, against 20,872 bales for the corresponding period of last year. The total shipments last year were 44,685 bales. The shipments to Sydney have been 6439 bales, against 1425 bales at this time last year; to Melbourne, 13,315 bales, against 15,592 bales last year. All these comparisons include the Argus's shipments. It will be seen that had it not been for the rise in jute, which no one could foresee, and which prevents further purchases being made in Calcutta to sell here at anything like current rates, there would have been plenty of time to have a few thousand bales additional landed here before the actual demand for the harvest set in, and the hopes of speculative purchasers would probably have been once more blighted. As it is, however, they are able to sell at a fair profit. Of the advance in jute Messrs. Robinson, Morrison, and Co. write from Calcutta on 14th October:—

Jute (loose): During the past fortnight there has been a large decrease in arrivals and a considerable advance in prices, which are about 8 to 10 annas higher. At the close our market is excited with a strong upward tendency. Baled has been "booming." It almost looks as if we were going too fast. The rise has come a month or so sooner than the greatest optimist could have expected; but home buyers have got up their pluck, and sterling prices touch £16. Good jute is going to be scarce, and the quality of marks will not be of a high order. Closing prices may be quoted at 39.8rs. to 40rs. for red standard, 38rs. for blue, and 36rs. for black standard, roots uncut.

Respecting the market for manufactured jute goods, further advices of the same date are to the following effect:—

Jute goods: Since the date of our last report jute has continued to rise rapidly, until now prices have reached an abnormally high level and far above what mills can afford to pay against current rates for manufactured goods. Sellers are naturally more than ever determined not to entertain fresh business, and many mills now talk of shutting down rather than go on working at a ruinous loss. Business during the fortnight has again been very limited, but on the whole buyers have shown more disposition to work, and higher prices have been paid for most fabrics. The colonies still hold off, and the only purchases we hear of are 500 bales cornsacks at 4s 9d c.i.f., and about 200 bales branbags at 3s 7d c.i.f. Business could not be done to-day under 4s 9d c.i.f. for cornsacks and 3s 8d c.i.f. for branbags, and any demand would cause a further advance. Potato bags could not be bought under 4s 6d c.i.f.; but there is no inquiry for cornsacks. Castor oil is steady and unchanged at 1s 9d c.i.f. for full cases. Liverpool buyers show more inclination to operate, and if business results a firmer market may be looked for.

The s.s. Bancoora was to sail from Calcutta on 15th October with a moderate cargo for Australian ports. If sufficient cargo offered another steamer was to be put on at the end of the month, but at mail dates there was little sign of any coming out.

Chemicals were quiet, a little business was done in caustic soda to arrive at £13 2s 6d. On the spot import parcels are quoted £13 7s 6d. In Muspratt's some business was reported at £13 15s; and ton lots were distributing to the trade at £14. Of the London market, Messrs. E. W. Carling and Co. report under date 6th October:—"Chemicals: Hardly any change except caustic, which is quoted at £11 f.o.b. Liverpool for 70 per cent., while quinine is also dearer at 9d per oz."

Fencing wire was unaltered, and not much business was done. A parcel of 50 tons Gartsherrie pig iron was sold to arrive at equal to 80s per ton delivered. For 3 tons barbed wire £16 10s was paid, and for a small parcel of wire nails, 12s 6d. English mail advices respecting metals contain little information of interest. The general tendency, however, was towards improvement, demand being somewhat greater and prices firmer. Messrs. A. G. Kidston and Co. write from Glasgow:—

Manufactured Iron: The position of the finished iron industries is much the same as indicated in last report. Local works continue to be well employed, but the closing of many English mills for want of fuel explains this to a great extent. Still there does seem to be a better demand for bar and sheet iron, both for home consumption and for export. Makers of galvanised sheet iron also report improved business for Indian and other markets. Tinplates: Business continues quiet in tone and small in volume. Ordinary Cokes are selling, f.o.b. Wales, at 11s 1½d to 11s 3d, and Charcoals at 12s 4½d for Beaumer and 12s 1½d for Siemens brands. If tin advances, or even maintains its present value, the price of plates will doubtless, to some extent, advance in sympathy. The last weekly return of the Swansea Harbour Trustees shows increased shipments and reduced stocks to the extent of 16,266 boxes.

Building materials were rather quiet. A sale of 10,000ft. ⅝in. Baltic, to arrive December, was quoted at 12s, ship's slings; 70,000ft. ⅜in. at 8s 6d; and 30,000ft. weatherboards at 4s 6d—all on same terms. Business covering 250 casks Levitt's cement was also mentioned.

Messrs. Harris and Ackman announce by advertisement elsewhere that they will hold their usual weekly sale of groceries, oilstores, &c., to-morrow (Tuesday) morning, at 11. The catalogue includes about 740 packages of China tea and 25 chests Ceylon pekoe.

The Customs revenue received to-day amounted to £10,301. The principal items were:—

Spirits, £2739; wine, still, £52; wine, sparkling, £54; ale, porter, and beer, in wood, £415; ale, porter, and beer, in bottles, £111; tobacco and snuff, £196; tobacco, unmanufactured, £10; tobacco, for manufacturing purposes only, £68; cigars, £19; sugar, unrefined, £248; rice, £106; dried fruits, £1024. Specific duty: Advertising matter, £47; bacon and hams, &c., £60; flour, £15; fruits, boiled, &c., £34; galvanised iron, £100; hay and chaff, £84; iron, pig, £30; jams and jellies, £20; oatmeal, £27; oats, £34; oil, kerosene, £76; oils, other, £60; paper, brown, £8; preserves, £68; soap, fancy, £17; starch, &c., £22; timber, dressed, £80; timber, undressed, £179; tinctures over 75 per cent., £92; vinegar, £18. Ad valorem, 10 per cent., £2428; 15 per cent., £85. Harbour and light rates, £135; pilotage—Sydney, £118; harbour dues, £15; excise on tobacco, £530; excise on cigars and cigarettes, £199; excise on beer, £499. Total, £10,301.

THE EXPORT MARKET.

The Sydney Woolselling Brokers' Association resumed their sales to-day, the New Zealand Land Association, Limited, Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, Limited, and Messrs. Hill, Clarke, and Co. occupying the rostrum. There was a very large attendance of buyers, and competition within certain limits, was active and even excited. Prices obtained for lambs, pieces, bellies, and locks were fully equal to those of last year. Greasy fleece, however, generally speaking was ¼d to ½d lower than last year. The preference shown for "pieces" is so marked that next season growers will feel inclined to "skirt" their fleeces much more liberally than heretofore. The brokers who sold to-day have handed us the following particulars of their respective sales:—

The New Zealand Land Association, Limited (on behalf of the New Zealand Loan and Mercantile Agency Company) report: The difference between buyers and sellers in this market which has interrupted the sales last month having been satisfactorily adjusted, wool-selling operations were resumed by this company to-day, when an attractive and very representative catalogue of the season's supply from New South Wales and Queensland was submitted to a very large attendance of buyers. From the outset competition was exceedingly keen, and during the interval which has elapsed since the company's first sale of the season a month ago, the market has hardened slightly. As was the case at the initial sales of the season the attention of buyers appears to be chiefly directed towards crossbred staple and the lower qualities of merino produce, and prices for these descriptions, together with lambs, proved in all instances extremely satisfactory to growers. The best greasy merino fleece on the other hand is difficult to place at figures which meet with owners approval, owing to the absence of American support, and these wools are undoubtedly relatively the cheapest at the present time. For crossbred sorts up to 9¼d per lb. was paid for a well grown sample of lambs marked JFH over Temi, from Doughboy Hollow, and for the 6C crossbred fleece, a little parcel in very light condition but rather burry from Scone, 8½d was secured. In merino wools the pride of place was accorded to a clip branded Umbercollie, from the Darling Downs, which was marketed in the pink of condition, and had, moreover, been very carefully prepared for sale. This mark was taken by a well-known French buyer at 8½d for the first combing, 9d for the second combing and 7¾d for the broken. For the 2MZ fleece, also from the Darling Downs, a very perfect sample in capital order, 8d was paid. From the Parkes district some very attractive stylish clips were catalogued, and among these may be specially mentioned the H&AB over Coradgery brand, which sold at 7½d for 121 bales hogget wool, and 6¾d for the first pieces. The D&M over Bulgandramine, a very favourite clip from the same neighbourhood, also attracted a large amount of attention, the wool of this mark being splendidly grown, thoroughly sound, and carrying sufficient yolk to make it remunerative to the grower. For the top quality of this clip the biddings fell a shade below owners' expectations, but a large parcel of 337 bales A quality was disposed of at 7½d per lb., while the bellies were sold at 5½d per lb. From Nevertire the Mullen crossbred, a rather wasty and burry parcel, brought 7¼d per lb., and 7½d was paid for a nice little clip in rather fatty condition, marked WS over Dromside, from Burrowa. The McM Bros clip, from Dubbo, realised 7½d, a similar figure being realised for the J in diamond wether fleece, from Coonabarabran. Altogether 4574 bales were submitted, and of the quantities sold (2414 bales) by far the largest proportion was secured by the Continental section of the trade, who appear to be well supplied with orders at limits which compare to advantage with the prices recently realised by shippers in the September-October series of London sales. Scoured wools, of which the selection offered to-day was not large, are selling well, up to 18d being paid for the P&JC mark from Brisbane, and 12¾d for a dry-conditioned and bulky parcel of first pieces of the Umbercollie brand. JFH over Temi, from Murrurundi, 5 bales crossbred wethers at 7½d, 4 crossbred lambs at 8¼d, 9 pieces at 6½d, 3 bellies at 4¼d. A'C over Chanticleer, from Narrandera, 26 bales at 7d, 10 first pieces at 6¼d. H in diamond over Oak Vale, 10 fleece at 7d; Yamma, from Narrandera, 45 bales broken at 6d; Lockwood, from Queensland, 33 bales fleece at 6¾d; Bimble over WOT, from Coonamble, 12 bales first lambs at 5½d, 17 lambs at 4½d, 31 first locks at 3d, 19 locks at 2½d; WA over 1893, from Rockhampton, Queensland, 19 bales first combing super. at 6d, 27 second combing at 5½d, 28 broken at 6d; 6C, from Scone, 11 bales crossbred at 8½d; BRa in diamond, from Mundooran, 202 bales broken at 6¼d, 10 rams at 6½d, 44 A lambs at 6¼d, 13 B lambs at 5½d, 59 bellies at 4½d; 2MZ, from Queensland, 20 fleece at 8d; JH over Beenba, from Coonamble, 115 bales C at 6¼d; OB over B, from Namoi, 27 fleece at 6¼d; VBH, from Coolabah, 36 wethers and ewes at 6½d. Scoured: Umbercollie, from Darling Downs, 37 pieces at 12¾d; GBR over Darling Downs, 25 firsts at 11¾d; CB&Co., 19 skin pieces at 4¾d; BM over POs, 11 skin at 9¼d, from Bourke.

Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, Limited, report:—Since our opening sale on 4th October no sales of importance have been held, but the difficulties with the buyers during the intervening four weeks having been amicably settled, we to-day resumed our weekly auction sales. Our catalogue contained 5872 bales, and included a very fair selection of the average clips of the colony in both greasy and scoureds, the former largely predominating. The attendance of buyers was very large and representative, and the temporary suspension of operations did not have any apparent effect on the sale, biddings being conducted with all the animation of last year, showing clearly that extensive orders are on the market for prompt execution. A comparison of prices of the two seasons in the case of greasy fleece, show in favour of buyers to the extent of ¼d to ½d per lb.; this is most noticeable in the best clips, but the difference is largely compensated for by the extra yolk they carry. Almost all other classes commanded last year's figures, lambs, pieces, bellies and locks, both in the grease and scoured, realising at times even above last season's parity. It would be difficult to select any particular class as being neglected, but the owners of greasy fleece will be perplexed at the prices paid for that class when compared with the sales of the pieces and bellies, which in many cases reached almost fleece price. Such anomalies, however, have ever been a puzzle, and can only be explained by the antics of fashion, which demand to-day that which will not be entertained to-morrow. Amongst the principal sales the following may be noted:—LO over Mudgee, from Mudgee, a wool of very fine quality, rather short, but bright and well classed, made 7¾d, the broken bringing 6¾d; J Barr over Iandra, a bright shafty wool from Young district, reached 7¼d; K in circle over Pigeonbah, fine, deeply skirted, bright, from Warren, made 7d; RPS over Mudgee, from Mudgee, a fine merino, of good staple, rather sappy, reached 7¾d; NIM over RIC, from Mosgiel, chalky, well grown, reached 7d; MUM, from Warren, a good bold stapled wool, deeply skirted, and carrying plenty of yolk, reached 6¾d for pieces; A'B Bros over Nelgowrie, from Coonamble, of good staple and quality, but very sappy, reached 7¼d for 132 ewes; M, from Moree, fine, dry, free, sold at 7¾d; AW over Myall Downs, from Queensland, dry, fine, and bright, sold at 7¾d; Collymongle over WP, earthy, rather short; fine quality, made 7¼d for 131 first combing; JKF over Ulah, from Walgett, well grown, good staple, well classed, reached 7d for 36 first combing. In scoureds the GB&Co. over Sunnyside, from Yass, skin wool, of fair staple and fair weight, sold to 12¾d; CC, a large clip from Hungerford, of splendid colour, well scoured and free, reached 13¾d for firsts, first pieces selling at 12¾d, bellies at 11d; TM over Cato, from Brewarrina, of splendid colour, and well scoured, sold to 13¾d. By auction and privately since last reporting we have disposed of 4667 bales, including the following:—Greasy: GH over C in diamond, over Caporiee, 14 at 6¾d; FB, 14 first combing hoggets at 6¾d; WR over Boggabri, from Boggabri, 11 at 6¾d; GO over W, from Gongolgon, 17 at 6¾d; CP, 18 at 6½d; R over — over Craigieburn, 20 at 7d; CMcF over Glendale, 17 at 5¾d; JHD over Dufflea, from Millie, 8AA combing ewes at 7¼d; M&P over Coobiconda, from Goodooga, 45 first combing at 6¾d, 11 second combing at 6¾d, 22 clothing at 6¼d; Keewong, from Mosgiel, 14 pieces at 5d; F Ross over Nyngan, from Nyngan, 11 at 6¾d; H&G over Forest Lodge over Boggabri, from Boggabri, 13 ewes at 6¾d; J&WT over F, from Forbes, 22 wethers at 7d; EU, 29 at 6¾d, 14 skirts at 5¾d; JC over —, from Darlington Point, 21 at 7d; AJH over U, from Coonamble, 23 at 6¾d; NIM over RHC, from Booligal, 34 at 7d, 16 ewes at 6¾d; HC over Woodstock, from Bourke, 28 at 5¾d; JLA, from Darlington Point, 10 first pieces at 6d; WT over Fernbank, from Jerilderie, 15 first pieces at 6d; A'B Bros over Nelgowrie, from Coonamble, 133 ewes at 7¼d, 49 hoggets at 7d, 24 C at 6¾d, 14 first pieces at 6¾d, 10 pieces at 5d; JW over Warge Rock, from Upper Bogan, 22 first pieces at 6¾d, 14 second pieces at 3d, 12 bellies at 5d; NF, 12 at 6¾d; JP over X over triangle over Yarraman Park from Willow Tree, 18 at 6¾d, 21 wethers at 6¾d; T over L over Dog and Duck from Forbes, 10 ewes at 6¾d; D&Co over Deepwater from Wagga, 71 bellies at 4¾d, 64 stained pieces at 4¾d, 73 locks at 2¾d; Hazelfield over TWK, 54 A at 5¾d, 29 B at 4¾d; JP over Denny Plain, 49 at 6¾d. Scoured: Collymongle over WP conjoined, 25 second pieces at 10¾d, 14 bellies at 10¾d; J Walsh over Botany in heart (local), 16 first combing crossbred at 11¾d; H over 8 in diamond (local), 23 AA at 9¾d; HC&Co., from Forbes, 16 first combing at 11¾d; J Walsh over Botany in heart, 270 first combing at 13d, 100 second combing at 9¾d, 1078 at satisfactory prices.

Messrs. Hill, Clark, and Co. report.—The difficulty between buyers and sellers regarding payment for wools sold having been satisfactorily arranged we resumed our regular sales for the season to-day, and brought forward a catalogue of 3142 bales. The attendance of buyers was large, and represented the full buying strength of the market, and, under brisk competition from all sections of the trade, we cleared, under the hammer, 2991 bales, which, together with 627 bales sold at auction and privately since last reporting makes a clearance of 3128 bales. Amongst the principal lots offered the following are the chief lines:—Ravensworth over LCA, from the Upper Hunter, 53 bales first combing, at 8¾d per lb., 31 second combing at 7¾d, 7 first hoggets at 9d, 8 second hoggets at 7¾d, 49 first pieces at 7¼d, 39 second pieces at 6¾d, 5 stained pieces at 4¾d, 13 bellies at 5¾d, 6 locks at 3¾d, while the crossbred of this brand topped the market at 9d per lb. for the first cross-breds and 8¾d for second quality. The T over diamond clip was again well represented, the first combing, 32 bales, making 7¾d, 22 second combing at 7¾d, 22 first clothing at 7¾d, 15 second clothing at 7d, 40 first pieces at 7d, 11 second pieces at 5¾d, bellies at 5d, locks at 2¾d; BS over Anglefield, from Millie, 18 AA combing hoggets and ewes sold at 7¾d, 21 first pieces at 6¾d; W. Brooke, from Muswellbrook, 6 first combing realised 7¾d, 7 second combing at 6¾d, 5 first pieces at 6¾d; JM over M, from Moree, 31 first hoggets, wethers, and ewes at 7¼d; second ewes at 6¾d; JBS over D, from near Singleton, 5 crossbred at 7¾d; H over Asset, from Muswellbrook, crossbred at 8d; Merbella, from the Macquarie, 64 first combing ewes at 7¼d, 31 first clothing at 6¾d, 44 B fleece ewes at 6¾d, 44 first combing wethers at 7, 18 second combing at 7d, 14 first pieces washed at 5¾d, 33 first combing at 6¾d, 28 broken fleece at 6¾d, 43 at 6¾d, 34 first clothing at 6¾d; AGF over Clyde, from the Darling, 20 second fleece at 5¾d, 80 first pieces hoggets, wethers, and ewes, at 6d; GG&Co., from Forbes, 19 AA ewes at 7¼d; DKY over Wait-a-while, from Dubbo, 34 combing at 7¾d, clothing at 7d; JW over Woodburn, from Nevertire, 30 wethers and ewes at 7d, 16 wethers at 6¾d; DJC over Newlawe, from Moree, 30 hoggets at 7¾d; AF over Merriman, from Coonamble, 56 wethers and ewes at 6¾d, 23 hoggets at 6¾d, pieces and bellies at 4¾d; Edwd. Flood over Carabee, from the Lower Macquarie, 74 ewes at 6¾d, 113 broken fleece, hoggets, wethers, and ewes at 6d, 19 lambs at 6¾d; McNab over Kyanga, from Queensland, 24 wethers and ewes at 6¾d, 19 second wethers and ewes, at 6¾d; ASB over Milton, from Bourke, 33 first combing W at 6d, 18 second combing W at 5¾d, first pieces at 5d; Greenfield over J reversed L, from Narrabri, 37 broken wethers and ewes at 6¾d, bellies at 3¾d, locks at 2¾d; EWT over Omeo, from Wee Waa, 20 fleece at 7d, pieces at 6d; Haddon over Rig, 217 locks at 3¾d privately, beside numerous other lots.

Dalgety and Co., Limited, Melbourne, report by telegraph of their sale to-day as follows:—

At our wool sale to-day we offered an excellent selection of wool, comprising 5300 bales, and including several important clips from Riverina and Northern Victoria. Competition was very brisk from a full attendance of buyers, especially for crossbreds and for pieces, bellies, and locks of all descriptions. Late rates were less firm, probably owing to the large quantities of such wools which are now being offered. We sold, in all, 4700 bales.

At Darling Harbour to-day, 6426 bales of wool were manifested. 1168 arrived by boat from the Hunter River, and 2604 from Queensland.

COMMERCIAL TELEGRAMS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENTS.)

MELBOURNE, MONDAY.

The Stock and Share market opened firmer, especially for investment stocks, but the attention given to racing matters has made business difficult, and the sales have been of very moderate extent. There was a further improvement in the market value of bank shares. Commercial preference changed hands at advanced price of £5. Melbourne Tramway and Omnibus had a limited sale at 10s 1½d. Mont de Piété, 10s; Tarrawingee Flux, 32s 6d to 33s; Broken Hill Water Supply, 6s; National Insurance, 10s; Southern Insurance, 13s; and Victoria Fire, 28s.

The markets have felt the influence of the coming holiday, and the events of the week have been without animation. Wheat had sales in various parcels, aggregating 2000 bags, at 2s 10d. Good stout oats are steady at 2s to 2s 2d; the market is showing a firm tone. Algerians continue to be quoted at 1s 9d to 1s 11d. Bran continues in good supply at 6¼d. The import markets are dull.

ADELAIDE, MONDAY.

The depression in the local market for cereals as yet shows no signs of lifting. There is a rather better demand for bran and pollard. Some small parcels quitted at 7½d. Wheat, 2s 10d, gross weight. Flour commands but little inquiry. Quotations for leading brands vary from £7 5s to to £7 10s, and ordinary from £6 15s to £7.

PRODUCE INWARDS.

GOULBURN, MONDAY.

No potatoes were sent from here to-day for Sydney.

PORT ADELAIDE, MONDAY.

The steamer Adelaide sailed for Sydney on Saturday with the following cargo:—850 bags flour, 52 cases eggs, 50 cases wine, 60 boxes butter, and sundries.

The steamer Fitzroy also sailed for Sydney with the following cargo:—140 quarter-bags flour, 43 bags bran.

THE PRODUCE MARKETS—MONDAY.

TRADE IN SUSSEX-STREET.

Business in the Produce markets to-day assumed a brighter outlook. Not only were transactions more plentiful, but prices too showed a general hardening tendency. A large number of vessels arrived either early this morning or late yesterday, with no small additions to contribute towards existing stocks. At the railway, too, a fair quantity of produce was offered to a large number of the trade, and, the supply being well within requirements, a firmer tone prevailed.

THE FEED-GRAINS MARKET.

Notwithstanding the heavy supply forward this morning from the North, amounting to something over 4000 bags, the maize market was well maintained. The greater portion of the supply came to hand from the Manning and Bellinger rivers. Prime maize ruled firm at 3s 7d, while samples but slightly inferior found a ready sale at 1d less. No further supplies of oats came to hand from New Zealand to-day. The Tarawera, however, brought over 1000 bags of chickwheat, which met with a good demand to 3s 4d per bushel.

The closing quotations were:—

Maize.—Market ruled firm, supplies good. Prime quoted at 3s 6d to 3s 7d per bushel.

Oats.—Fair inquiry for prime, and unchanged, viz.:—Prime bright feed, 2s 8½d to 2s 9d; dun, 2s 9d per bushel.

Barley.—Dull. Cape, 2s 11d to 3s per bushel.

Peas.—Dun, 3s; grey, 4s 3d to 4s 6d; blue Prussians, very scarce, 4s 6d to 4s 9d per bushel.

Chickwheat.—Fresh samples, ex Tarawera. Good demand, at 3s 3d to 3s 4d per bushel.

BREADSTUFFS.

Steady demand at about late rates. Quotations: New South Wales roller, £8 12s 6d upwards; city brands, £9. Victorian roller quoted at £8 15s to £9; at one makes, £7 10s to £8, and milling wheat, nominally 3s 7d to 3s 8d, Sydney delivery.

BRAN AND POLLARD.

The market again had a buoyant tone, and higher prices were quoted, viz.:—Bran, 8½d to 8¾d; and pollard, 9½d to 9¾d per bushel.

THE FORAGE MARKET.

It is generally thought that the Victorian chaff market is now at its best. Prime was quoted at to £3 17s 6d, but a few lots of extra green quality were mentioned at £4 per ton. This week's supplies will be large, but a lull is then expected, as what with Cup day and Prince of Wales' Birthday being in the same week it is not likely that much cutting or shipping will be done. After this, however, the high prices are sure to draw increased supplies. At the railway this morning several truckloads realised 4s 1d per cwt. Generally speaking, the quality of the supplies forward was very good. Lucerne is daily coming in in larger quantities both by rail and from the Hunter River. Railway hay realised to £3 10s, and wharf to £3 5s per ton. Oaten and wheaten hay in bundles was plentiful, but prices somewhat improved in consequence of a firmer demand. Straw continued dull, and almost unsaleable at a low range.

The closing quotations were:—

Chaff.—Prime quality scarce. Best Victorian worth £3 15s to £3 17s 6d; extra prime £4; hot samples plentiful and dull, at £3 to £3 5s. Local in fair supply at—medium, from £3; prime, £3 10s to £4 per ton.

Hay.—Plentiful. Local oaten in bundles, medium, £3; prime, £3 15s to £4; wheaten, bundled, £2 10s to £3 5s per ton.

Lucerne.—Supplies good. Fair demand; £2 15s for medium quality; prime, railway, to £3 10s; new hay in truss, £2 to £3; Hunter River, medium, £2 to £2 10s; best, to £3 5s per ton.

Straw.—Local bundled, £1 17s 6d to £2; derrick-pressed, to £2 per ton.

THE POTATO MARKET.

As was anticipated, the City of Grafton's supply of potatoes did not exceed 1300 bags. These opened to a good market at £6 10s, and the greater part were readily disposed of. The Tarawera brought 100 bags of New Zealands, which are quoted at £5 15s to £6. At the railway this morning a slight improvement occurred, supplies being very small.

The closing quotations were:—New Zealand, £5 15s to £6; Clarence River, firm, at £6 10s. Locals: Red skins, £6 10s; blue skins, none available; and white, £5 5s 6d per ton.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Onions.—Quoted firm at £10 15s to £11.

Beeswax.—Dark, 8¾d; good bright, 10d; choice, to 10½d per lb.

Honey.—From 3d to 3½d per lb.; extra pure, 4d.

Lard.—Dull. Finely rendered, in bladders, 3d to 4d; bulk, 2d to 3d per lb.

DAIRY PRODUCTS.

Eggs showed a further advance, supplies being within requirements, but other lines were unaltered.

Butter.—Prime, firm; inferior, dull. The closing quotations were:—Best creamery and Berrima Cold Climate Company butter, 8d; factory, 7d to 8d; and dairy, 6d to 7d per lb.

Eggs.—Market advanced. South, 8d to 9d; North, 8d per dozen.

Bacon and Hams.—Dull. Hand-cured bacon, 6d to 6½d; machine-cured, 5d to 5½d. Hams: Colonial, 9d to 9½d per lb.

Cheese.—Fair demand. Best brands of ordinary, 3d to 4d; second, 3d; small loaf, 4d to 4½d; extra prime, 5d per lb.

Poultry.—Prime young birds in demand; other sorts dull. Fowls, 2s 6d to 4s. Ducks, 3s to 3s 6d. Geese: Young birds wanted; best, 4s 6d to 5s 6d. Turkeys: Cocks, 9s to 12s; hens, 5s 6d to 7s.

THE WOOD SALES.

At the wood sales at Darling Harbour this morning a fair supply was available. The demand was dull at about late rates. The closing quotations were:—Foot wood, 7s to 10s 6d; billet wood, 6s to 8s 6d; bundled wood, 7s to 10s; bakers' wood, 6s 3d to 8s 6d; bark, 6s to 7s.

THE REDFERN SALES.

This morning only 43 truckloads of forage, &c., were submitted at the Redfern Terminus Market. Buyers were in good attendance, and the supply being considerably smaller than was to be anticipated for a Monday's sale, prices generally were firmer. Prime chaff realised to 4s 1d, and the proportion of really good quality was much larger than usual. Prime oaten hay, in bundles, brought to 4s 1d per cwt. Lucerne moved off fairly well to 3s 6d per cwt. Straw was not wanted, and prices ranged from 1s 11d to 2s. Only two trucks of potatoes were offered, red realising 6s 6d, and white 5s 2d per cwt.

Appended are the proportions of the various descriptions actually submitted at to-day's sales:—Chaff, 26 trucks; oaten hay, in bundles, 7; wheaten, bundled, 2; lucerne, in bales, 4—in truss, 1; straw, derrick-pressed, 3; bundled wheaten, 3; bran, 1; and potatoes, 2.

The number of trucks manifested this morning was 14, being apportioned as follows:—Chaff, 6; oaten hay and lucerne, 7; and bran, 25 bags.

Among the consignees were Messrs. W. Inglis and Son, Ellis and Co., Heaton Bros., J. H. Moore and Co., H. M. Suttor and Co., Dent and Perry, J. Bridge and Co., and H. Prescott and Co.

The above supplies were disposed of as follows:—

FAT STOCK SALES.

THE HOMEBUSH YARDS.

There was a good attendance of buyers at the Homebush yards, and on account of the holiday next Thursday they bought for a week's supply. The operations of the Sydney Meat Preserving Company also materially assisted the market. Sheep: 38,800 were penned. Lambs were scarce, and in brisk demand at considerably improved prices, but, with this exception, the market was without material change. Bullocks: 1844 were yarded. Demand was active and the market showed improvement. Bullocks brought £1 4s to £6 2s; cows, £3 10s to £3 14s. Best beef may be quoted about 14s 6d per 100lb.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENTS.)

COBAR, MONDAY.

Rich gold-bearing stone has been struck near the surface in the New Eldorado claim, adjoining Mount Drysdale, on the south. Shares have gone up suddenly to £52 10s sellers, and buyers are eager at from £45 to £47. The claim is divided into 36 shares. Mount Drysdale still maintains its prestige for richness. The stone taken from the 70ft. level is the richest yet obtained from the mine.

BROKEN HILL, MONDAY.

The North Mine for the past week despatched 40 tons of lead ore, averaging 42 per cent. of lead and 14oz. of silver and 20 tons bagged, going 80oz. of silver and 27 per cent. of lead. The latter class ore is being obtained south of the crosscut at the 100ft. level, but it is limited in extent. Copper ore averaging 25 per cent. and 80oz. silver is being bagged for despatch.

MELBOURNE, MONDAY.

Among gold companies the principal sales were:—Bayley's Consols, 5s 7½d to 6s; Chalk's No. 1, 17s 10d; Derby United, 18s; Duke Grand, 6s 10d, 6s 4d; Duke North, 8s 6d to 8s 9d; Glenfern, 3s 4d; Ironbark, 3s 1d; Long Tunnel, £61 to £63; Long Tunnel Extended, 59s; Madame Berry, 51s to 56s; New Moon, 8s; Princess Dagmar, 22s; Russell's Reef, 3s 3d to 3s 4d; South New Moon, 7s 4d to 7s 6d; Charters Towers, 1s 1d; West Sunlight, 2s 6d.

The market for silver companies was inactive, and no sales are reported.

ADELAIDE, MONDAY.

A fair amount of business was recorded on 'Change to-day. Sales included M'Culloch, half of three seventy-fifths, £31, £32 10s; Neale and Osborne, £32 10s; Hannan's Rush, £10; Princess Dagmar, 22s 9d; Ivanhoe, 12s 11d, 12s 3d; Lake View and Boulder East, 5s 6d; Fraser's S. pro., 4s 6d; Union, gold and antimony, 3½d; Brokens, 48s 9d, 49s, 48s 3d; Block 10, 18s, 17s 6d; Block 14, 6s 3d; Central, 3s 1d; Old British, 2s 3d; Koolka and Mingary Flux, 1d.

RETURNS.

Block 14 Company, for week ended November 2.—Ore, 498 tons; lead, 144 tons; silver, 8765oz.

Star of the East.—Crushed 1556 tons for 612oz. bar gold.

MANAGERS' REPORTS.

Block 14 Company, for week ended November 1.—Main shaft, No. 2 level: Stopes yielding average grade ore as required for furnaces. South shaft: This shaft has been sunk 6ft. for the week, making total depth from platt 68ft., and from surface 403ft.; ground little better for sinking. No. 3 level south: Advanced 11ft. for the week, making total distance from main crosscut 172ft; still in good sulphide ore. North shaft: Crosscut east from ninth floor over No. 2 level has been extended 14ft. during the week, total distance now in 38ft., and still in ore. Crosscut east, No. 1 level: Advanced 6ft., total 15ft.

The Great Mercury Gold-mining Company, October 21.—During the past week the drive and leading stope on the east branch have been extended a further distance of 8ft., which makes a total of 110ft. from the boundary. The reef stripped last week has been broken down, which is now clear of the blow and well-defined, showing a thickness of 1½ft., giving fair mortar prospects. The low crosscut has been extended 10ft. for the past week, making a total of 523ft. from starting point. There has been 31ft. of stoping done for the week. No. 4 stope is in progress, and is 16ft. along from the end of ground. In the stopes there have been 25ft. of reef stripped.

North Broken Hill Silver-mining Company for week ended October 28.—100ft. level, stopes north of crosscut: There is no change to report in these workings, and ore of general grade is being broken. Stopes south of crosscut: During the past week some very fair carbonate ore has been broken in these stopes. At present am driving on the western or footwall of this ore body. The ore being taken out from these workings contains a good percentage of copper, and malleable copper can be seen in lots of the ore. Ore: During the week 36 tons 1cwt. of loose lead ore were shipped to Dry Creek. Am still carting.

Star of the East, Sebastopol.—No. 1 shaft, 1720ft. level South drive advanced 7ft., now in 644ft., lode 3ft. wide, showing a little gold. No. 5 rise now connected with level above. 1620ft. level: Extended south drive 17ft., full length from crosscut 1133ft., stone small. No. 2 shaft, 1530ft. level: Added 20ft. to western crosscut, total from shaft 326ft., without material change. 1200ft. level: North drive on course of Guiding Star lode, driven 6ft., entire length 824ft.; rise is up 8ft.; quality of stone rising on continues about the same; stopes throughout wearing a fair appearance.

Mount Lyell Mining and Railway Company, November 2.—Engine shaft down 47ft., No. 2 shaft down 8ft.; expect balance machinery delivered Saturday; engineer arrived, pushing ahead with work; sunk into ore over 2ft., still high grade showing all over bottom of shaft; 3 tons on floor; can cope with water.

GLEBE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

A DISORDERLY MEETING.

At the Glebe council meeting, held last evening, a letter was read from Alderman Thomas Law enclosing a newspaper clipping, being the copy of an address of sympathy from the ratepayers of the Outer Ward to that alderman. A resolution was also given notice of by Alderman Abrams to the effect that in consequence of the recent police court proceedings this council is of opinion that Alderman Law should resign his seat as an alderman of the Glebe council. Upon the reading of the letter Alderman Carey rose to a point of order. Alderman Abrams, addressing the Mayor, said Alderman Law had no right to address a letter to the Mayor couched in such terms as to say that the Mayor should not have allowed such a resolution to appear in the agenda paper. Alderman Hutchinson thought the best they could do was to merely receive the letter. He moved that the letter be received, and suggested that its contents should not be discussed. Alderman Conlon said he did not agree with Alderman Law's letter, it would have been better grace to have allowed the aldermen to advocate, and not in any way impeach the honour of the Mayor. Alderman Law said he did not intend to cast reflection upon the Mayor; but when he saw the resolution of so dastardly a character —. Alderman Abrams: Mr. Mayor, I'm not going to sit here and allow such a word to be uttered. The Mayor said he trusted aldermen would not use such strong adjectives. Alderman Seamer: If you allow it, Mr. Mayor, I'll leave the meeting. Thereupon he walked from the chamber. Alderman Law, continuing, said there was no necessity in the face of the address, which was signed by half of the ratepayers of the Outer Ward, to bring the matter before the council. He was sorry if he used words not meeting with approval. Alderman Seamer re-entered the chamber, and styled one alderman as a tom-tit. The Mayor said he had been asked to rule whether the motion was in order, and did not think it was. They had no right to interfere with the private affairs of an alderman. Their duties were municipal, and they were sent to do a duty which could not be legally usurped. He therefore ruled the motion out of order.

The St. Paul's Young Men's Union held its weekly meeting last Friday night in St. Paul's schoolroom, Cleveland-street, Redfern. Mr. E. Wilson was in the chair. The Rev. Philip W. Dowe, B.A., reported the judges' awarding of prizes in prize essay competition on "The federation of the Australian colonies and its probable effects," and the three prizes were awarded as follows:—First to Mr. L. B. Bertram, second to Mr. W. M'Evoy, and third to Mr. J. H. Duree.

THE LABOUR PARTY.

ADDRESS BY MR. JOSEPH COOK, M.L.A.

Last evening Mr. Joseph Cook, M.L.A., leader of the Parliamentary Labour Party, delivered an address in the Glebe Town Hall entitled "The Policy and Aims of the Labour Party." Mr. T. J. Houghton, M.L.A., occupied the chair, and among those on the platform were Messrs. Darnley, Davis, G. D. Clark, J. D. Fitzgerald, Nicholson, and Cann, Ms.L.A. There was a large attendance.

The CHAIRMAN said that the meeting had been called by the local branch of the Labour Electoral League, with the dual object of introducing the new leader of the labour party, and enabling him to expound the policy and aims of the party.

Mr. COOK, who was received with cheers, said that the policy and aims of the party had been greatly misrepresented in all quarters, but if he knew anything, the labour members gave no quarter to persons advocating revolutionary schemes. Its aim was nothing more nor less than a solid, prudent, intelligent attempt to settle some problems that would need a great deal of settling. (Hear, hear.) They were trying to realise the true functions of Government. They believed that every man should have every possible facility in working out an ideal of happiness which he had a right to set up for himself. To his mind the ready-reckoner of the counting-house resembled very closely the political environment of the party. There were, no doubt, some inaccuracies in it, but it was not wise to destroy it until they got one more accurate. As an instance of these inaccuracies he might mention the fact that on the credit side of our ledger we had boundless mineral resources, while on the opposite side there was the entry, "Men starving for want of means to get at the minerals." The labour party believed that in a country like this there ought to be no involuntary poverty, and everybody was interested in this general truth—even the rich and affluent. It was, however, on the question of method in solving the great problem that they naturally drifted into hostile camps. It was pretty generally conceded that one fault of the political life of the present day was the laissez faire principle, and to his mind, another was our rigid system of party Government. What was the result? Thousands of unemployed, trusts and combinations to crush men into servitude, and corrupt Governments all over the world. There was no lack of method for getting over the present difficulties, but our great lack was a want of opportunity to give one of them a trial, and there never would be such an opportunity until we had quite a different system of Parliamentary government. (Cheers.) Some people said that they had gained the principle of one man one vote. Nothing of the sort. They had gained the abolition of plural voting, but the trouble was that every man had not got a vote. There was yet a great deal to be struggled for in the way of electoral reform. But what was the use of democratic legislation in the lower chamber when there was a body of men over them responsible only to themselves? (Cheers.) The one man one vote principle was unworkable with an Upper House as at present constituted—a House existing, according to the Sydney Morning Herald, for the purpose of covering up the cowardice and want of care of the Lower Chamber. It was to clear away some of these obstacles to reform that the labour party had set itself. Their first plank was a land tax, beside which all other kinds of reform were mere patchwork. The other plank was the Mining on Private Property Bill, and they set their faces stedfastly against royalties. It rested with the people to say whether these reforms should be placed on the Statute Book or not. (Loud cheers.)

The other members of Parliament present also spoke briefly.

A vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Cook at the conclusion of the meeting.

UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY.

A meeting of the Senate was held yesterday at the University-chambers, Phillip-street. There were present—The Chancellor (the Hon. Sir William Manning), the Vice-Chancellor (his Honor Judge Backhouse), Professors Scott, Stuart, Cobbett, Liversidge, the Hon. Peter Faucett, Dr. P. Sydney Jones, the Hon. Dr. MacLaurin, the Hon. Mr. Justice Manning, Mr. H. C. Russell, Mr. C. B. Stephen, and the Hon. Sir William Windeyer.

A communication was received from the University solicitor covering a letter from their agents in London, announcing the falling in to the University through the death of Mrs. Dalton, of the bequest of the late Edwin Dalton, of about £8000 for scholarships in memory of the late Rev. Dr. Woolley.

Professor Gurney reported that in consequence of the illness of Mr. Moors, assistant lecturer in mathematics, he had requested Mr. A. Newbury and Mr. Fleuri to undertake the work of lecturing in mathematics temporarily. The action of Professor Gurney was approved.

The Senate proceeded to consider a report from the professorial board in regard to its recommendation for a rearrangement of Michaelmas term. Professor Stuart moved,—"That the whole academic year be arranged so as to begin and end one week earlier than at present." The motion was negatived, as was also a recommendation of the professorial board that Michaelmas term should begin and end one week earlier than at present.

A report was received from the board for conducting the public examinations, bringing under the attention of the Senate certain correspondence from Charters Towers, in North Queensland, from which it appeared that the name of a gentleman in that city had been submitted as secretary of the local committee for the conduct of the public examinations at that centre without his knowledge, and stating that the board had passed a resolution expressing its strong disapproval of the circumstances, which it proposed to transmit to the schoolmaster who appeared to have conducted the correspondence.

The following report was received from the board for conducting the public examinations:—"The board has again considered the question of altering the date of the junior examination to June, against which alteration several protests have recently been received. The main objection is that candidates will probably suffer from cold if the examinations are held in June. In answer to this objection, the board points out that an endeavour will be made to hold the examinations in properly-heated rooms; and that the Junior candidates will in future be under examination for five hours instead of six hours each day, their examinations ending each day at 4 instead of 5 p.m. The board has no strong feeling on the subject of this alteration of date. Its wishes have been to meet the convenience of the majority of the candidates, and it has tried to ascertain the wishes of teachers on the subject. The great majority of those consulted are in favour of the change." The consideration of the proposal was postponed until the next meeting.

The following recommendations, contained in a report from the Faculty of Law, were adopted:—1. That the following examiners be appointed for the conduct of the annual examinations in March: A. For the degree of LL.D.: The Professor of Law, Mr. G. E. Rich, M.A. B. For the degree of LL.B.: (a) For the final examination, the Professor of Law, Dr. R. M. Sly, Mr. G. E. Rich, M.A.; (b) for the intermediate examination, the Professor of Law, Mr. J. J. Mullion, M.A., LL.B. 2. That the following clause be added to section 7, chapter xvi. of the bylaws:—"Students who have not acquitted themselves satisfactorily in such class examinations or exercises (including attendance at court), as may be prescribed by the Faculty of Law, may be refused admission to these examinations."

SANITARY ARRANGEMENTS AT BALMAIN.

MEETING OF RATEPAYERS.

Last night from the balcony of Allen's, London Hotel, Darling-street, Balmain, a public meeting was held in connection with agitation that has lately taken place with reference to the removal of the refuse punt from the foot of Adolphus-street. There were several hundred persons present, and by a vote of the meeting Mr. F. J. Nesbitt, J.P., was voted to the chair.

The CHAIRMAN explained that the gathering had been hurriedly convened in view of certain action that was to be taken in the council on Tuesday night. He then proceeded to read the circular calling the meeting together, which stated that it was "to protest against the punt being brought back to Adolphus-street. Roll up! Refuse to be trampled upon by noisy leaders of other wards, who, whilst preaching legality, vote for stopping the wages of the corporation labourers."

Mr. R. DOYLE said that there was danger in this punt being brought back to its old position, hence the present action. There had been a lot of talk about the legality and illegality of the ex-Mayor's action; but he (the speaker) would support what the Mayor had done. Why had the Government thought fit to institute legal proceedings in this matter? He thought that there was more in this agitation than that which was being contended for. All the noise had been going on at the western end of the borough, and now it was time for the east end to speak out.

Alderman MILNE said he thought that Byrnes-street was the proper place to have this punt located as that was the back entrance to the borough. He had voted against the Mayor's action because he believed it to be unconstitutional.

Mr. J. J. WHEELER (ex-Mayor and alderman of Balmain) said he thought he was quite justified in the action he took. There were petitions in favour of the object of the meeting, and he urged everyone to sign them. He thought it an act of illegality on the part of some of the aldermen in refusing to pay the day labour staff for work performed at the foot of Byrnes-street, and the men had been made to suffer through no fault of their own. A great deal of capital had been made out of the expenditure of £158 7s 6d, but in reply to that he would say that as much as £150 had been used by the Mayor in the purchase of blue metal. He had been informed that technically he did wrong, but morally he was right. The people at the east end had put up with the nuisance for the past five years, and it was time that those at the west end had a turn. In the face of the vote passed upon him he could do nothing else but resign, and then ask the ratepayers of the ward he represented to endorse his action.

The Chairman asked for an expression of opinion upon the object of the meeting, and declared the result to be in favour of it. A vote of renewed confidence in the ex-Mayor's action was also declared by the chairman to be carried.
